Roa Charges U.S. Forces Taking Part

Stevenson Brands Accusations Made In U.N. As False

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Cuba charged Monday night that U.S. military forces from Guantanamo naval base have invaded Cuban territory.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa told the General Assembly's Main Political Committee:

"The news allows us to state in categorically a c c u r a t e fashion that in Oriente Province, there are regular forces of the United States coming from the naval base at Guantanamo that have invaded Cuban national territory."

Roa also charged that two Cutlass jet planes from an American aircraft carrier escorted a rebel B26 bomber to safety when it was being pursued by a jet plane of Fidel Castro's revolutionary air force.

Communicates With Dorticos

He said his information was based on a communication Monday night with. Dr. Osvaldo Dorticos, president of the Castro government.

"This means that the mercenary invasion promoted, organized, armed and financed by the government of the United States is now progressively becoming a direct military invasion," Roa said. "This certainly brings up a fundamental question which is not now just between Cuba and the United States, but is before the world.

"This means the government of the United States has gone beyond indirect action to direct action. We are witnessing a direct invasion."

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson immediately issued a categorical denial of Roa's charge of direct U.S. intervention.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin echoed Roa's charges.

"Why is the representative of the United States not saying anything about the intervention of the U.S. armed forces?" Zorin asked. "If he has not sufficient information, I believe that the committee would be interested not later than tomorrow morning."

Stevenson Denies Charge

"The representative of the United States didn't say anything because the representative of the Soviet Union did not give him time," Stevenson said. "I. . . categorically deny that any U.S. armed forces are in this operation."

Romanian ambassador Silviu Brucan put a resolution before the committee calling for an immediate end to military operations against Cuba and cessation of aid to the rebels from the states from whose territory the invasion was launched.

With most delegations reluctant to speak, the committee adjourned further discussion on Cuba until Tuesday.

Earlier Monday in the political committee, the United States denied that the dawn invasion of Cuba was launched in part from Florida but said it had no obligation to protect Fidel Castro "from the consequences of his treason."

Kennedy Farm Plan Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Monday sent Congress his farm program which would let farmers help write their own price support systems subject to veto by Congress.

The Kennedy bill seeks to correct problems which have developed during 30 years of federal crop supports before they reach "the point of no return."

It would provide new machinery aimed at reducing farm surpluses raising farm income, and eventually eliminating the government's multi-million dollar outlay for buying and storing crops.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman said the bill would be introduced by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, and Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee.

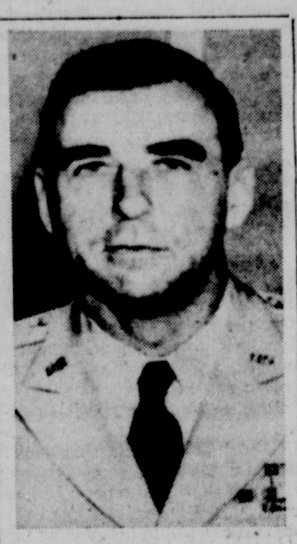
Israel Unfolds Ghastly Record Of Nazi Terror

Eichmann Pleads Not Guilty To 15 Indictment Counts



RELIEVED — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker (above) has been relieved of command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany, the Army announced yesterday. The action is pending an investigation of charges he gave troops material about the controversial John Birch Society. (Story on Page 2.) (AP Photofax)

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner resurrected in terrible detail Monday the ghastly record of Nazi atrocities in a powerful prelude to an expected demand for the death penalty for Adolf Eichmann.

Hausner spoke for nearly six hours after Eichmann, former Gestapo officer, pleaded not guilty 15 times to charges that he slaughtered and tortured Jews by the millions.

Pointing his finger at Eichmann, Hausner in his opening statement called him the "zealous executor" of these horrors, the Nazi "specialist in extermination," a man "absolutely devoted to his mission" of exterminating the Jewish people.

"Only one man in history exists whose hands were exclusively occupied with the extermination of the Jewish people — Adolf Eichmann," Hausner declared.

Eichmann sat without expression in his bullet-proof glass cage as Hausner cited the grim evidence left in the wake of Nazi Germany's "final solution to the Jewish problem" and set out to shatter in advance Eichmann's anticipated defense that he directed it on orders.

Went "Beyond Orders"

"We will prove," Hausner told the three judges, "that the accused went far beyond his orders and carried out functions for which he had been given no orders at all."

He charged Eichmann with personally beating a Jewish child to death for stealing fruit from a peach tree in a garden of a home he once owned in Budapest, Hungary.

The day started with a defeat for Eichmann's defense attorney, Robert Servatius. The three-judge panel overruled challenges to its authority raised by Servatius on grounds the court might be prejudiced and that the law under which Eichmann is being tried was passed after the crimes with which he is charged.

Then Eichmann stood at attention, his hands straight by his sides, to plead. To each of the 15 counts in the indictment he gave the answer: "In the spirit of the indictment, I am not guilty."

It was the same answer given by the top Nazi criminals tried at Nuernberg.

Spectators Shocked

Then, balding, sharp-featured Hausner rose, adjusted his flowing black robes and launched the state's case against the former head of the Gestapo's Department of Jewish Affairs.

He told some of it in his own words. Other passages were laid before the court in the words of eyewitnesses.

"SS men smashed the heads of children just for the pure pleasure of it;

"Wild dogs were set upon the prisoners, and instances when SS men shot people to death simply because they felt like doing so;

"Women were stripped naked and paraded past the SS guards who carried out examinations on their bodies."

Eichmann's face showed nothing. He sat so still, through long passages of the terrible story, that he might have been sound asleep.

Spectators in the courtroom wept, swallowed hard as though physically ill, or looked at each other in shocked disbelief.

Tass Declares Russia Ready To Help Castro

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Tass news agency said Monday night that Russia and the Communist world are "prepared to give the Cuban people their help and support."

The agency, in a commentary by I. Orlov, blamed the attack on Cuba on the United States and demanded a halt to the "aggression." It did not elaborate on the offer of help.

"The gamblers from the imperialist camp should do well to remember that Cuba is not alone," Tass said. "Cuba has many friends, not only in the Western Hemisphere. She has the whole of progressive mankind at her side.

"The Soviet Union and other socialist countries, indeed all the peace-loving nations, are among her most devoted friends, prepared to give the Cuban people their help and support."

Tass said "world public opinion" was incensed by the invasion and also was ready to come to the aid of Cuba.

It charged that the invasion "had been prepared in the open for months on the territory of the United States and in Guatemala, Nicaragua, and Costa Rica, the Central American countries controlled by United States monopolies."

Tass said a man named Col. Lopez, whom it identified as a former associate of ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista, "was reported to have met high-ranking Pentagon officials" as a prelude to the invasion.

The government newspaper Izvestia earlier charged that "American hirelings" staged the invasion.

Ribicoff Suggests Date Boycott Of Hot-Rodders

WASHINGTON (AP) — A seasoned nemesis of reckless drivers, Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff, threatened teen-age hot-rodders Monday with a fearsome new weapon—a date boycott.

Ribicoff sprang his idea without warning on Congress and a segment of the young driving crowd. It all happened when some 30 high school tourists from Vero Beach, Fla., dropped in on the House commerce subcommittee hearing where Ribicoff was testifying in behalf of a bill to require safety devices on government-owned automobiles.

Ribicoff as governor of Connecticut brought many speeders to heel by license revocation. He asked permission to say a few words to he visitors, members of the Mu Alpha Theta mathematics honor society.

He asked how many were drivers, and practically all hoisted their hands.

"Older people get into bad driving habits, that's for sure," Ribicoff told the youngsters lining the walls of the committee room. "But if people of your age develop good ones, they last a lifetime.

"Now, you young girls have a big role to play.

"If you just stop dating the wise guys, it will help a lot. It will mean the careful drivers instead of the wise guys will be the popular fellows in the school.

"You know the kind I mean—the kind that likes to get into an automobile and show off, drag race other cars, run red lights."

As his audience snickered, Ribicoff added an afterthought: "This one-arm driving doesn't do any good either."

Intervention By U.S. Ruled Out By Rusk

Secretary Gives American Moral Backing To Rebels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Monday proclaimed its sympathy for anti-Castro rebels but denied the Cuban invasion was launched from American soil.

"There is no secret about the sympathy of the American people for those who wish to be free, whether in distant parts of the world or in our own neighborhood," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"He added: "The present struggle in Cuba, however, . . . is not between Cuba and the United States but between the Castro dictatorship and the Cuban people. There is not and will not be any intervention there by U. S. forces."

Rusk set forth the U. S. position at a previously scheduled news conference held a few hours after word had reached Washington of landings in Cuba by Cuban exiles seeking to overthrow Communist-leaning Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Rusk restated the U. S. policy of nonintervention, but he avoided any flat commitment that the United States is not giving backdoor aid to the rebels.

Asked whether there is a U. S. policy against use of American soil to help anti-Castro forces, Rusk replied: "What is going on in Cuba is not taking place from American soil."

The U. S. foreign policy chief accused Castro of being under the thumb of the world "Communist conspiracy" and, like past dictators, of trying to blame foreigners for his troubles at home.

Laos Pro-Red Forces Score New Victory

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Another successful attack by pro-Communist rebels was reported Monday in southern Laos, boosting their bargaining power in any negotiations on a cease-fire line.

Informed sources said a Pathet Lao battalion backed by artillery swept soldiers of the pro-Western government from positions dug in near the town of Nhommalath.

The attack occurred Sunday as diplomatic maneuvering resumed in world capitals and the Soviet Union presented the West with new suggestions for arranging a cease-fire to halt the civil war here. Fighting in Laos also had been in a week-long lull for Laotian New Year celebrations.

Nhommalath is only 25 air miles northeast of Thakhek, a Mekong River town on the border with Thailand. Because of a winding mountainous road, the Pathet Lao would have difficulty launching a sustained drive to the border and cutting Laos in half.

Some Westerners here feel the Pathet Lao will hold back from approaching the Mekong River border to avoid provoking intervention by Thailand, whose tough anti-Communist generals have been spoiling for a fight. Pressure from Thailand's Western allies has held them in check.

Nevertheless the rebels have gained a military foothold that might have to be recognized by any group drawing a cease-fire line, which in turn could become the boundary for a divided Laos. Splitting the country, Korea-style, is firmly opposed by the West.

Dr. Finch And Carole Sentenced To Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge sentenced Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, Monday to life imprisonment for murdering Finch's beautiful wife.

"The proof against the defendants seems to me overwhelming," Superior Judge David Coleman said.

Their defense he called "a shoddy and crudely woven fabric of deceit."

The once-rich West Covina surgeon, 43, and Miss Tregoff, 24, a divorcee who was his employe, then his lover, were convicted in their third trial of conspiracy and murder in the July 18, 1959, shooting of Barbara Jean Finch, 36.

The alleged motive: To avoid a costly divorce settlement. The defendants called the shooting accidental during a fight for a pistol. Juries in two earlier trials deadlocked.

The judge denied motions for a new trial. Both will appeal.

Cuban Recruits Get Physicals

Clarification Of Soviet Note On Laos Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Monday sought quick clarification of the latest Soviet note on Laos amid growing conviction that the Soviet Union is stalling on a cease-fire.

The Soviet tactics brought a blunt statement from Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the situation in Laos is "very critical."

"We feel that the situation is dangerous and that the diplomatic discussion ought to move promptly in order to bring that dangerous situation under control," Rusk told his news conference.

Rusk said there is a "close connection between the pace of diplomatic discussion and what happens on the ground in Laos." And he added, "we are . . . watching that very closely."

U.S. officials stressed that the United States will not let Laos be nibbled away by the Communist-directed rebels. These informants stressed that if action becomes necessary, it will be taken without advance notice.

Moscow's latest move was a note directed to Britain which last month proposed an immediate cease-fire to be followed by an international conference to establish the little Southeast Asian kingdom as an independent, neutral nation.

The London view was that while Moscow rejected some details, the door remained open for further discussions. A Foreign Office spokesman said: "Until we have completed discussions with our allies and come to some conclusions, we can give no indication as to our views on how the note is to be regarded."

U.S. officials, while disappointed and dissatisfied with the Soviet reply, were even more concerned by the advance of Communist-led Pathet Lao rebels toward Thakhet, 25 miles from the Thai border in south-central Laos.

It is the view of high officials that the Soviet delayed on the cease-fire ties in with the drive by the Pathet Lao to expand their territory and perhaps to take over the entire country.

Gizenga's Officers Recognize Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Army officers of the rival Congolese government of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville, have recognized the authority of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, strongman of the central Congolese government, as commander-in-chief, Congolese military headquarters announced Monday.

A Congolese general staff officer said that a cease-fire has been ordered along the border between Oriental and Equator provinces, but gave no further details.

Informed sources said the announcement was based on a message received from the border region. Mobutu has been there for the past week and was reported to have conferred with the Stanleyville battalion commander at Bundoki.

Elizabeth Taylor, Burt Lancaster Win Hollywood Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Burt Lancaster Monday night was named best actor of 1960 at the 33rd annual Academy Awards ceremony. He was chosen for his performance in "Elmer Gantry."

Elizabeth Taylor was named best actress, for her work in "Butterfield 8."

The best picture award went to "The Apartment."

Peter Ustinov, wily operator of a gladiators school in "Spartacus," was named best supporting actor.

Coming on stage to tumultuous ovation, the bearded multitalented actor cited his British education and said: "Since I was taught to lose gracefully, I have been preparing myself to lose all afternoon."

He added: "You can't act by yourself." Then he thanked his fellow craftsmen.

Shirley Jones, the blonde harlot in "Elmer Gantry," was chosen best supporting actress. She gathered up the voluminous folds of her white and gold gown and went to the podium to accept her Oscar from British actor Hugh Griffith.

"I wouldn't be standing here tonight accepting this Oscar if it weren't for another Oscar—Hammerstein and Richard Rodgers," she said emotionally, citing her discoverers.

She also thanked Burt Lancaster, director Richard Brooks and producer Bernie Smith of "Elmer Gantry," for helping to "make this the proudest moment of my life."

Other awards included:

Best Documentary: Features, "The Horse with the Flying Tail," Walt Disney. Short Subjects, "Giuseppina," Lester A. Schoenfelt Films (British).

Best Special Effects: "The Time Machine," MGM, Gene Warren and Tim Baer.

Best Sound Achievement: "The Alamo," Samuel Goldwyn sound department, Gordon E. Sawyer.

Best Foreign Language Film: "The Virgin Spring," A. B. Svensk Filmindustri (Sweden).

Best film editing: "The Apartment," Mirisch Co., Daniel Mandell.

Special honorary juvenile award: Hayley Mills.

Trains, 'Copters Join In Midwest 'Battle Of Snow'

By United Press International

Snow plows, railroads and even helicopters labored Monday to free thousands of travellers trapped by a freak mid-April snow storm in the Middle West.

Many of the snow plows had to be taken out of storage for their toughest task of the year. Municipal officials had tucked them away in the false belief that spring was here.

High speed passenger trains turned into "milk runs" as engineers stopped at little towns to take on stranded motorists. A train picked up so many travellers between Kankakee and Richton, Ill., that the conductor couldn't collect all their fares.

Police, civil defense workers and National Guardsmen fought the storm for 24 hours. The little town of Hebron, Ind., appealed for emergency helicopter flights to take out m a r o o n e d travelers. Farmers found their homes jammed with up to 70 overnight guests. More strangers f i l l e d every nook and cranny—including the jail cells—of snowbound towns.

Illinois state police sent up a helicopter to make food drops to occupants of 400 cars who had taken refuge in farm houses in the Monee-Beecher area.

The storm which twisted back upon the middle west over t h e weekend was blamed for at least 26 deaths—7 in Illinois, 5 in both Indiana and Minnesota, 4 in both Michigan and Wisconsin, and 1 in Ohio.

Westinghouse Official 'In Dark' On Price-Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of Westinghouse Electric Corp. testified Monday he had known nothing about illegal price-fixing that led to the conviction of his company and the jailing of his colleagues.

"Rather incredible," said Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of this testimony by John C. Fink.

Another official, Alva A. Johnson, testified he had surmised something illegal was going on but had done nothing about it.

"I felt like I was in the middle," said Johnson, "but I remained in that position."

The testimony of Fink and Johnson launched the price-fixing hearings of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee headed by Kefauver.

Through the hearings, the subcommittee hopes to find out whether the price-fixing conspiracy in the electrical equipment manufacturing industry was even larger than disclosed in federal court.

Last February, U. S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Ganey in Philadelphia fined 29 companies and 44 of their executives almost $2 million and sentenced seven officials to jail terms. Those jailed included two executives from Westinghouse.

The subcommittee hopes also to discover whether more executives were involved than those cited in the antitrust case.

Neither Fink nor Johnson was a defendant in the federal case.

Crucial Battle Approaching, Rebels Report

Revolution Council Says Castro Troops Joining Partisans

By The Associated Press

Anti-Castro forces struck their long-awaited invasion blow for liberation of Cuba Monday and claimed immediate successes.

The counterrevolutionary blows went in by air and sea with help from uncounted Castro foes rising inside Cuba.

Bearded Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his red-tinged government at stake, kept silent on how the battle was going after announcing the initial landings.

Castro's Havana Radio Monday night called for students, workers and peasants to go about their business and work as usual, however. The broadcast may have been aimed at preventing a general strike. It urged vigilence against the "counterrevolutionary worms."

Direct communications with Cuba were cut off, and few of the rebel claims and reports could be confirmed. Among the reports were these: The Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York said in midevening that much of the 400,000-man militia Castro recruited "has already defected from Castro" and that the principal battle would be fought in a few hours.

"The tremendous army of invisible soldier-patriots has now received its instructions to strike the vital blow for the liberation of our country," said the communique.

"Our partisans in every town and village," it added, would receive the coded message "the fish will soon stand," to rise up against Castro and his remaining militiamen The fish, it was pointed out, was a symbol of Christian resistance.

"Coordinated" Revolt Near

The anti-Castro rebels predicted that before dawn Tuesday "Cuba will rise up en masse in a coordinated wave of sabotage and rebellion which will sweep communism from our country."

Anti-Castro sources in Mexico City were quoted as saying the Isle of Pines, the big prison island off the south coast of Cuba, previously reported under attack from ships offshore, had been seized by invaders. The report said 10,000 political prisoners had been freed to join in the rebellion.

A Hollywood, Fla., owner of property on the Isle of Pines said he had reports also of the capture of the island.

Other rebel reports from Mexico City said invaders also had taken possession of Cuba's westernmost province, Pinar del Rio.

Another unconfirmed report from Mexico claimed that Castro's "entire military guard" had been killed by insurrectionists working with the invaders.

Radio messages exchanged between Havana and the central province of Las Villas and overheard in Miami indicated that rebel airmen may have narrowly missed Castro himself in a bombing attack at Playa Larga on Cochinos Bay on the south coast.

The Las Villas radio said four planes had dropped parachutes, and one bomb fell "where Fidel was."

The Revolutionary Council said substantial supplies for local anti-Castro forces in the swampy area had been landed in the Cochinos section but did not mention a landing force.

Few Clues To Size Of Force

There were only fragmentary clues to the size of the invading forces or where they had come from.

Dr. Carlos Prio Socarras, an ex-president of Cuba who helped finance the Castro revolution and then turned against it, said 1,000 of his men had landed in the easternmost Oriente Province, scene of Castro's long guerrilla fight in the Sierra Maestra mountains.

Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, where thousands of Cubans have taken refuge, said he believed those fighting Castro "at the moment" numbered not more than 4,000 to 5,000.

Castro, in announcing fighting on southern beaches about 100 miles from Havana, charged that the invasion had been mounted from the United States and Guatemala. The United States and Guatemala denied his charge.

Castro declared his forces had engaged the invaders at all points. In a broadcast he said the invaders were supported by warships and warplanes.

Castro called on sister Latin-American nations to aid Cuba. The Soviet Union told the United Nations it is the U. N. duty to

"Now, you young girls have a big role to play.

"If you just stop dating the wise guys, it will help a lot. It will mean the careful drivers instead of the wise guys will be the popular fellows in the school.

"You know the kind I mean—the kind that likes to get into an automobile and show off, drag race other cars, run red lights."

As his audience snickered, Ribicoff added an afterthought: "This one-arm driving doesn't do any good either."

Intervention By U.S. Ruled Out By Rusk

Secretary Gives American Moral Backing To Rebels

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Monday proclaimed its sympathy for anti-Castro rebels but denied the Cuban invasion was launched from American soil.

"There is no secret about the sympathy of the American people for those who wish to be free, whether in distant parts of the world or in our own neighborhood," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"He added: "The present struggle in Cuba, however, . . . is not between Cuba and the United States but between the Castro dictatorship and the Cuban people. There is not and will not be any intervention there by U. S. forces."

Rusk set forth the U. S. position at a previously scheduled news conference held a few hours after word had reached Washington of landings in Cuba by Cuban exiles seeking to overthrow Communist-leaning Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Rusk restated the U. S. policy of nonintervention, but he avoided any flat commitment that the United States is not giving backdoor aid to the rebels.

Asked whether there is a U. S. policy against use of American soil to help anti-Castro forces, Rusk replied: "What is going on in Cuba is not taking place from American soil."

The U. S. foreign policy chief accused Castro of being under the thumb of the world "Communist conspiracy" and, like past dictators, of trying to blame foreigners for his troubles at home.

Laos Pro-Red Forces Score New Victory

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Another successful attack by pro-Communist rebels was reported Monday in southern Laos, boosting their bargaining power in any negotiations on a cease-fire line.

Informed sources said a Pathet Lao battalion backed by artillery swept soldiers of the pro-Western government from positions dug in near the town of Nhommalath.

The attack occurred Sunday as diplomatic maneuvering resumed in world capitals and the Soviet Union presented the West with new suggestions for arranging a cease-fire to halt the civil war here. Fighting in Laos also had been in a week-long lull for Laotian New Year celebrations.

Nhommalath is only 25 air miles northeast of Thakhek, a Mekong River town on the border with Thailand. Because of a winding mountainous road, the Pathet Lao would have difficulty launching a sustained drive to the border and cutting Laos in half.

Some Westerners here feel the Pathet Lao will hold back from approaching the Mekong River border to avoid provoking intervention by Thailand, whose tough anti-Communist generals have been spoiling for a fight. Pressure from Thailand's Western allies has held them in check.

Nevertheless the rebels have gained a military foothold that might have to be recognized by any group drawing a cease-fire line, which in turn could become the boundary for a divided Laos. Splitting the country, Korea-style, is firmly opposed by the West.

Dr. Finch And Carole Sentenced To Life

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge sentenced Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, Monday to life imprisonment for murdering Finch's beautiful wife.

"The proof against the defendants seems to me overwhelming," Superior Judge David Coleman said.

Their defense he called "a shoddy and crudely woven fabric of deceit."

The once-rich West Covina surgeon, 43, and Miss Tregoff, 24, a divorcee who was his employe, then his lover, were convicted in their third trial of conspiracy and murder in the July 18, 1959, shooting of Barbara Jean Finch, 36.

The alleged motive: To avoid a costly divorce settlement. The defendants called the shooting accidental during a fight for a pistol. Juries in two earlier trials deadlocked.

The judge denied motions for a new trial. Both will appeal.

Cuban Recruits Get Physicals

Clarification Of Soviet Note On Laos Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Monday sought quick clarification of the latest Soviet note on Laos amid growing conviction that the Soviet Union is stalling on a cease-fire.

The Soviet tactics brought a blunt statement from Secretary of State Dean Rusk that the situation in Laos is "very critical."

"We feel that the situation is dangerous and that the diplomatic discussion ought to move promptly in order to bring that dangerous situation under control," Rusk told his news conference.

Rusk said there is a "close connection between the pace of diplomatic discussion and what happens on the ground in Laos." And he added, "we are . . . watching that very closely."

U.S. officials stressed that the United States will not let Laos be nibbled away by the Communist-directed rebels. These informants stressed that if action becomes necessary, it will be taken without advance notice.

Moscow's latest move was a note directed to Britain which last month proposed an immediate cease-fire to be followed by an international conference to establish the little Southeast Asian kingdom as an independent, neutral nation.

The London view was that while Moscow rejected some details, the door remained open for further discussions. A Foreign Office spokesman said: "Until we have completed discussions with our allies and come to some conclusions, we can give no indication as to our views on how the note is to be regarded."

U.S. officials, while disappointed and dissatisfied with the Soviet reply, were even more concerned by the advance of Communist-led Pathet Lao rebels toward Thakhet, 25 miles from the Thai border in south-central Laos.

It is the view of high officials that the Soviet delayed on the cease-fire ties in with the drive by the Pathet Lao to expand their territory and perhaps to take over the entire country.

Gizenga's Officers Recognize Mobutu

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Army officers of the rival Congolese government of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville, have recognized the authority of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, strongman of the central Congolese government, as commander-in-chief, Congolese military headquarters announced Monday.

A Congolese general staff officer said that a cease-fire has been ordered along the border between Oriental and Equator provinces, but gave no further details.

Informed sources said the announcement was based on a message received from the border region. Mobutu has been there for the past week and was reported to have conferred with the Stanleyville battalion commander at Bundoki.

Elizabeth Taylor, Burt Lancaster Win Hollywood Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Burt Lancaster Monday night was named best actor of 1960 at the 33rd annual Academy Awards ceremony. He was chosen for his performance in "Elmer Gantry."

Elizabeth Taylor was named best actress, for her work in "Butterfield 8."

The best picture award went to "The Apartment."

Peter Ustinov, wily operator of a gladiators school in "Spartacus," was named best supporting actor.

Coming on stage to tumultuous ovation, the bearded multitalented actor cited his British education and said: "Since I was taught to lose gracefully, I have been preparing myself to lose all afternoon."

He added: "You can't act by yourself." Then he thanked his fellow craftsmen.

Shirley Jones, the blonde harlot in "Elmer Gantry," was chosen best supporting actress. She gathered up the voluminous folds of her white and gold gown and went to the podium to accept her Oscar from British actor Hugh Griffith.

"I wouldn't be standing here tonight accepting this Oscar if it weren't for another Oscar—Hammerstein and Richard Rodgers," she said emotionally, citing her discoverers.

She also thanked Burt Lancaster, director Richard Brooks and producer Bernie Smith of "Elmer Gantry," for helping to "make this the proudest moment of my life."

Other awards included:

Best Documentary: Features, "The Horse with the Flying Tail," Walt Disney. Short Subjects, "Giuseppina," Lester A. Schoenfelt Films (British).

Best Special Effects: "The Time Machine," MGM, Gene Warren and Tim Baer.

Best Sound Achievement: "The Alamo," Samuel Goldwyn sound department, Gordon E. Sawyer.

Special honorary award: comedian Stan Laurel.

Best film editing: "The Apartment," Mirisch Co., Daniel Mandell.

Special honorary juvenile award: Hayley Mills.

Trains, 'Copters Join In Midwest 'Battle Of Snow'

By United Press International

Snow plows, railroads and even helicopters labored Monday to free thousands of travellers trapped by a freak mid-April snow storm in the Middle West.

Many of the snow plows had to be taken out of storage for their toughest task of the year. Municipal officials had tucked them away in the false belief that spring was here.

High speed passenger trains turned into "milk runs" as engineers stopped at little towns to take on 'randed motorists. A train picked up so many travellers between Kankakee and Richton, Ill., that the conductor couldn't collect all their fares.

Police, civil defense workers and National Guardsmen fought the storm for 24 hours. The little town of Hebron, Ind., appealed for emergency helicopter flights to take out m a r o o n e d travelers. Farmers found their homes jammed with up to 70 overnight guests. More strangers f i l l e d every nook and cranny—including the jail cells—of snowbound towns.

Illinois state police sent up a helicopter to make food drops to occupants of 400 cars who had taken refuge in farm houses in the Monee-Beecher area.

The storm which twisted back upon the middle west over t h e weekend was blamed for at least 26 deaths—7 in Illinois, 5 in both Indiana and Minnesota, 4 in both Michigan and Wisconsin, and 1 in Ohio.

Westinghouse Official 'In Dark' On Price-Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An official of Westinghouse Electric Corp. testified Monday he had known nothing about illegal price-fixing that led to the conviction of his company and the jailing of his colleagues.

"Rather incredible," said Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of this testimony by John C. Fink.

Another official, Alva A. Johnson, testified he had surmised something illegal was going on but had done nothing about it.

"I felt like I was in the middle," said Johnson, "but I remained in that position."

The testimony of Fink and Johnson launched the price-fixing hearings of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee headed by Kefauver.

Through the hearings, the subcommittee hopes to find out whether the price-fixing conspiracy in the electrical equipment manufacturing industry was even larger than disclosed in federal court.

Last February, U. S. Dist. Judge J. Cullen Ganey in Philadelphia fined 29 companies and 44 of their executives almost $2 million and sentenced seven officials to jail terms. Those jailed included two executives from Westinghouse.

The subcommittee hopes also to discover whether more executives were involved than those cited in the antitrust case.

Neither Fink nor Johnson was a defendant in the federal case.

Crucial Battle Approaching, Rebels Report

Revolution Council Says Castro Troops Joining Partisans

By The Associated Press

Anti-Castro forces struck their long-awaited invasion blow for liberation of Cuba Monday and claimed immediate successes.

The counterrevolutionary blows went in by air and sea with help from uncounted Castro foes rising inside Cuba.

Bearded Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his red-tinged government at stake, kept silent on how the battle was going after announcing the initial landings.

Castro's Havana Radio Monday night called for students, workers and peasants to go about their business and work as usual, however. The broadcast may have been aimed at preventing a general strike. It urged vigilence against the "counterrevolutionary worms."

Direct communications with Cuba were cut off, and few of the rebel claims and reports could be confirmed. Among the reports were these: The Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York said in midevening that much of the 400,000-man militia Castro recruited "has already defected from Castro" and that the principal battle would be fought in a few hours.

"The tremendous army of invisible soldier-patriots has now received its instructions to strike the vital blow for the liberation of our country," said the communique.

"Our partisans in every town and village," it added, would receive the coded message "the fish will soon stand," to rise up against Castro and his remaining militiamen The fish, it was pointed out, was a symbol of Christian resistance.

"Coordinated" Revolt Near

The anti-Castro rebels predicted that before dawn Tuesday "Cuba will rise up en masse in a coordinated wave of sabotage and rebellion which will sweep communism from our country."

Anti-Castro sources in Mexico City were quoted as saying the Isle of Pines, the big prison island off the south coast of Cuba, previously reported under attack from ships offshore, had been seized by invaders. The report said 10,000 political prisoners had been freed to join in the rebellion.

A Hollywood, Fla., owner of property on the Isle of Pines said he had reports also of the capture of the island.

Other rebel reports from Mexico City said invaders also had taken possession of Cuba's westernmost province, Pinar del Rio.

Another unconfirmed report from Mexico claimed that Castro's "entire military guard" had been killed by insurrectionists working with the invaders.

Radio messages exchanged between Havana and the central province of Las Villas and overheard in Miami indicated that rebel airmen may have narrowly missed Castro himself in a bombing attack at Playa Larga on Cochinos Bay on the south coast.

The Las Villas radio said four planes had dropped parachutes, and one bomb fell "where Fidel was."

The Revolutionary Council said substantial supplies for local anti-Castro forces in the swampy area had been landed in the Cochinos section but did not mention a landing force.

Few Clues To Size Of Force

There were only fragmentary clues to the size of the invading forces or where they had come from.

Dr. Carlos Prio Socarras, an ex-president of Cuba who helped finance the Castro revolution and then turned against it, said 1,000 of his men had landed in the easternmost Oriente Province, scene of Castro's long guerrilla fight in the Sierra Maestra mountains.

Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, where thousands of Cubans have taken refuge, said he believed those fighting Castro "at the moment" numbered not more than 4,000 to 5,000.

Castro, in announcing fighting on southern beaches about 100 miles from Havana, charged that the invasion had been mounted from the United States and Guatemala. The United States and Guatemala denied his charge.

Castro declared his forces had engaged the invaders at all points. In a broadcast he said the invaders were supported by warships and warplanes.

Castro called on sister Latin-American nations to aid Cuba. The Soviet Union told the United Nations it is the U. N. duty to

General Named In Birch Row Ordered Relieved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, accused by an overseas newspaper of indoctrinating his troops with the views of the controversial John Birch Society, was relieved of his command Monday pending an investigation.

Walker, who directed the Army troops that enforced integration at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., was ordered to lay down his command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany and proceed to the Army's European headquarters in Heidelberg.

Army Secretary Elvis Stahr said he relieved the two-star general of his command "pending the outcome of an official investigation of certain public statements and actions of Gen. Walker." Gen. Bruce Clarke, U.S. Army commander in Europe, will head the inquiry.

Rep. Frank Kowalski, D-Conn., a retired Army colonel and West Point graduate, demanded that Walker be court-martialed if the investigation showed he had conducted a smear campaign against the publication which made the charges, the Overseas Weekly.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., who had asked Stahr several days ago to investigate, praised the secretary's action.

"I think the Army is proceeding in the proper manner," Reuss said. "If Gen. Walker has done what the newspaper says he has done he ought to be removed. If not, he should sue."

The newspaper is a private publication owned by Americans and distributed among U.S. troops in Europe. It said Walker had labeled as "definitely pink" former President Harry S. Truman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The 50-year-old Walker said the charges were not true. He later branded Overseas Weekly as "immoral, unscrupulous, incompetent and destructive."

Guantanamo Boss Denies Cuba Charge

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (UPI) — The United States sharpened its defenses at the big U.S. Navy base here Monday, but rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell said his 3,250 sailors and Marines are taking no part in the Cuban revolt against Premier Fidel Castro.

Discrimination Dealt New Blow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court laid down Monday another ban on racial discrimination in publicly owned facilities. It applied to a restaurant in Wilmington, Del.

The restaurant, operated by Eagle Coffee Shoppe Inc., is in an off-street parking building. The building is owned and operated by the Wilmington Parking Authority, a state agent, and the restaurant i leased from the authority.

In August, 1958, William H. Burton, a Negro member of the Wilmington City Council parked his car in the garage and sought service in the restaurant. He was refused.

The Delaware Supreme Court ruled the restaurant acted in a purely private capacity and for that reason was beyond the scope of the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment.

The U.S. Supreme Court voted 6-3 to reverse the Delaware Supreme Court. Justice Tom C. Clark, who spoke for the court, said the restaurant is operated as a part of a public building, indicating state participation and involvement in discriminatory action.

Justices Felix Frankfurter, John M. Harlan and Charles E. Whittaker dissented. They would have returned the case to the Delaware Supreme Court for clarification as to the precise basis of its decision.

take collective action to suppress the attacks on Cuba.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, vanished from his New York headquarters Sunday and was reported ready to enter Cuba once a beachhead was secure.

Miro Cardona, a former prime minister under Castro, broke with him over Communist influence in Cuba.

"Before dawn, Cuban patriots in the cities and in the hills began the battle to liberate our homeland from the despotic rule of Fidel Castro and rid Cuba of international communism's cruel oppression," Miro Cardona said in a proclamation.

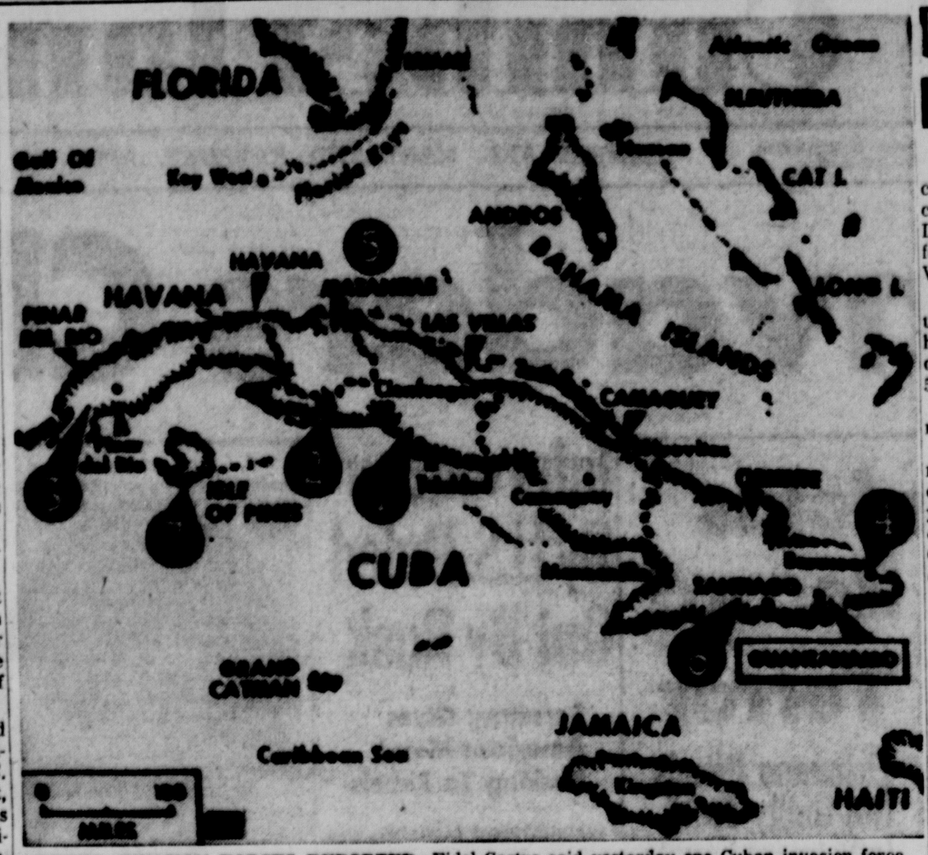
"The Cuban people, rising against their tyrannical oppressors, have one supreme goal: The final restoration of Cuban liberty."

Early Monday, the Havana bureau of The Associated Press reported, a Cuban military officer confirmed one force had landed about 100 miles southeast of Havana. Soon after that the Castro regime cut telegraphic communication with the United States.

All commercial flights to Cuba were canceled.

According to various accounts, the invaders hit the beaches in four of Cuba's six provinces, sparing only Havana Province and Camaguey in eastern Cuba.

Castro said one force, apparently the main one, struck by sea and parachute in the southern part of Las Villas Province, central Cuba.



WHERE INVASION FORCES REPORTED—Fidel Castro said yesterday one Cuban invasion force, apparently the main one, struck in southern part of Las Villas province (1). Another force was reported ashore at edge of southern Matanzas province in Cochinas Bay area (2). Western Pinar Del Rio province (3) was scene of another reported force. Washington exile forces said another group had landed at Baracoa (4), northeast of Santiago. NBC quoted a Cuban exile spokesman as saying invasion operations were moving ahead favorably in Matanzas province (5), the Santiago area (6), with parachutists dropped on the Isle of Pines (7). Deadline Goes By For Rees

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal court closed Monday without receiving an appeal from Melvin Davis Rees Jr. of his conviction for the kidnaping and killing of a Virginia mother and daughter.

Rees had until Monday to make up his mind whether to appeal his life sentence for the slaying of Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and 5-year-old Susan.

Where Rees will go next remained undecided.

He is in custody of the U. S. marshal who has received detainers from Virginia against the 32-year-old Rees. Virginia has charged him with the murders of Carroll Jackson, 29, and another daughter, 18-month-old Janet.

The marshal is awaiting an authorization from the U. S. attorney general to either designate a federal prison at which Rees will serve his life sentence or to release him to Virginia.

Mrs. Jackson and one daughter were found dead in Maryland's Anne Arundel County after the family of four had disappeared in Virginia. The father and other daughter were found dead near Fredericksburg, Va.

Tawes Praises Women's Clubs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes Monday night commended the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs for the programs it has sponsored to stimulate interest in politics, care for the aged and traffic safety.

"The State of Maryland is richer as a result of your many activities," he told the clubwomen at their 62nd annual convention.

Tawes said from reports he had received the federation "has been most successful in heightening the interest of women in politics by emphasizing the importance of understanding the issues and knowing the candidates in our general elections."

The governor said he was particularly pleased with the federation's interest in problems of the aging since that has been one of the major goals of his administration. He cited formation of the State's Coordinating Commission on Problems of the Aging and appropriations for increased medical care and nursing home construction.

Maryland News In Brief

FREDERICK (AP) — Aerojet-General Corp. of Frederick Monday announced it had been awarded a $2 million contract to install an automatic mail sack sorting system at the St. Louis railway terminal, where 36 million sacks of mail were handled last year. The job is expected to take 16 to 18 months.

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP) — A scheduled hearing for four Annapolis men accused of assaulting a 13-year-old Anne Arundel County girl was postponed Monday until April 25.

The four, arrested Sunday, were accused by Prince Georges County police of sexually assaulting the girl at a gravel pit near Gambrills, after driving her there from Annapolis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., said Monday initial response to a scheduled conference on Western Maryland economic problems indicates "a capacity crowd will attend."

The conference is scheduled April 24 at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club at Hancock, Washington County. Mathias called the meeting under sponsorship of the Western Maryland Economic Development Committee.

Its purpose is to review economic conditions with the aim of reducing unemployment in the area. Speakers at the conference will come from the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Maryland Department of Economic Development.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) —A municipal primary election is scheduled here Tuesday to select Republican and Democratic nominees for mayor and alderman in the city's May 16th general election.

Three Democrats and two Republicans are on the ballot for the mayoralty nominations, and the candidates for six of eight aldermen positions also will be decided. Two other aldermen races are not being contested in the primary.

Democratic Mayor Arthur G. Ellington, who is completing 10 years in office, is not seeking re-election.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Henry Coudon of Havre de Grace, a mother of four, has been chosen Mrs. Maryland at the 1961 Baltimore Home Show.

She was chosen from an initial field of 20 entrants from throughout the state and won the title in final judging last Saturday over two other women. The other finalists were Mrs. Richard Szymanski of Baltimore and Mrs. Leo Simms of Towson.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Joseph Seitchik, clinical professor at Hahnemann Medical College at Philadelphia, has been appointed chief of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Sinai Hospital here.

Dr. Seitchik, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1942, will assume his new duties Sept. 1. He has been affiliated with Hahnemann College since 1947.

Medical Engineering Course Set At Hopkins

BALTIMORE (AP)—A new program of study combining engineering and medicine was announced Monday by Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president, said the course in biomedical engineering will be offered starting in September in cooperation with the universities of Pennsylvania and Rochester.

The courses will be offered to college graduates with bachelor's degrees, particularly in engineering or physical science. At least four years of study will be required for a doctor's degree with a fifth year devoted to biomedical research recommended.

As an example of the type of research envisioned in the new program, Johns Hopkins cited the effect of electrical current as a means of overcoming heart spasms.

"Project Mercury" Plans Revised

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States will try to put an unmanned "Project Mercury" capsule into orbit around earth next week, then fire a human astronaut on a brief 16-minute ride into space aboard a similar craft a week later, it was learned on Monday.

The orbital flight was decided upon in a late-day switch of plans for a Mercury capsule already mounted on an Atlas missile and standing on a launching pad at this missile test center.

Simultaneously, the federal space agency is shooting for a May 2 date to send one of three specially-trained astronauts about 115 miles into space and 250 miles or more over the Atlantic Ocean atop a Redstone rocket.

Maryland News In Brief

FREDERICK (AP) — Aerojet-General Corp. of Frederick Monday announced it had been awarded a $2 million contract to install an automatic mail sack sorting system at the St. Louis railway terminal, where 36 million sacks of mail were handled last year. The job is expected to take 16 to 18 months.

HYATTSVILLE, Md. (AP) — A scheduled hearing for four Annapolis men accused of assaulting a 13-year-old Anne Arundel County girl was postponed Monday until April 25.

The four, arrested Sunday, were accused by Prince Georges County police of sexually assaulting the girl at a gravel pit near Gambrills, after driving her there from Annapolis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., R-Md., said Monday initial response to a scheduled conference on Western Maryland economic problems indicates "a capacity crowd will attend."

The conference is scheduled April 24 at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club at Hancock, Washington County. Mathias called the meeting under sponsorship of the Western Maryland Economic Development Committee.

Its purpose is to review economic conditions with the aim of reducing unemployment in the area. Speakers at the conference will come from the U.S. Department of Commerce and the Maryland Department of Economic Development.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) —A municipal primary election is scheduled here Tuesday to select Republican and Democratic nominees for mayor and alderman in the city's May 16th general election.

Three Democrats and two Republicans are on the ballot for the mayoralty nominations, and the candidates for six of eight aldermen positions also will be decided. Two other aldermen races are not being contested in the primary.

Democratic Mayor Arthur G. Ellington, who is completing 10 years in office, is not seeking re-election.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mrs. Henry Coudon of Havre de Grace, a mother of four, has been chosen Mrs. Maryland at the 1961 Baltimore Home Show.

She was chosen from an initial field of 20 entrants from throughout the state and won the title in final judging last Saturday over two other women. The other finalists were Mrs. Richard Szymanski of Baltimore and Mrs. Leo Simms of Towson.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Joseph Seitchik, clinical professor at Hahnemann Medical College at Philadelphia, has been appointed chief of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at Sinai Hospital here.

Dr. Seitchik, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania Medical School in 1942, will assume his new duties Sept. 1. He has been affiliated with Hahnemann College since 1947.

Medical Engineering Course Set At Hopkins

BALTIMORE (AP)—A new program of study combining engineering and medicine was announced Monday by Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president, said the course in biomedical engineering will be offered starting in September in cooperation with the universities of Pennsylvania and Rochester.

The courses will be offered to college graduates with bachelor's degrees, particularly in engineering or physical science. At least four years of study will be required for a doctor's degree with a fifth year devoted to biomedical research recommended.

As an example of the type of research envisioned in the new program, Johns Hopkins cited the effect of electrical current as a means of overcoming heart spasms.

"Project Mercury" Plans Revised

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States will try to put an unmanned "Project Mercury" capsule into orbit around earth next week, then fire a human astronaut on a brief 16-minute ride into space aboard a similar craft a week later, it was learned on Monday.

The orbital flight was decided upon in a late-day switch of plans for a Mercury capsule already mounted on an Atlas missile and standing on a launching pad at this missile test center.

Simultaneously, the federal space agency is shooting for a May 2 date to send one of three specially-trained astronauts about 115 miles into space and 250 miles or more over the Atlantic Ocean atop a Redstone rocket.

Deadline Goes By For Rees

BALTIMORE (AP) — Federal court closed Monday without receiving an appeal from Melvin Davis Rees Jr. of his conviction for the kidnaping and killing of a Virginia mother and daughter.

Rees had until Monday to make up his mind whether to appeal his life sentence for the slaying of Mrs. Mildred Jackson, 27, and 5-year-old Susan.

Where Rees will go next remained undecided.

He is in custody of the U. S. marshal who has received detainers from Virginia against the 32-year-old Rees. Virginia has charged him with the murders of Carroll Jackson, 29, and another daughter, 18-month-old Janet.

The marshal is awaiting an authorization from the U. S. attorney general to either designate a federal prison at which Rees will serve his life sentence or to release him to Virginia.

Mrs. Jackson and one daughter were found dead in Maryland's Anne Arundel County after the family of four had disappeared in Virginia. The father and other daughter were found dead near Fredericksburg, Va.

Tawes Praises Women's Clubs

BALTIMORE (AP)—Gov. Tawes Monday night commended the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs for the programs it has sponsored to stimulate interest in politics, care for the aged and traffic safety.

"The State of Maryland is richer as a result of your many activities," he told the clubwomen at their 62nd annual convention.

Tawes said from reports he had received the federation "has been most successful in heightening the interest of women in politics by emphasizing the importance of understanding the issues and knowing the candidates in our general elections."

The governor said he was particularly pleased with the federation's interest in problems of the aging since that has been one of the major goals of his administration. He cited formation of the State's Coordinating Commission on Problems of the Aging and appropriations for increased medical care and nursing home construction.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

FINANCIAL SECURITY
We invite you to join us and build up a substantial savings account in this Association. Your savings will not only return dividends of 4%, the highest that can consistently be paid in Maryland with safety, but will also give you genuine security.
Some of our members have suffered illness or unemployment or death. When such emergencies arise, it has been our privilege to supply the necessities to them or to their families.
Our Association is small enough for us to know intimately each member and his problems. We are able to take care of a member when he needs help. We consider this service as important as making home mortgage loans. We do both.

Mrs. Robert Rothenhoefer keeps track of phone calls—finds her telephone saves her $12.15 in two weeks

Baron "listens in" as Mrs. Rothenhoefer uses her kitchen extension to summon a repairman. This call saved her a 20-minute drive.
19 hours . . . 177-miles of traveling . . . $12.15!
These are the savings reported to us by Mrs. Rothenhoefer, of Frederick, after she had kept a two-week record of her telephone calls—estimating the time, travel and money each call saved.
The totals are impressive—and a surprise to Mrs. Rothenhoefer. She says, "I'm amazed to see just how much running around town our phone saves. I'm afraid I had no idea what an important part the telephone plays in our family's daily life, until now."
What would a telephone record show in your home? Chances are you'd find, too . . . that your telephone gives you far more than it costs.

Baltimore Hospital Plans Two-Way Radio System

BALTIMORE (AP) — South Baltimore General Hospital soon will put into operation a two-way radio communication system to improve coordination and faster handling of emergency and disaster cases.

Hospital Director Donald T. Millis said the private radio station would be operational within the next 90 days.

A broadcasting and receiving unit, located in the hospital, will be connected with similar units installed in the cars of the director and other key personnel. The director of nurses also will be provided a fixed frequency radio at her home, Millis said.

The station, which will cost $3,000 to install, will have an output of 60 watts and will cover an area of 30 to 60 miles.

Millis said the radio system would be particularly advantageous when the hospital's telephone switchboard is clogged with calls from relatives of accident victims, reporters and members of the hospital staff.

He said it also would help eliminate confusion in the event of a disaster when telephone service is knocked out.

South Baltimore General last year treated more than 25,000 accident cases, the largest number percentage-wise for a hospital of its size in Maryland.

The longest living creature in the world today is said to be the tortoise, some of them living to be 300 years old.

Boy's Death Ups State Traffic Toll To 95

By The Associated Press

The death of a 8-year-old Baltimore boy has raised Maryland's fatal traffic accident toll to 95 so far this year, compared with 165 at the same time in 1960.

The victim, Eric Parker, was injured last Friday when he was struck by a car. He died at Lutheran Hospital Sunday.

Earthmover Traps Autoist In Crash

BALTIMORE (AP) — Firemen worked for 45 minutes Monday to free Charles Smith, 67, of Baltimore who was trapped behind the steering wheel of his overturned car under a 45-ton earthmover.

Police said Smith's car collided with the earthmover, driven by James Stauffner of Port Treverton, Pa., and the earthmover came to rest on top of the vehicle.

Capt. Thomas McNulty of the Fire Rescue Squad finally cut Smith free with a portable saw after squirming into the automobile himself. Hydraulic jacks and a 10-ton crane also played a part in the rescue operation.

Smith was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he was treated for cuts, bruises and abrasions.

The earthmover was owned by the C. J. Langenfelder & Sons Co. and was en route to Sparrows Point from Allentown, Pa. Police said that normally such a piece of equipment would not be allowed on the highways, but the machine had a special permit for this particular trip.

German trains have telephones which can be connected with the German telephone system.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 3 A PORTENTOUS LACK of realism by the Congress of the Secession States is indicated by their approach to financing. Initially, they voted a bond issue of only $15,000,000.

Although Southern insistence on free trade had generated the original secession movement in the 1830's, the Confederate Congress immediately adjusted tariffs. An export tax of ⅛ cent a pound was imposed on cotton to provide a sinking fund for the initial issue of bonds.

Besides the coinage seized in the Federal Mint at New Orleans, the C.S.A. government secured only small amounts of specie. To provide currency for trade, it issued $150,000,000 in noninterest-bearing Treasury notes, which were supposed to be exchangeable for another $150,000,000 in 8% 20-year bonds. Characteristically, the initial issue was in $50 and higher denominations.

The Confederate Secretary of Treasury C. G. Memminger had to continue to depend almost entirely on bonds and notes, and resistance to these began as quickly as people realized that the war was not going to be over in 1861.

Postage in many cases passed as currency.—Clark Kinnaird

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 3 A PORTENTOUS LACK of realism by the Congress of the Secession States is indicated by their approach to financing. Initially, they voted a bond issue of only $15,000,000.

Although Southern insistence on free trade had generated the original secession movement in the 1830's, the Confederate Congress immediately adjusted tariffs. An export tax of ⅛ cent a pound was imposed on cotton to provide a sinking fund for the initial issue of bonds.

Besides the coinage seized in the Federal Mint at New Orleans, the C.S.A. government secured only small amounts of specie. To provide currency for trade, it issued $150,000,000 in noninterest-bearing Treasury notes, which were supposed to be exchangeable for another $150,000,000 in 8% 20-year bonds. Characteristically, the initial issue was in $50 and higher denominations.

The Confederate Secretary of Treasury C. G. Memminger had to continue to depend almost entirely on bonds and notes, and resistance to these began as quickly as people realized that the war was not going to be over in 1861.

Postage in many cases passed as currency.—Clark Kinnaird

Dr. Briggs To Teach Two Summer Courses At FSTC

FROSTBURG—Dr. Howard L. Briggs, head of the social science department at Frostburg State Teachers College, will teach two courses in History during the summer session at the college, beginning Monday, June 19, and continuing until Friday, July 28.

"Contemporary World Problems" (history S400) is designed to make a thorough study of contemporary political, religious, social, economic and cultural world affairs as reported in daily newspapers and weekly, monthly and quarterly magazines. A comprehensive historical background is provided throughout the course.

"History of Europe" (History S102) will be the second semester material of a two-semester course. It will trace the development of European man as a social being from the establishment of the Greek city-states to the present time. Consideration will be given Europe's debt to the ancient Oriental civilizations of Egypt, Crete and Mesopotamia. Movements rather than events will be stressed, with particular emphasis upon social, economic and political phases of evolving culture.

This will be the fourth summer that Dr. Briggs has been a member of the summer session faculty. He has been an instructor at the college for eight years.

Courses on the 500 level will be open only to graduate students, those on the 400 level to both graduate and undergraduate student having senior or junior standing. All courses carry three semester hour credits.

The summer session catalogue is now available and may be obtained by writing Ivan C. Diehl, dean of curriculum, at the college. Advance registrations will be held at the college, May 6, from 9 a.m. until noon.

Legionnaires Present Flags To Girl Scouts

PIEDMONT — Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion presented two American flags to two Girl Scout trops and a plaque to Chief Justice Tawney Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus of Western Maryland Assembly.

Both presentations were made b. Russell McRobie, commander of the post, at a public ceremony in front of the Legion building, Sunday afternoon.

The two American flags with 50 stars, have flown over the National Capitol. They were obtained by Congressman Harley O. Staggers, at the request of the Post.

They were accepted in behalf of their troops by Dorothy Strong of 103 and Margaret Ann See of 104.

The plaque of the Pledge of Allegiance with the words "Under God", added to the Pledge of Allegiance through the efforts of the Knights of Columbus, was accepted by Sir Knight Wallace Rigsby. Sir Knights James Bissett and James McGoye, also took part in the ceremony.

A concert was also given by the band sponsored by Kelly-Mansfield Post.

Truck Demolished By Freight Train

Elk Garden Sophomores Present Class Play Apr. 20

ELK GARDEN, W. Va.—The Sophomore Class of Elk Garden High School will present the three-act mystery-comedy, "Aunt Susie Shoots The Works," by Fred Caldwell, on April 20 in the school gymnasium. Morning and afternoon performances only will be presented. The public may attend either performance—at 9:30 a.m. or 1:30 p. m. Director of the play i Miss Lucy Colabrese.

The plot of the play concerns the reactions of an eccentric and man-hating spinster, Aunt Susie Stowe, after she learns she has been willed a sausage factory. Things really get hilarious when she finds she must marry a man named Omar Graves in order to inherit the property.

Vera Hartman is cast in the role of Aunt Susie. Other sophomores having leading roles are Twila Simmons as Joy Herbert, Susie's niece: Tom Evans as Johnney Rogers, Joy's fiance; and Harlod Brown as Omar Graves, a successful businessman.

Comedy roles include Faye Bennear as Scarlet Deane, Joy's maid: Carole Elliott as Laura Dawson, another maid; and Walter Ward as LaSalle Johnson, Omar's servant.

Portraying supporting roles are Edith Dawson as Madame Zola, who sees all and tells nothing; Kathryn Sherwood as Cynthia Dunning, a neighbor; Barbara Jackson as Portia Lark a female lawyer; and Kenny Paugh as Slick Conway, who adds to the mystery.

Hardy Co. Truck Driver Killed In Freak Mishap

A Hardy County, W. Va. trucker was killed instantly Sunday in a freak truck-train accident near Hagerstown.

Maryland State Police identified the victim as Jennings Lee Strawderman, 34, of Mill Gap, W. Va., near Lost River.

Police said Strawderman apparently died instantly in the cab of his tractor-trailer after it had struck a bridge, rolled down a 40-foot embankment and rammed into the side of a moving Pennsylvania Railroad train.

Police said Strawderman was operating his rig southbound on Interstate Route 81 when he slammed into a bridge which spans the small county road.

The loaded tractor-trailer glanced off the bridge and rolled down the steep bank into the eastbound freight train.

Parts of the rig and its cargo were scattered more than 300 feet along the railroad tracks.

His body is at the Dellinger Funeral Home in Woodstock, Va.

Dr. Briggs To Teach Two Summer Courses At FSTC

FROSTBURG—Dr. Howard L. Briggs, head of the social science department at Frostburg State Teachers College, will teach two courses in History during the summer session at the college, beginning Monday, June 19, and continuing until Friday, July 28.

"Contemporary World Problems" (history S400) is designed to make a thorough study of contemporary political, religious, social, economic and cultural world affairs as reported in daily newspapers and weekly, monthly and quarterly magazines. A comprehensive historical background is provided throughout the course.

"History of Europe" (History S102) will be the second semester material of a two-semester course. It will trace the development of European man as a social being from the establishment of the Greek city-states to the present time. Consideration will be given Europe's debt to the ancient Oriental civilizations of Egypt, Crete and Mesopotamia. Movements rather than events will be stressed, with particular emphasis upon social, economic and political phases of evolving culture.

This will be the fourth summer that Dr. Briggs has been a member of the summer session faculty. He has been an instructor at the college for eight years.

Courses on the 500 level will be open only to graduate students, those on the 400 level to both graduate and undergraduate student having senior or junior standing. All courses carry three semester hour credits.

The summer session catalogue is now available and may be obtained by writing Ivan C. Diehl, dean of curriculum, at the college. Advance registrations will be held at the college, May 6, from 9 a.m. until noon.

Legionnaires Present Flags To Girl Scouts

PIEDMONT — Kelly-Mansfield Post No. 52, American Legion presented two American flags to two Girl Scout trops and a plaque to Chief Justice Tawney Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus of Western Maryland Assembly.

Both presentations were made by Russell McRobie, commander of the post, at a public ceremony in front of the Legion building, Sunday afternoon.

The two American flags with 50 stars, have flown over the National Capitol. They were obtained by Congressman Harley O. Staggers, at the request of the Post.

They were accepted in behalf of their troops by Dorothy Strong of 103 and Margaret Ann See of 104.

The plaque of the Pledge of Allegiance with the words "Under God", added to the Pledge of Allegiance through the efforts of the Knights of Columbus, was accepted by Sir Knight Wallace Rigsby, Sir Knights James Bissett and James McGoye, also took part in the ceremony.

A concert was also given by the band sponsored by Kelly-Mansfield Post.

Truck Demolished By Freight Train

Elk Garden Sophomores Present Class Play Apr. 20

ELK GARDEN, W. Va.—The Sophomore Class of Elk Garden High School will present the three-act mystery-comedy, "Aunt Susie Shoots The Works," by Fred Caldwell, on April 20 in the school gymnasium. Morning and afternoon performances only will be presented. The public may attend either performance—at 9:30 a.m. or 1:30 p. m. Director of the play is Miss Lucy Colabrese.

The plot of the play concerns the reactions of an eccentric and man-hating spinster, Aunt Susie Stowe, after she learns she has been willed a sausage factory. Things really get hilarious when she finds she must marry a man named Omar Graves in order to inherit the property.

Vera Hartman is cast in the role of Aunt Susie. Other sophomores having leading roles are Twila Simmons as Joy Herbert, Susie's niece; Tom Evans as Johnney Rogers, Joy's fiance; and Harlod Brown as Omar Graves, a successful businessman.

Comedy roles include Faye Bennear as Scarlet Deane, Joy's maid; Carole Elliott as Laura Dawson, another maid; and Walter Ward as LaSalle Johnson, Omar's servant.

Portraying supporting roles are Edith Dawson as Madame Zola, who sees all and tells nothing; Kathryn Sherwood as Cynthia Dunning, a neighbor; Barbara Jackson as Portia Lark a female lawyer; and Kenny Paugh as Slick Conway, who adds to the mystery.

Hardy Co. Truck Driver Killed In Freak Mishap

Maryland State Police identified the victim as Jennings Lee Strawderman, 34, of Mill Gap, W. Va., near Lost River.

Police said Strawderman apparently died instantly in the cab of his tractor-trailer after it had struck a bridge, rolled down a 40-foot embankment and rammed into the side of a moving Pennsylvania Railroad train.

Police said Strawderman was operating his rig southbound on Interstate Route 81 when he slammed into a bridge which spans the small county road.

The loaded tractor-trailer glanced off the bridge and rolled down the steep bank into the eastbound freight train.

Parts of the rig and its cargo were scattered more than 300 feet along the railroad tracks.

His body is at the Dellinger Funeral Home in Woodstock, Va.

Barton Council D. Of A. Entertains District Rally

BARTON—The Nellie B. Miller Rally of District No. 5 was held in Barton Saturday, in the Fireman's Armory with Pride of Barton Council No. 77 as hostess.

The afternoon session opened with Rev. George Roberts giving the invocation. Maud Kirk gave an address of welcome. The response was given by State Councilor, Nellie Miller of Lonaconing. A duet was sung by Wilma Miller and Mary C. Miller. Phyllis Davis and Susan Davis rendered accordion solos. The Kyle sisters, Debbie and Nancy, rendered a song and dance. A short skit "Cattish and Kittenish" was presented by Bessie Wilkes and Peggy Mowbray. Mae Smith and Norma Metz sang a duet. Mona Jean Kyle was pianist for the program.

The business session opened with District Deputy Amelia Cilinto calling for order. Captain Josephine Biggs, Bessie Hare, pianist and Bessie Wilkes, district secretary, were congratulated by the District Deputy for work well done. The opening session was by Council No. 98 of Frostburg. A roll call of deputies and district deputies was held. Pride of Barton Council No. 77 received national and state officers. Each officer was presented an orchid corsage at the altar. The state and national officers from Baltimore, District of Columbia, Eastern Shore, and Falls Church and the men's committe from Baltimore were also honored.

Evening ceremonies opened to the public at 7:30 p. m. Installation of officers was presented by Pride of Lonaconing No. 96; Draping of the Charter by Allegany No. 110.

The state councilor and officers were called upon to give short talks. Gifts were presented and a collection was taken for the Orphans and the Home Fund. The registration committee reported that approximately 150 people attended the rally.

Frostburg Winter Sets New Records

FROSTBURG — When the temperature soared to a high reading of 61 degrees here Friday, it was the highest temperature recorded since March 28, when the high temperature was 68 degrees.

C. Walter Hayes, UPRC weather observer for Frostburg, said the low was a cool 36, and at 6 p. m. the temperature reading was 52 degrees. The mean temperature of 48 degrees, is one degree below the average of 49 degrees, for April.

Frostburg has been having plenty of cold weather and snow in the past weeks, snow was observed falling on eleven days and no days have had clear skies.

A 12-inch snowfall was recorded here on April 10, and again on the 13th, 12 inches were measured. Added to this, one inch on the 2nd and one-half an inch on the 8th brings the total to 25.5 inches. A total of 131.8 inches of snowfall has been recorded here during the winter, October through April 14.

The deepest snowfall on record in April, during a 24-hour period, seems to be April 15, 1915 when eleven inches were measured.

Precipitation has been measured on nine days, for a water content of 4.82 inches. The average is 3.68 inches for the month of April.

Victory Legion Unit Plans Poppy Sale And Election

WESTERNPORT — Members of Victory Unit 155, American Legion Auxiliary of Victory Post will sell poppies on Saturday, May 20.

It was also decided at their regular meeting to serve a ham supper Thursday at noon and 5 p.m.

The unit made a check available to be used for the purpose of sending a representative to Girls State. Americanism medals were ordered, to be awarded to students in the high schools who are outstanding in Americanism. Tentative plans were made to serve a steak dinner for the Mixed Bowling League Wednesday, May 24.

A nominating committee was selected to present a new slate of officers for the coming year.

April is Child Welfare month. Members belonging to this group volunteered 154 hours to scouting. Some members donated their time to Sunday School teaching giving the unit a total credit of 200 hours for the project.

Four bags of clothing were sent to "Save the Children" federation. Four boxes of clothing were distributed to needy people in the Tri-Towns.

Each month a monetary contribution is made to the Westernport Health Center. A donation of $15 was awarded for retarded children's work in the Mountain District and $15 to the Maryland Department of Child Welfare.

The Unit will support the "Crusade for Freedom and Radio Free Europe." Donation by the public may be made to the Legion Post.

Mrs. Marguerite de Prume and children, West Piedmont Street, and Dr. F. de Prume, New York City, returned from a vacation in the Bahamas.

Frostburg Winter Sets New Records

FROSTBURG — When the temperature soared to a high reading of 61 degrees here Friday, it was the highest temperature recorded since March 28, when the high temperature was 68 degrees.

C. Walter Hayes, UPRC weather observer for Frostburg, said the low was a cool 36, and at 6 p. m. the temperature reading was 52 degrees. The mean temperature of 48 degrees, is one degree below the average of 49 degrees, for April.

Frostburg has been having plenty of cold weather and snow in the past weeks, snow was observed falling on eleven days and no days have had clear skies.

A 12-inch snowfall was recorded here on April 10, and again on the 13th, 12 inches were measured. Added to this, one inch on the 2nd and one-half an inch on the 8th brings the total to 25.5 inches. A total of 131.8 inches of snowfall has been recorded here during the winter, October through April 14.

The deepest snowfall on record in April, during a 24-hour period, seems to be April 15, 1915 when eleven inches were measured.

Precipitation has been measured on nine days, for a water content of 4.82 inches. The average is 3.68 inches for the month of April.

Victory Legion Unit Plans Poppy Sale And Election

WESTERNPORT — Members of Victory Unit 155, American Legion Auxiliary of Victory Post will sell poppies on Saturday, May 20.

It was also decided at their regular meeting to serve a ham supper Thursday at noon and 5 p.m.

The unit made a check available to be used for the purpose of sending a representative to Girls State. Americanism medals were ordered, to be awarded to students in the high schools who are outstanding in Americanism. Tentative plans were made to serve a steak dinner for the Mixed Bowling League Wednesday, May 24.

A nominating committee was selected to present a new slate of officers for the coming year.

April is Child Welfare month. Members belonging to this group volunteered 154 hours to scouting. Some members donated their time to Sunday School teaching giving the unit a total credit of 200 hours for the project.

Four bags of clothing were sent to "Save the Children" federation. Four boxes of clothing were distributed to needy people in the Tri-Towns.

Each month a monetary contribution is made to the Westernport Health Center. A donation of $15 was awarded for retarded children's work in the Mountain District and $15 to the Maryland Department of Child Welfare.

The Unit will support the "Crusade for Freedom and Radio Free Europe." Donation by the public may be made to the Legion Post.

24 W. Virginia Road Project Bids Opened

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Bids will be opened by the Road Commission Tuesday on 24 West Virginia highway projects, including four on two Interstate routes.

The biggest of the jobs apparently is the superstructure of an Interstate 64 bridge across the Kanawha River at Nitro. Another I-64 project calls for a bridge to carry Sec. 17 over that road in Cabell County.

Two Interstate 77 projects include a bridge over W. Va. 81 and construction of 1.4 miles of roadbed, both near Parkersburg.

The other jobs all call for repaving. They include:

Braxton — 9.1 miles W. Va. 4 between Gassaway and Clay.

Hardy — 6.7 miles U. S. 220 between Moorefield and Petersburg.

Morgan — 6.4 miles W. Va. 9 between Berkeley Springs and Martinsburg.

Ritchie — 5.6 miles W. Va. 16 between Ellenboro and Harrisville.

Tyler — 5.2 miles W. Va. 18 between Joseph's Mill and Doddridge line.

Wetzel — 3.1 miles U. S. 250 from Littletown to Marshall County line; also approaches on W.Va. 7 to the New Ohio River bridge at New Martinsville.

Man Sentenced, Attacks Judge, Gets Extra Year

BALTIMORE (AP) — Edmund Huntley Jr., 23, was given an extra year's sentence Monday for reacting violently to a judge's original verdict.

When Judge Joseph L. Carter sentenced Huntley to 10 years for robbery on March 29, the defendant leaped on a table and tried to attack the judge.

Judge Carter found Huntley guilty of contempt of court and imposed the additional year in the penitentiary.

Verwoerd's Warning

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd warned in a Senate speech Monday that his government will take "appropriate steps" to insure law and order when South Africa becomes a republic on May 31.

Will Honor Scouts

The Bedford Road Optimist Club will hold a covered dish supper tonight for its Boy Scout Troop at Bedford Road Fire Hall. Members are to bring plates and silverware and at least one covered dish. Everything else will be furnished by the club.

Unscheduled Thrill

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy arrived Monday on a plane which suffered a punctured nose tire while landing. Smoke poured from it but the landing was smooth for the touring Italian statesman.

Spelling Contest Winners

Church Plans Bible School

The annual vacation church school of Cresaptown Methodist Church will begin on May 30, according to Mrs. Jessie Crawford, dean of the school.

She said that due to an increase in attendance of the kindergarten-age children there will be two separate sessions this year.

The kindergarten session will be held from May 31 through June 9, with morning classes from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

The second session for the primary department, junior and junior high groups will be held during the same hours June 19 through June 30.

Mrs. Crawford said the following superintendents have been named:

Mrs. Annabelle Caldwell, kindergarten; Mrs. Margaret Wolford, primary; Mrs. Mary Walton, junior; and Mrs. Genevieve Bryan, junior high.

In Hospital

Mrs. Jennie Grahame, administrative assistant for the County Health Department, is a surgical patient in Memorial Hospital. Her condition is reported good.

Special Service Set

Rev. James W. Collison, pastor of Goodwill Baptist Church, Pocomoke City, will be guest speaker at a special worship service today at 7:30 p. m. at Bedford Road Baptist Church. A prayer service will precede the worship service at 7 p. m., according to Roy Simpson, chairman of deacons.

Keating Receives Janitor Position

James F. Keating, 525 Dilley Street, has been given a probationary appointment by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners as a janitor at the Court House.

Mr. Keating, who has been working as a temporary employe at the Court House since February 1, began his six-month probationary period last Friday. He ranked first in the recent Civil Service test.

The commissioners also appointed Nina E. Leasure as a practical nurse after receiving a letter from Mrs. Joan S. Burke, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, that she had passed her test.

Flow Averages 7,380,000 Gallons

The Cumberland sewage treatment treated an average daily flow of 7,386,290 gallons during March, William F. Miller, plant foreman, told the Mayor and Council yesterday.

About 400 pounds of chlorine were used each day to sterilize the effluent from the plant, he reported.

Application Rejected

The Mayor and Council yesterday rejected the application of John W. Wright, Eckhart, for a certificate of necessity to operate a taxicab here.

Clockers Plan Car Wash Here

A car wash will be sponsored on Saturday by members of The Clockers who met last night at their garage off Centre Street.

Paul Myers, publicity chairman, said the car wash which will begin at 9 a. m. will be held at Spoerl's garage 845 North Mechanic Street.

Proceeds will be used toward purchase of a jack which will be used in a safety inspection planned in the near future, and also for the construction of a rail dragster.

Four members of the Gulfers of Midland who attended last night's meeting include William J. Kidwell, John Ravenscroft, Eugene Thrasher and Robert Stevenson.

Seven Building Permits Issued

Seven permits for construction valued at more than $30,000 were issued by the City of Cumberland yesterday.

Included was a $12,000 addition to the S. Schwab Company facilities at 900 Frederick Street.

Plans call for the construction of a 130 by 35 foot addition to the rear of the building. The addition will be of concrete block, faced with brick.

James C. Glenn, 431 North Mechanic Street, was issued a permit to build a one-story dwelling, about 38 by 26 feet, on Wempe Drive at Fourth Street.

The structure will be of brick veneer construction and will cost $12,000.

Pentecostal Tabernacle received a permit to build a 32 by 20 foot addition to the present church at 322 Eastern Avenue.

Charles L. Twigg, 32 Blackiston Avenue, will build a $350 frame addition to his home, and Alice B. Brenneman, 124 Wilmont Avenue, a $2,000 addition to a dwelling.

William J. and Rose G. Hay, 604 Elwood Street, secured a permit for a $1,500 addition to their home, and Lillian Klavuhn, 812 Sylvan Avenue, a $300 addition to a home.

Many persons consider the Colosseum, in Rome, to be the world's most famous ruins.

Food Distribution Set At Ridgeley

Surplus government food will be distributed tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. at the city building in Ridgeley.

Eligible persons from Ridgeley, Carpenters Addition, Short Gap, Wiley Ford, Fort Ashby and Patterson Creek are asked to bring their own containers.

But This Rabbit Isn't Resting

Next Move In Laos: What Will It Be?

It's our move in Laos again. The Soviets, with their stepped-up airlift there, have shown they have no intention of depending solely on diplomacy to gain their ends in Southeast Asia.

While proceeding at a snail's pace toward a ceasefire, the Russians are backing their bets with arms, which they hope will give them a position of overwhelming strength in any peace talks.

Obviously, the West must counter the Red arms buildup to have any bargaining strength—that is to say, to keep Laos from becoming a Red satellite. But the West also wants to keep Laos from exploding into a Korea or a major war, sentiments which the Soviets apparently feel less strongly.

The West's only solution, apparently, is to apply just enough force to counter the Reds, without goading them into further worsening the situation. The U.S. probably will engage in this step-by-step action:

First, increase support of the Royal Lao army, to prevent the strengthened rebels from gaining ground. If that fails to halt the rebels, SEATO's Asian troops will be sent into Laos—provided the SEATO nations agree—supplied with enough arms to stall the rebels. If that fails, the fat will be in the fire.

It should be made clear to Moscow that each step will follow as it is needed. The Soviets want Laos, but do they want a war over it? They will continue to promote the rebellion as long as the cost is cheap. The West's job is to make Soviet interference impractically expensive.

The Cuban White Paper

The most amazing document ever issued by the State Department is the White Paper on Cuba. It cannot be read without assuming that the United States is apologetic, in some manner, for the misconduct of Castro. Here is the opening statement:

". . . The hemisphere rejoiced at the overthrow of the Batista tyranny, looked with sympathy on the new regime, and welcomed its promises of political freedom and social justice for the Cuban people. The challenge results from the fact that the leaders of the revolutionary regime betrayed their own revolution, delivered that revolution into the hands of powers alien to the hemisphere, and transformed it into an instrument employed with calculated effect to suppress the rekindled hopes of the Cuban people for democracy and to intervene in the internal affairs of other American Republics."

In the first place, the hemisphere — meaning North and South America—did not devote itself to the overthrow of Batista. The subject was hardly important to most human beings. Besides, economically 1957 was Cuba's best year. There is a sectarian group in the State Department which believes that Rightist dictators are evil and Leftist dictators are good. Thus, Stalin was good; Hitler was bad. Thus, Batista was evil and Castro was good; Trujillo is bad, and so it goes. These doctrinaire Fourth Floor deskmen in the State Department disregard history in their desire to establish a world of good men, dictators who call themselves democrats or democrats who are dictators.

The White Paper says:

"It is the considered judgment of the Government of the United States of America that the Castro regime in Cuba offers a clear and present danger to the authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas—to the whole hope of spreading political liberty, economic development, and social progress through all the republics of the hemisphere."

"This is a new use of the term, Government of the United States. "A considered judgment" of the Government of the United States could be a joint resolution of Congress.

Surely at no time has the Congress of the United States or the President in a formal message to Congress referred to the "authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas."

Precisely what is this revolution? What have the United States and Canada, for instance, to do with this authentic and autonomous revolution?

Surely it is not true, as the White Paper states:

"When word arrived from the Sierra Maestra of the revolutionary movement headed by Dr. Fidel Castro Ruz, the people of the hemisphere watched its progress with feeling and with hope . . ."

Who in the Northern part of the hemisphere watched Castro's butchery with "feeling and hope"? From the start, many Americans looked upon it with loathing. What is the White Paper attempting to do—to give the impression that the hope of this country was centered on Castro? Are the authors of this document trying to justify the aid given to Castro by the State Department? Were the men who wrote the White Paper responsible for the support Fidel Castro received from those in the State Department?

In later pages, the White Paper changes its tone and tells what a treacherous devil Castro is. It describes the Communist take-over. However, even so, Castro is the poor little darling who is seduced. Note:

". . . When Castro first went to the hills, the Cuban Communist Party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.' Only when they saw that he had a chance of winning did they try to take over his movement."

It has not been unusual for the Communists to give the appearance of opposing one whom they support. It is also true that Soviet Russia has often found local Communists to be nuisances and have acted without their knowledge, whipping them into line when the proper time came. Finally, on page 19, the pamphlet reaches "The Delivery of the Revolution to the Sino-Soviet Bloc." It took a long time to get there in a small paper of 36 pages.

It is unfortunate that the White Paper on Cuba prepared and issued by the State Department labors so hard to reach a conclusion which newspaper readers have already accepted. You can buy the White Paper from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. It costs 20 cents and is worth that much.

Kennedy Must Settle Dispute Over Solid Vs. Liquid Fuels In Rockets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON —President Kennedy has a great opportunity to cut red tape with boldness to develop a rocket-launcher that will challenge Russia. He has already made a start toward rectifying the key reason we have been so far behind Russia — namely, the fact that the USSR has a rocket launcher of 850,000 pounds thrust, ours has only 135,000 pounds thrust. This is why Russia has launched seven-ton satellites against our basketballs.

Upon what Kennedy does further may depend whether a Russian or an American reaches the moon.

The Russians are already far ahead, and it will take bold and expensive efforts to catch up. However, what Kennedy will have to do is settle an important hassle inside the Defense Department and the space agency over liquid-fueled and solid-fueled launchers. Here is the issue:

LIQUID-FUEL — The great Saturn engine, which Eisenhower at first starved for funds, but to which Kennedy has already given priority, will generate 1,500,000 of thrust. It can launch giant satellites into space instead of basketballs.

But it will not be ready until 1964.

SOLID-FUEL — Some experts claim that a solid-fuel launcher with 1,000,000 pounds of thrust could be completed by the end of this year. Other scientists disagree. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Space Agency, contends a solid-fueled engine could not be ready until 1964.

However, the scientists urging the solid-fuel engine have made good on past claims regarding the Polaris and the Minuteman missiles. They have made a spectacular showing.

This is the decision confronting President Kennedy.

So far he has allotted $3,100,000 for solid-fuel research, as against $168,000,000 already spent on the liquid-fueled Saturn, plus another $78,000,000 which has just been requested.

The champions of the Saturn claim that, using it as a base, they can develop another giant launcher, the Nova, with 6,000,000 pounds of thrust by 1971 which will reach the moon. Champions of solid fuel claim they can build an engine with 21,000,000 pounds of thrust by early 1964.

Whichever is right, the fact is that the race for the moon can't wait. Historians will not chalk up the year 1961 as the year that balanced the budget, but the year that sent a man into space. And the year that sends a man to the moon will be even more important.

Stubborn Greek Democrat

Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis of Greece, who is conferring with President Kennedy this week, has two interesting distinctions for Americans. He is one of the best friends we have in Europe, and he has been Prime Minister of Greece longer than any other man since Greece emerged from Turkish rule.

The cradle of democracy, since it threw off the Turkish yoke 140 years ago, has gone in for such volatile democracy that governments don't last too long. From the end of World War II to 1955 when Karamanlis came into power, the average Greek government lasted only 160 days. In contrast, Karamanlis has given Greece six years of stability.

Looking not much older than President Kennedy and just as handsome, Karamanlis has continued to champion friendship with the United States at a time when we have not always been too popular and when the late John Foster Dulles was blaming Greece for equal responsibility for the Turkish mobs which desecrated Greek churches and graveyards in Turkish cities.

Surrounded by Communist nations on three sides, Karamanlis governs one of the most stubbornly democratic countries in southern Europe today.

Washington Whirl

President Kennedy will do some desegregating very close to home —namely, in the White House Press Photographers' Association. He has prompted them twice — once privately, once publicly — regarding the absence of Negro photographers covering the White House. So he won't attend the big May 19 White House Photographers' Association dinner unless the cameramen admit Negroes before that date. . . . Ex-vice President Nixon is still using his Vice Presidential stationary three months after leaving office. . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn bumped into party-giver Perle Mesta, the Democrat renegade, at a social function the other day. "I didn't expect to speak to you again, but now I find myself in a position where I have to," growled Rayburn. He hasn't forgiven Perle for feeding at the Truman trough as American minister to Luxembourg, then turning on the Democrats to plug for Nixon last fall. . . . . The layman who has pioneered hardest for developing solid-fueled rocket-launchers is Utah's earnest young Congressman David King, a member of the House Space Committee.

Behind The Scenes

Secretary of Defense McNamara has bluntly told the admirals that their aircraft carriers are too slow, too unwieldy for the missile age. This is the first time a Secretary of Defense has got tough with the admirals since the days of Louis Johnson under Truman. They promptly put a rope around Johnson's neck — though he didn't know it until the rope was squeezed tight. . . . . wonder what they'll do to McNamara? . . . . . Chrysler, racked with conflict-of-interest cases, holds its annual stockholders meeting today and will whitewash management. W. Alton Jones, Eisenhower's golfing crony and Gettys-elected director, despite his previous conflict of interest. Jones was chief owner of "Surface Combustion" which competed directly with Chrysler's Airtemp. . . . . about ten days after the stockholders' whitewash, Chrysler's management will come out with a disastrous statement for the first quarter.

The Political And Economic Wars In Vietnam

By Joseph Alsop

BEN TRE, Vietnam

Nowadays, when a Western reporter finds a corner of the world which positively inspires hope, the impulse to linger there is all but irresistible. That is the real reason, I suppose, why I have lingered in this amiable little delta town, as the guest of the young province-chief of Kien Hoa, Lt. Col. Pham Ngoc Thoo.

The cops-and-robbers, good guys-versus-Communists aspect of this visit to Col. Thao has been pretty exciting — and decidedly pleasing, too, since the good guys have been coming out on top for once. But I confess I have been far more excited by the glimpse of a new kind of political warfare which I have caught through Col. Thao's eyes, in long talks with him in this high, bare old house of a French provincial administrator, in the calm intervals between patrols.

To make Col. Thao's war understandable, you have to understand him a little. He is, then, a slender, wiry, pleasant-spoken, gentle-seeming man, who has in fact been hardened by nearly fifteen years of war, first with the Communists against the French, and then with President Ngo Dinh Diem against the Communists.

He still has relations in the north. His father-in-law, in fact, is an important Communist official who was my polite captor when I blundered into a Communist-held area in South Vietnam six years ago. Because of his own past and his present connections, there was some grumbling when President Diem personally named Col. Thao to his job here after four previous province chiefs had failed to halt the rapid advance towards total takeover in Kien Hao. At that time, this little town was almost literally besieged; all the main provincial roads were perennially impassable; and the Communists ruled virtually the entire countryside.

Kien Hoa is certainly no peaceful paradise today. The Communists have a section of thirty to fifty regular troops in each of Kien Hoa's eight administrative districts, and they have two full companies, both well armed and well trained, based in heavily forested areas. Col. Thao still needs to be a very tough, resourceful anti-guerrilla leader, which he is. The war is unceasing, but at least Col. Thao has gained much ground since President Diem sent him there.

By the personal orders of the President and his brother, Ngo Dinh Niu, Col. Thao began his work in Kien Hoa by an action symbolizing his break with the old French way of fighting the Communists, which has been too often imitated by the South Vietnamese in the past two years. The provincial jail was bulging with a thousand prisoners, most of them held in mere suspicion. He sifted out about three hundred hard core cases, and let the rest go free. He also burned the instruments of torture used by the police in a public ceremony in Ben Tre's main square.

But these bold innovations did not change the fact that the province chief's own house was under rather regular fire from the Communist-held villages just across Ben Tre's gently flowing little river. First, Col. Thao tried to bring back these villages by putting in strong points and filling them with troops.

"It did less than no good," Col. Thao remarked, "so there was nothing left to do but go there myself."

With a small guard, he therefore moved bodily into the village of Phu Nhuan, which is really a straggling peasant community of a good many thousands of people. For ten days, he talked to the villagers individually and in groups, actually interviewing every family elder. He learned about their grievances, about the chickens stolen by the army, the tax money misappropriated which should have built a village bridge, and so on. He got them to choose a new council of elders, a new village committee, and a new village chief. And so he took Phu Nhuan back from the Communists.

I can testify that he did so, because I asked if we could go there, and within fifteen minutes we were strolling through the cocoanut groves and along the canals of Phu Hhuam and its neighboring village, An Hoi.

It was the kind of ideal ambush country that gave one a violent itch of localized apprehension in the back of the neck in the old days of the war between the French and the Communists. But instead of the snick of a sniper's bullet, all we heard were cheerful greetings from the people who ran the horrendous little fish sauce factory, and the man peasant households, and even the aged lady who had been so crossly pro-Communist because the soldiers of the local guard post had liberated "all three of her beds."

"We cannot win with arms, but we can win by dealing wisely and well with the people!"

This is the colonel's motto, and on this basis, Thao and the junior officers who are his district chiefs have been repeating the Phu Nhuan experiment over and over again. It has not been smooth sailing by any means. The people, said the colonel, "must be convinced, and at that, it is often easier to convince the people than to convince our own cadres, who wish to win with guns."

Yet nine villages out of the province's 115 have been recaptured by political action in the last two months. They have been strategically chosen, too. For instance, the rich river mouth villages were among the first on the list. "They cost the Communists a couple of million piastres a year in taxes on the fisheries, and we gained back as much," said the colonel. "The economic war is just as important as the political war."

A kind of encircling advance against the two Communist forest-hidden bases is in fact going on in Kien Hoa. Many villages not specifically worked on show the effects of the political war. Meanwhile, a school to train new village elders, chosen from the best of the school teachers, is in its second month of work. A new administrative headquarters, designed to be squeeze-proof because all the offices are completely open to the public view, is going up in Ben Tre town. The roads are all repaired. The bridges are mended. A kind of quasi-normal life has returned to Kien Hoa. "In a year," says Col. Thao, "I think we can win this war here."

Saying farewell to him, it was natural to wish him luck.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

HAPPY BIRTHDAY — The Census Bureau held a happy birthday party the other day which had its unusual, and to some, ominous aspects. The occasion was in honor of the 10th anniversary of Univac 1, the world's first electronic computer system.

The daddy of all the electronic brains looked much as it did at birth, displaying no signs of age despite the 510 billion basic arithmetic problems it has worked out. Its first big job was to work on the 1950 census final tabulations.

Since then, it has worked 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with only occasional rest periods to correct minor mechanical illnesses. It cost $500,000, a paltry sum compared with the many millions of dollars charged for some of its better developed descendants.

During the festivities, someone patted it on the head. It blinked its lights, whirred happily, and went right on with its work. Maybe some day one of its progeny will give a party for the human race—sort of a farewell party—but not Univac. It's a tame mechanical monster.

ROCKING CHAIR — When Dr. Janet G. Travell, the President's physician, disclosed that Kennedy got therapeutic value out of a rocking chair in his executive office, she was, of course, asked more details about the chair.

She described it, explained that it was a source for easy but necessary exercise, and in many other ways praised the vehicle, which had more or less fallen out of favor among modern homemakers. Some enterprising stores immediately placed advertisements for rocking chairs in the newspapers and did fairly well on sales.

However, Mrs. Travell steadfastly declined to name the furniture company that manufactured the particular chair. She said, however, that she would provide the information to anyone who was interested enough to write her.

In the following several days she received more than a thousand letters, and despairing of having to answer all of them individually, broke down and disclosed that the chair Kennedy uses is manufactured by the P & P Chair Company, of Asheboro, N. C.

Woman In Space

By John Crosby

WNEW, the radio station in New York, was out sampling opinion from the man in the street practically the moment anyone got on the street after word came from Moscow about the Russian leap into space. However, the first person WNEW ran to earth was not a Man on the Street but a Woman on the Street who had a flavor all her own.

"I'm scared to death," said the Woman on the Street. "It means the end of our way of life."

"Are you scared because the Russians did it first," asked the WNEW man.

"I'd be even more scared if we did it first," said the Woman on the Street.

That's the voice of Woman all right, all right. I've been entranced by outer space ever since I read Edgar Rice Burrough's Martian stories as a kid. John Carter fighting his way through clouds of red-skinned Martians to the woman he loves. (Up in Burroughs' Mars, they had space ships and all that but they fought with swords like civilized human beings.) But I don't know any women who have really approved of all this space nonsense. They don't come right out against it, the women, but they don't join in the conversation and they don't really like it.

You know something, I bet the womenfolk (except Isabella, of course) were dead set against Christopher Columbus and all that he stood for. I can just hear Mrs. Christopher Columbus wailing: "Why are you so restless, Christopher? Just when I get the house looking nice."

That's the crux of the situation right there. A girl works and slaves — I know it's redundant but that's the way my mother used to talk — and the house is just beginning to look like something. And what does Christopher Columbus do? Go out and discover America, that's what!

"This is the first year the lawn has looked really right. And after all these years, I've finally got curtains to match the slipcovers. So what does Christopher do — discover America! Indians, for heavens sake! No proper schools for the children! Proper schools! There aren't any schools."

Well, women finally went reluctantly along to the New World. The Indians. The colds. The danger. Women coped. Little by little, they got things in order. Suburbs. Schools for the children. The Parent-Teachers Associations. Flowers in the windowbox. And after endless experiment, the chintz curtains look really right in the kitchen.

"Now look what that idiot has gone and done," wails Woman on the Street. "Outer space, for crying out loud! Nothing out there at all! You think the Pilgrims had it tough. No school for the children! Indians! But, my God, at least they had dry land when they got there. They had air to breathe.

"But out there there's nothing at all. No air. No land. How's a girl to have a garden when there's no air for the flowers to breathe? How you going to yell at the children with one of those masks on your face all the time?"

Well, now easy, girls, easy! The nesting instinct is not going to be defeated by a little thing like no air to breathe, no ground to plant the flowers in, no weight to hold down the vase Aunt Sophie gave you for a wedding present. It'll be hard but not impossible. You mark my words, there'll be chintz at the windows of the satellite before the decade is out and flowers on the table by — remember you read it here first — mid-1970.

The Woman on the Street didn't worry at all about the Russians getting there first. That's a Man in the Street type worry. As a matter of fact, the Russians have got their own worry about a New Way of Life. They have a Celebrity — and I wish them well with Major Gagarin. The ticker tape parades. The feature articles about Mrs. Major Gagarin and the children. Thank God, we got spared all that. (As a matter of fact, we haven't been. "Life" has had it all, the wives and the children and all that on our astronauts — and they haven't even got up there yet.)

However, we're much more experienced at that celebrity bit. In fact, Nikita, we've got some old songs left over from an event in our distant past, we'll sell you, marked down:

"Lucky Yuri up in the sky,
"Fair or Windy, he's flying high;
"Peerless, Fearless, knows every cloud,
"The kind of a son makes a mother feel proud."

Pilonidal Cyst An Error In Development

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Now and then nature makes an error in our development and leaves us with an abnormality that is more annoying than serious. The pilonidal cyst is one of these development errors. It is located in the lower spine near the region where we would have had a tail if our Creator had so desired.

Long before birth, the left and right sides of the body come together in midline. A pilonidal cyst is in the making when bits of skin tissue collect at the junction and become embedded below the surface at the base of the spine. These cells contain sweat glands and hair follicles which in time may function just as though they were on the outside, where they belong.

The earliest clue is one or more dimples in the skin just above the folds of the buttocks. The overlying skin usually is thinner in this area; occasionally, tiny holes are noted that communicate directly with the buried cyst.

The disorder is not bothersome so long as the pocket remains quiet. But the cyst is likely to activate or become inflamed if the area is injured. Some of our service men had this experience when riding trucks, tanks, or jeeps during the war. The seats of these vehicles are hard and jarring and bumping was common.

Following injury, the cyst becomes infected and distended with us. The area is red, swollen, and extremely tender to the touch. In time pus works its way to the surface and a discharging sinus develops.

At this stage, heat and penicillin bring infection under control. When all signs of inflammation have disappeared only complete removal of the cyst and the sinus tract will cure the condition. If this is done, the lesion continues to drain or becomes acutely inflamed periodically.

TOMORROW: Surgery for wrinkling and sagging.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

W. T. K. writes: What is the cause of inflammation of the pancreas?

REPLY

Infection usually enters the organ via the pancreatic duct and the micro-organisms come from the gall bladder or intestine. Sometimes the causative germs are carried to the pancreas through the blood stream.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A commuter from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., has a fortunate disposition: he can see the good side of everything. For instance, when they constructed a distillery on one side of his home and a slaughterhouse on the other, his wife had a conniption fit. Not our hero, however. "Don't forget the big redeeming feature," he reminded his wife. "From now on we'll always know which way the wind is blowing."

A young couple was arrested in a parked vehicle on the shoulder of a public throughway. When the man produced irrefutable evidence, however, that the girl was his lawfully wedded wife, the case was thrown out of court.

"I'm sorry," apologized the cop who had made the arrest. "I never dreamed the girl was your wife."

"That's perfectly all right," nodded the man. "Neither did I — till you flashed that light in our faces."

Inhabitants of a Virginia home were temporarily marooned in their house when sliding glass doors froze shut during a cold wave. The pioneers may have had it rugged but, at least, THAT couldn't happen to their log cabins!

These doctrinaire Fourth Floor deskmen in the State Department disregard history in their desire to establish a world of good men, dictators who call themselves democrats or democrats who are dictators.

The White Paper says:

"It is the considered judgment of the Government of the United States of America that the Castro regime in Cuba offers a clear and present danger to the authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas—to the whole hope of spreading political liberty, economic development, and social progress through all the republics of the hemisphere."

"This is a new use of the term, Government of the United States. "A considered judgment" of the Government of the United States could be a joint resolution of Congress.

Surely at no time has the Congress of the United States or the President in a formal message to Congress referred to the "authentic and autonomous revolution of the Americas."

Precisely what is this revolution? What have the United States and Canada, for instance, to do with this authentic and autonomous revolution?

Surely it is not true, as the White Paper states:

"When word arrived from the Sierra Maestra of the revolutionary movement headed by Dr. Fidel Castro Ruz, the people of the hemisphere watched its progress with feeling and with hope . . ."

Who in the Northern part of the hemisphere watched Castro's butchery with "feeling and hope"? From the start, many Americans looked upon it with loathing. What is the White Paper attempting to do—to give the impression that the hope of this country was centered on Castro? Are the authors of this document trying to justify the aid given to Castro by the State Department? Were the men who wrote the White Paper responsible for the support Fidel Castro received from those in the State Department?

In later pages, the White Paper changes its tone and tells what a treacherous devil Castro is. It describes the Communist take-over. However, even so, Castro is the poor little darling who is seduced. Note:

". . . When Castro first went to the hills, the Cuban Communist Party dismissed him as 'bourgeois' and 'putschist.' Only when they saw that he had a chance of winning did they try to take over his movement."

It has not been unusual for the Communists to give the appearance of opposing one whom they support. It is also true that Soviet Russia has often found local Communists to be nuisances and have acted without their knowledge, whipping them into line when the proper time came. Finally, on page 19, the pamphlet reaches "The Delivery of the Revolution to the Sino-Soviet Bloc." It took a long time to get there in a small paper of 36 pages.

It is unfortunate that the White Paper on Cuba prepared and issued by the State Department labors so hard to reach a conclusion which newspaper readers have already accepted. You can buy the White Paper from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. It costs 20 cents and is worth that much.

But This Rabbit Isn't Resting

Kennedy Must Settle Dispute Over Solid Vs. Liquid Fuels In Rockets

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON —President Kennedy has a great opportunity to cut red tape with boldness to develop a rocket-launcher that will challenge Russia. He has already made a start toward rectifying the key reason we have been so far behind Russia — namely, the fact that the USSR has a rocket launcher of 850,000 pounds thrust, ours has only 135,000 pounds thrust. This is why Russia has launched seven-ton satellites against our basketballs.

Upon what Kennedy does further may depend whether a Russian or an American reaches the moon.

The Russians are already far ahead, and it will take bold and expensive efforts to catch up. However, what Kennedy will have to do is settle an important hassle inside the Defense Department and the space agency over liquid-fueled and solid-fueled launchers. Here is the issue:

LIQUID-FUEL — The great Saturn engine, which Eisenhower at first starved for funds, but to which Kennedy has already given priority, will generate 1,500,000 of thrust. It can launch giant satellites into space instead of basketballs.

But it will not be ready until 1964.

SOLID-FUEL — Some experts claim that a solid-fuel launcher with 1,000,000 pounds of thrust could be completed by the end of this year. Other scientists disagree. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy director of the National Space Agency, contends a solid-fueled engine could not be ready until 1964.

However, the scientists urging the solid-fuel engine have made good on past claims regarding the Polaris and the Minuteman missiles. They have made a spectacular showing.

This is the decision confronting President Kennedy.

So far he has allotted $3,100,000 for solid-fuel research, as against $168,000,000 already spent on the liquid-fueled Saturn, plus another $78,000,000 which has just been requested.

The champions of the Saturn claim that, using it as a base, they can develop another giant launcher, the Nova, with 6,000,000 pounds of thrust by 1971 which will reach the moon. Champions of solid fuel claim they can build an engine with 21,000,000 pounds of thrust by early 1964.

Whichever is right, the fact is that the race for the moon can't wait. Historians will not chalk up the year 1961 as the year that balanced the budget, but the year that sent a man into space. And the year that sends a man to the moon will be even more important.

Stubborn Greek Democrat

Prime Minister Constantine Karamanlis of Greece, who is conferring with President Kennedy this week, has two interesting distinctions for Americans. He is one of the best friends we have in Europe, and he has been Prime Minister of Greece longer than any other man since Greece emerged from Turkish rule.

The cradle of democracy, since it threw off the Turkish yoke 140 years ago, has gone in for such volatile democracy that governments don't last too long. From the end of World War II to 1955 when Karamanlis came into power, the average Greek government lasted only 160 days. In contrast, Karamanlis has given Greece six years of stability.

Looking not much older than President Kennedy and just as handsome, Karamanlis has continued to champion friendship with the United States at a time when we have not always been too popular and when the late John Foster Dulles was blaming Greece for equal responsibility for the Turkish mobs which desecrated Greek churches and graveyards in Turkish cities.

Surrounded by Communist nations on three sides, Karamanlis governs one of the most stubbornly democratic countries in southern Europe today.

Washington Whirl

President Kennedy will do some desegregating very close to home —namely, in the White House Press Photographers' Association. He has prompted them twice — once privately, once publicly — regarding the absence of Negro photographers covering the White House. So he won't attend the big May 19 White House Photographers' Association dinner unless the cameramen admit Negroes before that date. . . . Ex-vice President Nixon is still using his Vice Presidential stationary three months after leaving office. . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn bumped into party-giver Perle Mesta, the Democrat renegade, at a social function the other day. "I didn't expect to speak to you again, but now I find myself in a position where I have to," growled Rayburn. He hasn't forgiven Perle for feeding at the Truman trough as American minister to Luxembourg, then turning on the Democrats to plug for Nixon last fall. . . . . The layman who has pioneered hardest for developing solid-fueled rocket-launchers is Utah's earnest young Congressman David King, a member of the House Space Committee.

Behind The Scenes

Secretary of Defense McNamara has bluntly told the admirals that their aircraft carriers are too slow, too unwieldy for the missile age. This is the first time a Secretary of Defense has got tough with the admirals since the days of Louis Johnson under Truman. They promptly put a rope around Johnson's neck — though he didn't know it until the rope was squeezed tight. . . . . wonder what they'll do to McNamara? . . . . . Chrysler, racked with conflict-of-interest cases, holds its annual stockholders meeting today and will whitewash management. W. Alton Jones, Eisenhower's golfing crony and Gettys-elected director, despite his previous conflict of interest. Jones was chief owner of "Surface Combustion" which competed directly with Chrysler's Airtemp. . . . . about ten days after the stockholders' whitewash, Chrysler's management will come out with a disastrous statement for the first quarter.

The Political And Economic Wars In Vietnam

By Joseph Alsop

BEN TRE, Vietnam

Nowadays, when a Western reporter finds a corner of the world which positively inspires hope, the impulse to linger there is all but irresistible. That is the real reason, I suppose, why I have lingered in this amiable little delta town, as the guest of the young province-chief of Kien Hoa, Lt. Col. Pham Ngoc Thoo.

The cops-and-robbers, good guys-versus-Communists aspect of this visit to Col. Thao has been pretty exciting — and decidedly pleasing, too, since the good guys have been coming out on top for once. But I confess I have been far more excited by the glimpse of a new kind of political warfare which I have caught through Col. Thao's eyes, in long talks with him in this high, bare old house of a French provincial administrator, in the calm intervals between patrols.

To make Col. Thao's war understandable, you have to understand him a little. He is, then, a slender, wiry, pleasant-spoken, gentle-seeming man, who has in fact been hardened by nearly fifteen years of war, first with the Communists against the French, and then with President Ngo Dinh Diem against the Communists.

He still has relations in the north. His father-in-law, in fact, is an important Communist official who was my polite captor when I blundered into a Communist-held area in South Vietnam six years ago. Because of his own past and his present connections, there was some grumbling when President Diem personally named Col. Thao to his job here after four previous province chiefs had failed to halt the rapid advance towards total takeover in Kien Hao. At that time, this little town was almost literally besieged; all the main provincial roads were perennially impassable; and the Communists ruled virtually the entire countryside.

Kien Hoa is certainly no peaceful paradise today. The Communists have a section of thirty to fifty regular troops in each of Kien Hoa's eight administrative districts, and they have two full companies, both well armed and well trained, based in heavily forested areas. Col. Thao still needs to be a very tough, resourceful anti-guerrilla leader, which he is. The war is unceasing, but at least Col. Thao has gained much ground since President Diem sent him there.

By the personal orders of the President and his brother, Ngo Dinh Niu, Col. Thao began his work in Kien Hoa by an action symbolizing his break with the old French way of fighting the Communists, which has been too often imitated by the South Vietnamese in the past two years. The provincial jail was bulging with a thousand prisoners, most of them held in mere suspicion. He sifted out about three hundred hard core cases, and let the rest go free. He also burned the instruments of torture used by the police in a public ceremony in Ben Tre's main square.

But these bold innovations did not change the fact that the province chief's own house was under rather regular fire from the Communist-held villages just across Ben Tre's gently flowing little river. First, Col. Thao tried to bring back these villages by putting in strong points and filling them with troops.

"It did less than no good," Col. Thao remarked, "so there was nothing left to do but go there myself."

With a small guard, he therefore moved bodily into the village of Phu Nhuan, which is really a straggling peasant community of a good many thousands of people. For ten days, he talked to the villagers individually and in groups, actually interviewing every family elder. He learned about their grievances, about the chickens stolen by the army, the tax money misappropriated which should have built a village bridge, and so on. He got them to choose a new council of elders, a new village committee, and a new village chief. And so he took Phu Nhuan back from the Communists.

I can testify that he did so, because I asked if we could go there, and within fifteen minutes we were strolling through the cocoanut groves and along the canals of Phu Hhuam and its neighboring village, An Hoi.

It was the kind of ideal ambush country that gave one a violent itch of localized apprehension in the back of the neck in the old days of the war between the French and the Communists. But instead of the snick of a sniper's bullet, all we heard were cheerful greetings from the people who ran the horrendous little fish sauce factory, and the man peasant households, and even the aged lady who had been so crossly pro-Communist because the soldiers of the local guard post had liberated "all three of her beds."

"We cannot win with arms, but we can win by dealing wisely and well with the people!"

This is the colonel's motto, and on this basis, Thao and the junior officers who are his district chiefs have been repeating the Phu Nhuan experiment over and over again. It has not been smooth sailing by any means. The people, said the colonel, "must be convinced, and at that, it is often easier to convince the people than to convince our own cadres, who wish to win with guns."

Yet nine villages out of the province's 115 have been recaptured by political action in the last two months. They have been strategically chosen, too. For instance, the rich river mouth villages were among the first on the list. "They cost the Communists a couple of million piastres a year in taxes on the fisheries, and we gained back as much," said the colonel. "The economic war is just as important as the political war."

A kind of encircling advance against the two Communist forest-hidden bases is in fact going on in Kien Hoa. Many villages not specifically worked on show the effects of the political war. Meanwhile, a school to train new village elders, chosen from the best of the school teachers, is in its second month of work. A new administrative headquarters, designed to be squeeze-proof because all the offices are completely open to the public view, is going up in Ben Tre town. The roads are all repaired. The bridges are mended. A kind of quasi-normal life has returned to Kien Hoa. "In a year," says Col. Thao, "I think we can win this war here."

Saying farewell to him, it was natural to wish him luck.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

HAPPY BIRTHDAY — The Census Bureau held a happy birthday party the other day which had its unusual, and to some, ominous aspects. The occasion was in honor of the 10th anniversary of Univac 1, the world's first electronic computer system.

The daddy of all the electronic brains looked much as it did at birth, displaying no signs of age despite the 510 billion basic arithmetic problems it has worked out. Its first big job was to work on the 1950 census final tabulations.

Since then, it has worked 24 hours a day, seven days a week, with only occasional rest periods to correct minor mechanical illnesses. It cost $500,000, a paltry sum compared with the many millions of dollars charged for some of its better developed descendants.

During the festivities, someone patted it on the head. It blinked its lights, whirred happily, and went right on with its work. Maybe some day one of its progeny will give a party for the human race—sort of a farewell party—but not Univac. It's a tame mechanical monster.

ROCKING CHAIR — When Dr. Janet G. Travell, the President's physician, disclosed that Kennedy got therapeutic value out of a rocking chair in his executive office, she was, of course, asked more details about the chair.

She described it, explained that it was a source for easy but necessary exercise, and in many other ways praised the vehicle, which had more or less fallen out of favor among modern homemakers. Some enterprising stores immediately placed advertisements for rocking chairs in the newspapers and did fairly well on sales.

However, Mrs. Travell steadfastly declined to name the furniture company that manufactured the particular chair. She said, however, that she would provide the information to anyone who was interested enough to write her.

In the following several days she received more than a thousand letters, and despairing of having to answer all of them individually, broke down and disclosed that the chair Kennedy uses is manufactured by the P & P Chair Company, of Asheboro, N. C.

Woman In Space

By John Crosby

WNEW, the radio station in New York, was out sampling opinion from the man in the street practically the moment anyone got on the street after word came from Moscow about the Russian leap into space. However, the first person WNEW ran to earth was not a Man on the Street but a Woman on the Street who had a flavor all her own.

"I'm scared to death," said the Woman on the Street. "It means the end of our way of life."

"Are you scared because the Russians did it first," asked the WNEW man.

"I'd be even more scared if we did it first," said the Woman on the Street.

That's the voice of Woman all right, all right. I've been entranced by outer space ever since I read Edgar Rice Burrough's Martian stories as a kid. John Carter fighting his way through clouds of red-skinned Martians to the woman he loves. (Up in Burroughs' Mars, they had space ships and all that but they fought with swords like civilized human beings.) But I don't know any women who have really approved of all this space nonsense. They don't come right out against it, the women, but they don't join in the conversation and they don't really like it.

You know something, I bet the womenfolk (except Isabella, of course) were dead set against Christopher Columbus and all that he stood for. I can just hear Mrs. Christopher Columbus wailing: "Why are you so restless, Christopher? Just when I get the house looking nice."

That's the crux of the situation right there. A girl works and slaves — I know it's redundant but that's the way my mother used to talk — and the house is just beginning to look like something. And what does Christopher Columbus do? Go out and discover America, that's what!

"This is the first year the lawn has looked really right. And after all these years, I've finally got curtains to match the slipcovers. So what does Christopher do — discover America! Indians, for heavens sake! No proper schools for the children! Proper schools! There aren't any schools."

Well, women finally went reluctantly along to the New World. The Indians. The colds. The danger. Women coped. Little by little, they got things in order. Suburbs. Schools for the children. The Parent-Teachers Associations. Flowers in the windowbox. And after endless experiment, the chintz curtains look really right in the kitchen.

"Now look what that idiot has gone and done," wails Woman on the Street. "Outer space, for crying out loud! Nothing out there at all! You think the Pilgrims had it tough. No school for the children! Indians! But, my God, at least they had dry land when they got there. They had air to breathe.

"But out there there's nothing at all. No air. No land. How's a girl to have a garden when there's no air for the flowers to breathe? How you going to yell at the children with one of those masks on your face all the time?"

Well, now easy, girls, easy! The nesting instinct is not going to be defeated by a little thing like no air to breathe, no ground to plant the flowers in, no weight to hold down the vase Aunt Sophie gave you for a wedding present. It'll be hard but not impossible. You mark my words, there'll be chintz at the windows of the satellite before the decade is out and flowers on the table by — remember you read it here first — mid-1970.

The Woman on the Street didn't worry at all about the Russians getting there first. That's a Man in the Street type worry. As a matter of fact, the Russians have got their own worry about a New Way of Life. They have a Celebrity — and I wish them well with Major Gagarin. The ticker tape parades. The feature articles about Mrs. Major Gagarin and the children. Thank God, we got spared all that. (As a matter of fact, we haven't been. "Life" has had it all, the wives and the children and all that on our astronauts — and they haven't even got up there yet.)

However, we're much more experienced at that celebrity bit. In fact, Nikita, we've got some old songs left over from an event in our distant past, we'll sell you, marked down:

"Lucky Yuri up in the sky,
"Fair or Windy, he's flying high;
"Peerless, Fearless, knows every cloud,
"The kind of a son makes a mother feel proud."

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Now and then nature makes an error in our development and leaves us with an abnormality that is more annoying than serious. The pilonidal cyst is one of these development errors. It is located in the lower spine near the region where we would have had a tail if our Creator had so desired.

Long before birth, the left and right sides of the body come together in midline. A pilonidal cyst is in the making when bits of skin tissue collect at the junction and become embedded below the surface at the base of the spine. These cells contain sweat glands and hair follicles which in time may function just as though they were on the outside, where they belong.

The earliest clue is one or more dimples in the skin just above the folds of the buttocks. The overlying skin usually is thinner in this area; occasionally, tiny holes are noted that communicate directly with the buried cyst.

The disorder is not bothersome so long as the pocket remains quiet. But the cyst is likely to activate or become inflamed if the area is injured. Some of our service men had this experience when riding trucks, tanks, or jeeps during the war. The seats of these vehicles are hard and jarring and bumping was common.

Following injury, the cyst becomes infected and distended with us. The area is red, swollen, and extremely tender to the touch. In time pus works its way to the surface and a discharging sinus develops.

At this stage, heat and penicillin bring infection under control. When all signs of inflammation have disappeared only complete removal of the cyst and the sinus tract will cure the condition. If this is done, the lesion continues to drain or becomes acutely inflamed periodically.

TOMORROW: Surgery for wrinkling and sagging.

INFLAMED PANCREAS

W. T. K. writes: What is the cause of inflammation of the pancreas?

REPLY

Infection usually enters the organ via the pancreatic duct and the micro-organisms come from the gall bladder or intestine. Sometimes the causative germs are carried to the pancreas through the blood stream.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A commuter from Mt. Vernon, N. Y., has a fortunate disposition: he can see the good side of everything. For instance, when they constructed a distillery on one side of his home and a slaughterhouse on the other, his wife had a conniption fit. Not our hero, however. "Don't forget the big redeeming feature," he reminded his wife. "From now on we'll always know which way the wind is blowing."

A young couple was arrested in a parked vehicle on the shoulder of a public throughway. When the man produced irrefutable evidence, however, that the girl was his lawfully wedded wife, the case was thrown out of court.

"I'm sorry," apologized the cop who had made the arrest. "I never dreamed the girl was your wife."

"That's perfectly all right," nodded the man. "Neither did I — till you flashed that light in our faces."

You're Telling Me!

Inhabitants of a Virginia home were temporarily marooned in their house when sliding glass doors froze shut during a cold wave. The pioneers may have had it rugged but, at least, THAT couldn't happen to their log cabins!

The Countess of Manvers plans to stage prize fights to attract paying visitors to her home, Thoresby hall, in England's Sherwood forest. She can do better than that —why not real old-fashioned jousts with knights in complete armor?

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband met a man through his work and invited him and his wife to our home for dinner Saturday night. I had never met either of them but was pleased to have them come over because my husband said they were "swell people."

They arrived at 7. We had cocktails until 8:30 and then sat down to dinner. At about midnight my husband suggested they spend the night with us rather than drive home which is an hour and a half from our place. When they accepted the invitation I almost fainted. At 3 a. m. I was changing bedsheets and ironing a pair of pajamas for the man to sleep in.

The next morning I told my husband he had a nerve asking them to sleep over without first checking with me. He claims the house is as much his as mine and that I am a real square. May I have your views? — INN KEEPER

DEAR INN: You say nothing about a blizzard, tornado, typhoon or cloudburst, nor do you suggest the guests were liquored up, so I assume they could easily have driven home. Your husband should have let well enough alone.

To have invited them to spend the night without first checking with you was inexcusable. The burden of extra guests falls on the hostess, not the host — witness the fact that YOU were changing sheets and ironing the pajamas, not him. And who made the breakfast?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 13-year-old daughter is a problem. She is physically mature and could pass for 17. Lila has a mad crush on a family friend who is 25, married and has two children. He drops over several evenings a week just to visit. He never brings his wife and I often wonder why he doesn't stay at home with her instead of coming to our house to kill time.

Lila hangs around, sits on his lap and kisses him. He encourages her by telling her she's cute and holding hands with her when she walks him to the car.

I've told my husband this is not good but he insists she's just a kid and that I'm out of my mind. Am I? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your mind is working much better than your husband's. Tell him to wake up and smell the coffee.

That friend should be told to bring his wife along or stay at home with her. He sounds like a case of arrested development to me. And your 13-year-old daughter needs to have her speedometer adjusted.

Instruct Lila in no uncertain terms to stay off laps and save her kisses until she is older and knows the meaning of expressing affection. Her behavior is vulgar and cheap and if she continues along these lines she could be in for real trouble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife used to be a good sport and go bowling and horseback riding with me. She was a crack shot and a great fisherman. Now that we have an infant son, she won't go with me anymore. She tells me to call the fellows. I really miss her company and have begged her to come along like old times but she says a baby needs its mother. What do you suggest? —MOSSIE

DEAR MOSSIE: It's wonderful that your wife has gained a son, but it's a shame she's losing a husband.

Tell this Dumb-bunny to hire a sitter and go with you "like old times" or she may live to regret it.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Local Youths Found Guilty In Theatre Entry

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday deferred sentencing two Cumberland youths who pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering local business establishments.

The youths, Charles W. Cline, 18, of 230 Paca Street, and Ronald A. Sowers, 18, of 933 Glenwood Street, entered their pleas through their attorney, Earl E. Manges.

Judge Harris ordered the youths to be detained in the County Jail pending an investigation into their background.

Cline admitted voluntarily that he had broken into the storeroom of the Economy Wholesale Company on Gay Street and stolen merchandise valued at $6. He and Sowers also admitted to having broken into the Maryland Theatre early this month and obtaining $99.33 from a number of vending machines.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason informed the court the two youths and two other companions were picked up by police because of suspicious actions. The fact that they had broken and entered into the theatre was made during questioning by City Detectives Thomas See and Kenneth Morrissey, Mason said.

The companions in the theatre robbery, Earl Nixon, 916 Gay Street, and Robert C. Bryant, no permanent address, are being held in County Jail under $500 bond each awaiting action of the grand jury.

Both Cline and Sowers have previous records, Mason pointed out, although Manges said Cline's appears to be the result of the lack of parental guidance, and Sowers apparently is making a determined effort to rehabilitate himself.

Each of the youths was tried on criminal information submitted by the state's attorney's office.

Judge Harris also disposed of a number of criminal appeals. The decision of a magistrate's ruling against Garthe W. Yonker, who was fined $20 and court costs on each of two game law violations, was upheld when Yonker failed to appear in court yesterday.

Everett Goss, who appealed a six-month sentence on a petty larceny charge, was found not guilty by the jurist. Not represented by counsel, Goss pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Eugene Oldaker was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail after pleading guilty to being drunk in a public place. A charge of being a habitual drunkard was dropped by the state's attorney's office because of a legal technicality.

Mervin H. Kyle, who pleaded guilty to three separate charges of petty larceny, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on each charge, the sentences to run concurrent.

Judge Harris suspended the sentence on condition that Kyle refrain from drinking intoxicants, be of general good behavior and abide by any other stipulations imposed by the county parole officer.

Leonard E. Kasecamp, 48, who appealed a sentence imposed by Juvenile Court for non-support of two minor children, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction, with the sentence suspended on condition that he maintain a schedule of regular payments.

Judge Harris also ordered that Marshall Alexander serve a 30-day sentence in the county lockup after he pleaded guilty to violation of parole.

City Approves Work Payment

Final payment for the Cumberland Street resurfacing project was approved by the Mayor and Council yesterday after a discussion of where the funds were to come from and why the additional payment was necessary.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said Cumberland Street had been resurfaced with the exception of intersections which had been delayed because of winter weather.

Ninety per cent of the contract cost had been paid and the amount today represented the other money due as a result of completion of the intersections.

However, the order listed the funds for the street paving fund and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out no money remained therein. As a result, the amount was drawn against the street and alley appropriation.

Payment of $895.80 to Goodyear Service Store for three air conditioners in the City Hall council chamber was approved.

Accessories and trimmings quickly add up to too much — if you don't think a costume through.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It's Easy To Overdress Without Knowing It

Would you wear a dress that had five kinds of trimming on it? Such a dress wouldn't appeal to you at all.

But have you worn a hat with a bright ornament on it, a dress that had fancy buttons, complicated earings, a necklace and a pin or two, all at once? Or when one or more of these was lacking, was there ornamentation or a fancy buckle on the belt, decoration on your gloves or bag, perhaps even on your shoes? Or perhaps scarves and veils or their fancy patterns added to the general confusion?

Many women are sometimes overdressed without knowing it. There's not too much difference, after all, between the dress that's overloaded with trimming and the costume that is.

To make sure you're not overdoing it, make a final check every time you have finished dressing. It may occasionally become all too clear, once you've considered the whole picture instead of parts individually, that it's necessary to remove extras, or change elaborate or decorated accessories to plain ones. Better still, before you shop or dress, think a costume through.

A wardrobe based on simple clothes is, of course, the best insurance against overdressing. Models like theirs to depend on beautiful cut and fine fabric, and to be sparing of trimming and decoration. Then, if they want to wear a striking hat or piece of jewelry, there's the simplicity of the rest of the costume to play it up. This is a trick of all well-dressed women and the model's way of making relatively few clothes seem to be far more.

The right color for you is, of course, equally important. If you have doubts about what colors suit you best, resolve these doubts with the help offered in my popular booklet, "Your Color Type." A copy's yours for 10c and a stamped, return envelope sent to this column, c/o this newspaper.

Skull Found Near City Identified As Deer Head

The skull found by residents of Williams Road Sunday has been identified as the remains of a deer.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said his investigation was substantiated by a report of the county medical office.

An investigation was started after the skull and a woman's compact were found by residents of the area.

Sends Note

MOUNT VERNON, Iowa (UPI) —Walter Gormly sent President Kennedy a note Monday advising him that he would not pay his income tax.

Gormly said the United States is engaged in a game of "chicken," in which the trick is to make another nation chicken out rather than go to war.

"I am justified in not paying for these suicidal policies," Gormly wrote.

Gormly's letter was not unexpected. A pacifist, he sends such a letter to the President every year. The Internal Revenue Service has managed to collect its money just the same.

Receipts Down

Parking meter receipts the week of April 9 amounted to $818.69 compared to $897.50 the week of April 2, a decrease of $78.81, a report by Inspector Harry Whisner to the Mayor and Council showed yesterday.

Lakes Over Spillways

The water level at Lake Gordon is one foot five inches above the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon six inches above, a report by Ray Nixon, water plant foreman, to the Mayor and Council showed yesterday. Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 95,100,000 gallons compared to 78, 830,000 the same period a year ago.

Duvall Enters Plea In Appeal

A plea of nolo contendere was made by Attorney Thomas N. Berry for Stephen Lee Duvall at a criminal appeal yesterday before Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey.

Duvall had appealed a fine of $250 and a sentence of three months in the House of Correction, imposed January 12 at a hearing before Trial Magistrate Paul W. Barnett on a charge of failure to stop his vehicle after striking a pedestrian.

Judge Cobey deferred sentence pending an investigation into Duvall's background, and ordered that he be kept in the custody of the sheriff pending completion of the investigation.

Duvall was found guilty of failure to stop his vehicle after striking and causing serious injury to Miss Marguerite Fahey, 447 Cumberland Street on December 1.

At the time of his sentence in Magistrates Court, Barnett said he was imposing a "minimum" sentence, pointing out that the penalty ranges from a sentence of from 30 days to a year in the House of Correction, a fine of from $50 to $1,000, or both.

Amcelle Plant Engineer Hurt 'n Auto Crash

A local industrial engineer is in Center County, Pa., Hospital in Bellefonte where he was admitted Saturday after being in a one-car accident near Bellefonte.

Pennsylvania State Police said the victim was James Byran Sents, 29, of Bowling Green, who is employed at Amcelle Plant of Celanese Fibers Company as a junior industrial engineer.

He received lacerations of the back of his head, possible concussion and was admitted for observation.

State Police said he was a passenger in a 1960 model auto operated by John T. Saylor, 29, of Bellefonte.

As they were traveling south on Route 550 two and eight-tenths miles north of Bellefonte, Saylor apparently went to sleep and the car careened from one side of the road to the other, finally leaving the highway and hitting a stone culvert.

Saylor was also admitted to Center County Hospital with lacerations of the back of his head and fractured ribs.

Sents, a graduate of Penn State University has been employed here since July. He and his wife, two sons and daughter live at Bowling Green.

Produce Company Entry Reported

Intruders Sunday entered a local produce warehouse and made off with approximately $150 in food items.

City Police said they received the report from the manager of the Baer Brothers Produce Company on Bedford Street.

Items listed as missing include 150 pounds of potatoes, two cartons of oleo, five cases of cabbage and 50 pounds of onions.

Bids Received For Equipment

Bids were received yesterday on a hydraulic valve operator and two one-ton pickup trucks for the Water Department.

Submitted to the Mayor and Council were bids of Payne Dean and Company, Clinton, Conn., for the valve operator; and McIntyre's, Gurley's and Gratton, all this city, for the trucks.

Bids were referred to Water Commissioner G. Ray Light.

Bacteria are the commonest of living creatures.

Four New City Employes Are Approved By Council

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved hiring of four new employes, accepted the resignation of another and granted an armed forces leave of absence to a member of the Street Department.

New probationers are David A. Martz, patrolman, Police Department, effective April 11; John C. Vanetta, patrolman, Police Department, effective April 12; Luther C. Cox, pipeman, Fire Department, effective April 13; and James D. Boyer, pipeman, Fire Department, effective April 14.

Council accepted the resignation of Donald L. Davis Sr. as a member of the Police Department. He has taken employment at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

Granted a leave of absence from April 18 to May 6 for active duty with the armed forces was Harold L. Shober of the Street Department.

Official action was taken by council on two moves which had been announced last Friday.

An order was introduced by Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming to make Smith Street one-way from Centre Street to Mechanic Street. The move had been recommended by City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney. Council approved.

A letter from John B. Funk, chairman of the State Roads Commission, was read in which he expressed the concern of himself and Gov. Tawes at the possible displacement of people here due to construction of the Cumberland Thruway and offering help to the city in solving its problems at a meeting.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said he thought that when Funk visits here Tuesday, April 25, it would be a good time to find out "where we are going and how soon and when Thruway contracts are to be let, particularly that for the Wineow Street bridge."

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder moved that a meeting with interested parties be set up for the day Funk will be here and the motion was approved.

Easter Seal Sales Top $9,700

Unofficial returns from the Easter Seal Sale and "Lucky Bucks" campaigns for the Allegany County League For Crippled Children have passed the $9,700 mark with reports from dime boards still to be added to the total.

The League reported yesterday that the total stands at $9,779. The Easter Seal campaign ended April 2 and the "Lucky Bucks" phase of the drive last Friday.

A final report is expected in a few days.

To Start Flight

CHICAGO (UPI) — United Air Lines announced Monday it will inaugurate a fifth daily non-stop DC-8 jet flight between Chicago and San Francisco May 20.

Morgan Nickell, sales manager, said the new flight will depart from Chicago's O'Hare at 5:15 a.m.

Careers Nipped

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Police said Monday they had nipped two young criminal careers in the bud. Two burglars, aged 6 and 7, were caught looting a hardware store.

Coin Week

The Mayor and Council yesterday proclaimed the week of April 23-29 as "National Coin Week."

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband met a man through his work and invited him and his wife to our home for dinner Saturday night. I had never met either of them but was pleased to have them come over because my husband said they were "swell people."

They arrived at 7. We had cocktails until 8:30 and then sat down to dinner. At about midnight my husband suggested they spend the night with us rather than drive home which is an hour and a half from our place. When they accepted the invitation I almost fainted. At 3 a. m. I was changing bedsheets and ironing a pair of pajamas for the man to sleep in.

The next morning I told my husband he had a nerve asking them to sleep over without first checking with me. He claims the house is as much his as mine and that I am a real square. May I have your views? — INN KEEPER

DEAR INN: You say nothing about a blizzard, tornado, typhoon or cloudburst, nor do you suggest the guests were liquored up, so I assume they could easily have driven home. Your husband should have let well enough alone.

To have invited them to spend the night without first checking with you was inexcusable. The burden of extra guests falls on the hostess, not the host — witness the fact that YOU were changing sheets and ironing the pajamas, not him. And who made the breakfast?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 13-year-old daughter is a problem. She is physically mature and could pass for 17. Lila has a mad crush on a family friend who is 25, married and has two children. He drops over several evenings a week just to visit. He never brings his wife and I often wonder why he doesn't stay at home with her instead of coming to our house to kill time.

Lila hangs around, sits on his lap and kisses him. He encourages her by telling her she's cute and holding hands with her when she walks him to the car.

I've told my husband this is not good but he insists she's just a kid and that I'm out of my mind. Am I? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Your mind is working much better than your husband's. Tell him to wake up and smell the coffee.

That friend should be told to bring his wife along or stay at home with her. He sounds like a case of arrested development to me. And your 13-year-old daughter needs to have her speedometer adjusted.

Instruct Lila in no uncertain terms to stay off laps and save her kisses until she is older and knows the meaning of expressing affection. Her behavior is vulgar and cheap and if she continues along these lines she could be in for real trouble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife used to be a good sport and go bowling and horseback riding with me. She was a crack shot and a great fisherman. Now that we have an infant son, she won't go with me anymore. She tells me to call the fellows. I really miss her company and have begged her to come along like old times but she says a baby needs its mother. What do you suggest? —MOSSIE

DEAR MOSSIE: It's wonderful that your wife has gained a son, but it's a shame she's losing a husband.

Tell this Dumb-bunny to hire a sitter and go with you "like old times" or she may live to regret it.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

City Approves Work Payment

Final payment for the Cumberland Street resurfacing project was approved by the Mayor and Council yesterday after a discussion of where the funds were to come from and why the additional payment was necessary.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said Cumberland Street had been resurfaced with the exception of intersections which had been delayed because of winter weather.

Ninety per cent of the contract cost had been paid and the amount today represented the other money due as a result of completion of the intersections.

However, the order listed the funds for the street paving fund and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson pointed out no money remained therein. As a result, the amount was drawn against the street and alley appropriation.

Payment of $895.80 to Goodyear Service Store for three air conditioners in the City Hall council chamber was approved.

Local Youths Found Guilty In Theatre Entry

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday deferred sentencing two Cumberland youths who pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering local business establishments.

The youths, Charles W. Cline, 18, of 230 Paca Street, and Ronald A. Sowers, 18, of 933 Glenwood Street, entered their pleas through their attorney, Earl E. Manges.

Judge Harris ordered the youths to be detained in the County Jail pending an investigation into their background.

Cline admitted voluntarily that he had broken into the storeroom of the Economy Wholesale Company on Gay Street and stolen merchandise valued at $6. He and Sowers also admitted to having broken into the Maryland Theatre early this month and obtaining $99.33 from a number of vending machines.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason informed the court the two youths and two other companions were picked up by police because of suspicious actions. The fact that they had broken and entered into the theatre was made during questioning by City Detectives Thomas See and Kenneth Morrissey, Mason said.

The companions in the theatre robbery, Earl Nixon, 916 Gay Street, and Robert C. Bryant, no permanent address, are being held in County Jail under $500 bond each awaiting action of the grand jury.

Both Cline and Sowers have previous records, Mason pointed out, although Manges said Cline's appears to be the result of the lack of parental guidance, and Sowers apparently is making a determined effort to rehabilitate himself.

Each of the youths was tried on criminal information submitted by the state's attorney's office.

Judge Harris also disposed of a number of criminal appeals. The decision of a magistrate's ruling against Garthe W. Yonker, who was fined $20 and court costs on each of two game law violations, was upheld when Yonker failed to appear in court yesterday.

Everett Goss, who appealed a six-month sentence on a petty larceny charge, was found not guilty by the jurist. Not represented by counsel, Goss pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Eugene Oldaker was sentenced to 60 days in the County Jail after pleading guilty to being drunk in a public place. A charge of being a habitual drunkard was dropped by the state's attorney's office because of a legal technicality.

Mervin H. Kyle, who pleaded guilty to three separate charges of petty larceny, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction on each charge, the sentences to run concurrent.

Judge Harris suspended the sentence on condition that Kyle refrain from drinking intoxicants, be of general good behavior and abide by any other stipulations imposed by the county parole officer.

Leonard E. Kasecamp, 48, who appealed a sentence imposed by Juvenile Court for non-support of two minor children, was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction, with the sentence suspended on condition that he maintain a schedule of regular payments.

Judge Harris also ordered that Marshall Alexander serve a 30-day sentence in the county lockup after he pleaded guilty to violation of parole.

Lakes Over Spillways

The water level at Lake Gordon is one foot five inches above the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon six inches above, a report by Ray Nixon, water plant foreman, to the Mayor and Council showed yesterday. Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 95,100,000 gallons compared to 78, 830,000 the same period a year ago.

Receipts Down

Parking meter receipts the week of April 9 amounted to $818.69 compared to $897.50 the week of April 2, a decrease of $78.81, a report by Inspector Harry Whisner to the Mayor and Council showed yesterday.

Accessories and trimmings quickly add up to too much — if you don't think a costume through.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It's Easy To Overdress Without Knowing It

Would you wear a dress that had five kinds of trimming on it? Such a dress wouldn't appeal to you at all.

But have you worn a hat with a bright ornament on it, a dress that had fancy buttons, complicated earings, a necklace and a pin or two, all at once? Or when one or more of these was lacking, was there ornamentation or a fancy buckle on the belt, decoration on your gloves or bag, perhaps even on your shoes? Or perhaps scarves and veils or their fancy patterns added to the general confusion?

Many women are sometimes overdressed without knowing it. There's not too much difference, after all, between the dress that's overloaded with trimming and the costume that is.

To make sure you're not overdoing it, make a final check every time you have finished dressing. It may occasionally become all too clear, once you've considered the whole picture instead of parts individually, that it's necessary to remove extras, or change elaborate or decorated accessories to plain ones. Better still, before you shop or dress, think a costume through.

A wardrobe based on simple clothes is, of course, the best insurance against overdressing. Models like theirs to depend on beautiful cut and fine fabric, and to be sparing of trimming and decoration. Then, if they want to wear a striking hat or piece of jewelry, there's the simplicity of the rest of the costume to play it up. This is a trick of all well-dressed women and the model's way of making relatively few clothes seem to be far more.

The right color for you is, of course, equally important. If you have doubts about what colors suit you best, resolve these doubts with the help offered in my popular booklet, "Your Color Type." A copy's yours for 10c and a stamped, return envelope sent to this column, c/o this newspaper.

Skull Found Near City Identified As Deer Head

The skull found by residents of Williams Road Sunday has been identified as the remains of a deer.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said his investigation was substantiated by a report of the county medical office.

An investigation was started after the skull and a woman's compact were found by residents of the area.

Sends Note

MOUNT VERNON, Iowa (UPI) —Walter Gormly sent President Kennedy a note Monday advising him that he would not pay his income tax.

Gormly said the United States is engaged in a game of "chicken," in which the trick is to make another nation chicken out rather than go to war.

"I am justified in not paying for these suicidal policies," Gormly wrote.

Gormly's letter was not unexpected. A pacifist, he sends such a letter to the President every year. The Internal Revenue Service has managed to collect its money just the same.

35,000 Expected To Attend Pirates' Home Opener

Mizell Faces Ellsworth Of Chicago Cubs

White Sox Stopped By Snow; Indians Entertain Tigers

By The Associated Press

Snow at Chicago's Comiskey Park already has postponed one of the four "second" major league baseball openers scheduled to be played Tuesday.

Pittsburgh expected a sellout throng of 35,000 at Forbes Field to see the world champion Pirates perform at home for the first time since they knocked out the New York Yankees last October. It is expected to be cloudy, windy and cold with a few rain showers or snow flurries.

Mizell To Pitch

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, who did not work while the Pirates were playing their first six games in California, draws the starting assignment against Chicago's Dick Ellsworth. Both are left-handers.

The Philadelphia Phillies count on about 25,000 to watch the Phils take on the Milwaukee Braves in a night game. Warren Spahn, beaten opening day, will try again for the Braves against Frank Sullivan, Phil newcomer.

Chicago officials delayed their scheduled opener with the new Washington Senators until Wednesday. Heavy, wet snow left the White Sox park unplayable for Tuesday's scheduled game.

Cleveland hoped for 37,000 on a cold afternoon with a chance of snow flurries to see the Indians open against Detroit. Jim Bunning of the Tigers and Jim Perry of the Tribe, who met in the Detroit opener last Tuesday, were expected to be the pitchers.

The rest of the Tuesday schedule finds San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston, New York and Baltimore continuing home stands.

Snow Stops Chisox

The White Sox postponement until Wednesday meant that the majors would have no less than seven different "opening days." Minnesota will bow in Friday against Washington and Kansas City will play its first home game against Detroit. On Tuesday, April 27 the last of the 18 openers will be held when the Los Angeles Angels get home to play Minnesota at Wrigley Field.

Barbara McIntire Pinehurst Winner

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Barbara McIntire opened the defense of her North and South Amateur Golf Championship with a first round romp Monday, but three of her chief challengers in the field of 32 fell by the wayside.

Miss McIntire, 26-year-old reigning British Amateur champion and 1959 U.S. titlist, won six of the last seven holes to trounce Mrs. W. G. Boggs of Pittsburgh, Pa., 7 and 6, in her first-round match. The Lake Park, Fla., real estate saleswoman, winner here twice in four years, was four over par and failed to bag a birdie.

Mrs. Philip Cudone, 1958 champion; Jean Ashley, U.S. Amateur runnerup last year, and Mrs. Barbara Fitton, a two handicap player were the upset victims.

Otherwise, the players who were expected to advance did so without mishap, most by handy margins.

Machen Or Cooper To Get Title Shot

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson will box either Eddie Machen or London's Henry Cooper in New York in September but probably will pass up Sonny Liston until next year according to the people who expect to promote his fights.

Tom Bolan, president of Feature Sports, Inc., Monday announced formation of a new corporation to be known as Championship Sports, Inc., which will promote the heavyweight champion's next two fights.

Bolan said Patterson would fight either Machen, of Portland, Ore., or Cooper in September with Machen having a slight edge. He plans to visit England next week and will talk with the manager of Cooper, the British and British Empire heavyweight champion.

Practice Schedule

B'nai B'rith of Hot Stove Baseball League, today at 5:30, Post Field; Thursday at 5:00, Penn Avenue Field, and Saturday at 5:00, Fort Hill Field.

Barton of Twilight Baseball League, today, at 5 p.m., at Barton Ball Park. Twilight season opens April 27.

Mt. Savage Old Germans, of Pen-Mar Baseball League, today, Wednesday and Thursday at 5 p.m., at Mt. Savage Field.

Cumberland K. of C., of Rocking Chair Softball League, Wednesday, 5:30 p.m., at Stitcher Field.

Cumberland Optimists of Hot Stove Baseball League, Wednesday, 5 p.m., at Penn Avenue Field.

Leo Durocher Is Suspended

Given Three Days For Kicking Duel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leo Durocher, costar in a shin-kicking exchange with an umpire Sunday night, drew a three-day suspension Monday. He said he couldn't care less.

His bosses seemed a lot more upset.

The other half of the shin-to-shin fest, Umpire Jocko Conlan, left town. He wasn't talking, anyway. All he told reporters Sunday night was: "I got kicked twice and so did he."

National League President Warren Giles wired Durocher: "I am sure you understand that any kind of intentional bodily contact with an umpire during an argument is cause for suspension. For such an offense during your argument with Umpire Conlan in your game in Los Angeles April 16, you are suspended three days, April 17-19."

The affair made it plain that Leo after five years out of baseball has quickly regained—if not surpassed—his old form as one of the game's premier rhubarb artists.

He was waiting for the questions when reached by telephone Monday. What did he think about the suspension? "Not a thing."

Did he expect it? "I never assume or expect anything. It's there and that's it."

Dodger General Manager E. J. Bavasi wasn't so unconfounded as his fiery tempered coach. Bavasi said Giles told him: "Jocko was wrong. He shouldn't have done it, but I must suspend Leo."

Bavasi said: "I am more confused than ever. If Jocko was wrong, why must Leo be suspended?"

What did Leo think about that? It's perfectly all right. He's president of the National League."

Yankees Win On Mantle's 2-Run Homer

Ford's 3-Hitter Stops K.C., 3-0

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mickey Mantle made his first hit of the season a towering two-run homer and Whitey Ford took over after that with three-hit shutout pitching to give the New York Yankees a 3-0 win over the Kansas City A's.

The crowd was only 1,947—the smallest Yankee home crowd since Sept. 21, 1954 when 1,912 saw the Yankees play the Senators. Monday's game was a make-up of one of Sunday's doubleheader games and was played in chilly weather.

Gets Three Hits

Mantle, who had a perfect day at bat with two singles and a walk in addition to his homer, gave Ford all the runs he needed in the first inning when he followed a walk to Yogi Berra with a home run blast off the facing of the upper deck in right field.

Mantle drove in the Yankees' other run, too, when he singled following a walk to Berra and a wild pitch in the third inning.

Ford, who lost the Yankees' opening game last Tuesday, provided the rest of the show with his classy hurling. He did not permit a runner to get past second base; he struck out eight and walked four, as he notched the 29th shutout of his major league career.

Walker Is Loser

Jerry Walker, making his first start for Kansas City since his trade last week by Baltimore, was the losing pitcher.

Kansas City's only serious threat came in the eighth inning when pinch-hitter Chuck Essegian bounced a ground-rule double to left and Jerry Lumpe reached first on a fielder's choice. But Ford got Dick Howser and Norm Siebern to fly to Mantle to end the uprising.

Golf Pros Play For Benefit Of "Porky" Oliver

HOUSTON (AP) — Golf's top pros play for Porky Oliver Tuesday while warming up for the $40,000 Houston Classic.

All proceeds from a pro-amateur event will go to the cancer-stricken Oliver, who for years was the good humor man of the tournament trail. The Oliver purse is expected to equal the $7,000 top money earmarked for next Sunday's winner of the 15th annual 72-hole classic.

Oliver, winner of the classic with a seven-underpar 218 in 1958, will miss the pro-am proceedings but has obtained his doctor's permission to fly here to witness the final 36 holes Saturday and Sunday.

Stewart Paxton Named Director Of Cage Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Stewart C. Paxton of Hagerstown, Md., Monday was elected executive director of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials.

Paxton was named by delegates attending the 24th annual meeting of the IAABO. He will be the first to hold the position, and he will serve on a fulltime basis.

New York and Washington offices of the IAABO will be closed and headquarters will be established in Hagerstown.

In addition to conducting affairs of the association office, Paxton will resume the editorship of the group's publication, which he founded in 1949, and will direct the public relations program for officials.

Paxton has been with the organization since 1933, and was national president in 1950-51. He most recently served as secretary.

Bucs Name Clements To Succeed Rickey

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Monday named Robert C. Clements of Santa Barbara, Calif., to succeed the late Branch Rickey Jr. as director of their minor league clubs.

Clements has been the Pirates' West Coast scouting supervisor since 1951.

Rickey Jr., who served as vice president in charge of minor league clubs for the Pirates for over 10 years, died last Monday following a long illness. He was 47.

Moorefield High School's Yellowjackets eked out a 6-5 decision over the Franklin High School Panthers in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game in nine innings yesterday at Moorefield.

The regulation 7-inning battle ended in a 5-5 tie and in the ninth Coach George Hott's team sewed up the decision on Dave Vance's four hit. Ralph Keller's fielder's choice and a wild throw by the catcher which enabled the latter to score.

It was Moorefield's second P.V.C. wins against a single loss. Franklin is 0-2 in the league.

Moorefield collected an even dozen hits and Dave Vance paced the attack with four singles. John Mathias, Wardney Sherman and Keller had two safeties each. Bob Cline banged a three-run homer for Franklin in the third inning and also rapped a two-bagger and single to account for three of the eight blows yielded by Wardney Sherman who went the route for the Jackets and fanned seven.

Floyd Propst, Franklin hurler, struck out nine.

Father Larkin, Athletes Honored At St. Michael's

200 Persons Attend 14th Sportsmanship Banquet In Frostburg

Honors were bestowed on Father Regis Larkin, assistant pastor, who has played an outstanding role in the promotion of boy's athletic activities, and players of the basketball and football teams and cheerleaders at the 14th annual sportsmanship banquet held at St. Michael's Catholic School cafeteria, Frostburg, Sunday night.

Two hundred persons attended the affair at which John C. Sullivan, well known Frostburg and Cumberland lawyer, was the guest speaker and whose subject was "The Place of Athletics in a Boys' Life."

Portrait Is Presented

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a portrait of Father Larkin, painted by Joseph Delaney, Cumberland Times-News artist, to the priest who has promoted and coached teams ever since he came to St. Michael's parish.

Father Thomas Fannon, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lonaconing, also was among the speakers on the program. John O'Donnell, Cumberland, represented the CYO League, and Jack Rorick, Grand Knights of Cumberland Council No. 586, K. of C., presented the CYO Football League sportsmanship trophy to Bobby Seibert, an end on St. Michael's eleven.

Raymond "Ike" Law, Cumberland, presented the CYO Basketball League championship trophy to Father Larkin, coach of the 1960-61 quint. The players also were presented jackets and the seven cheerleaders received trophies.

Members of St. Michael's championship team in the Fearer Memorial Basketball League received plaques. St. Michael's has won the title two years in a row and has scored 35 consecutive victories.

The Eddie Spates Memorial Award for St. Michael's Most Valuable Player in the CYO cage league went to Eddie Seibert while the CYO sportsmanship award was presented to John Valenzano.

DeLuca Is MVP

Frank DeLuca was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player Award for his performance with St. Michael's in the Fearer Memorial League and John Roland was presented the Sportsmanship Award for his play in the Frostburg circuit.

Each member of St. Michael's football team which made its CYO League debut last season also received trophies.

Brown Favored In London Bout

Champ 7-4 Choice Over Dave Charnley

LONDON (UPI) — Oddsmakers made Joe Brown of Houston a firm 7-4 favorite Sunday night to slam Dave Charnley of England Tuesday in the 10th defense of his world lightweight boxing crown.

Even the most optimistic Englishman was hoping only for a longer scrap than when the two men met in December, 1959. Charnley retired after the fifth then because of a bad eye gash.

The boys who call the shots figured Brown's ripping combinations, vicious left hooks and experience will be too much for the pale-faced English boy. Although Charnley is 10 years younger than Brown, 35 next month, the dusky titleholder has packed into a busy career 111 pro fights compared with Charnley's 45. Brown has won 81 scraps, 39 by knockouts. Charnley has 38 victories.

Brown, since his arrival, has treated Charnley with derision.

"He's the first guy I ever knocked out sitting on a stool," he sneered.

Charnley hasn't been loath to come with the words either — but they all boiled down to "I think I've got a chance."

Golf Pros Play For Benefit Of "Porky" Oliver

HOUSTON (AP) — Golf's top pros play for Porky Oliver Tuesday while warming up for the $40,000 Houston Classic.

All proceeds from a pro-amateur event will go to the cancer-stricken Oliver, who for years was the good humor man of the tournament trail. The Oliver purse is expected to equal the $7,000 top money earmarked for next Sunday's winner of the 15th annual 72-hole classic.

Oliver, winner of the classic with a seven-underpar 218 in 1958, will miss the pro-am proceedings but has obtained his doctor's permission to fly here to witness the final 36 holes Saturday and Sunday.

Stewart Paxton Named Director Of Cage Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Stewart C. Paxton of Hagerstown, Md., Monday was elected executive director of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials.

Paxton was named by delegates attending the 24th annual meeting of the IAABO. He will be the first to hold the position, and he will serve on a fulltime basis.

New York and Washington offices of the IAABO will be closed and headquarters will be established in Hagerstown.

In addition to conducting affairs of the association office, Paxton will resume the editorship of the group's publication, which he founded in 1949, and will direct the public relations program for officials.

Paxton has been with the organization since 1933, and was national president in 1950-51. He most recently served as secretary.

Bucs Name Clements To Succeed Rickey

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Monday named Robert C. Clements of Santa Barbara, Calif., to succeed the late Branch Rickey Jr. as director of their minor league clubs.

Clements has been the Pirates' West Coast scouting supervisor since 1951.

Rickey Jr., who served as vice president in charge of minor league clubs for the Pirates for over 10 years, died last Monday following a long illness. He was 47.

Moorefield High School's Yellowjackets eked out a 6-5 decision over the Franklin High School Panthers in a Potomac Valley Conference baseball game in nine innings yesterday at Moorefield.

The regulation 7-inning battle ended in a 5-5 tie and in the ninth Coach George Hott's team sewed up the decision on Dave Vance's four hit. Ralph Keller's fielder's choice and a wild throw by the catcher which enabled the latter to score.

It was Moorefield's second P.V.C. wins against a single loss. Franklin is 0-2 in the league.

Moorefield collected an even dozen hits and Dave Vance paced the attack with four singles. John Mathias, Wardney Sherman and Keller had two safeties each. Bob Cline banged a three-run homer for Franklin in the third inning and also rapped a two-bagger and single to account for three of the eight blows yielded by Wardney Sherman who went the route for the Jackets and fanned seven.

Floyd Propst, Franklin hurler, struck out nine.

The teams windup their series Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., at Franklin. Box:

200 Persons Attend 14th Sportsmanship Banquet In Frostburg

Honors were bestowed on Father Regis Larkin, assistant pastor, who has played an outstanding role in the promotion of boy's athletic activities, and players of the basketball and football teams and cheerleaders at the 14th annual sportsmanship banquet held at St. Michael's Catholic School cafeteria, Frostburg, Sunday night.

Two hundred persons attended the affair at which John C. Sullivan, well known Frostburg and Cumberland lawyer, was the guest speaker and whose subject was "The Place of Athletics in a Boys' Life."

Portrait Is Presented

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a portrait of Father Larkin, painted by Joseph Delaney, Cumberland Times-News artist, to the priest who has promoted and coached teams ever since he came to St. Michael's parish.

Father Thomas Fannon, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Lonaconing, also was among the speakers on the program. John O'Donnell, Cumberland, represented the CYO League, and Jack Rorick, Grand Knights of Cumberland Council No. 586, K. of C., presented the CYO Football League sportsmanship trophy to Bobby Seibert, an end on St. Michael's eleven.

Raymond "Ike" Law, Cumberland, presented the CYO Basketball League championship trophy to Father Larkin, coach of the 1960-61 quint. The players also were presented jackets and the seven cheerleaders received trophies.

Members of St. Michael's championship team in the Fearer Memorial Basketball League received plaques. St. Michael's has won the title two years in a row and has scored 35 consecutive victories.

The Eddie Spates Memorial Award for St. Michael's Most Valuable Player in the CYO cage league went to Eddie Seibert while the CYO sportsmanship award was presented to John Valenzano.

DeLuca Is MVP

Frank DeLuca was the recipient of the Most Valuable Player Award for his performance with St. Michael's in the Fearer Memorial League and John Roland was presented the Sportsmanship Award for his play in the Frostburg circuit.

Each member of St. Michael's football team which made its CYO League debut last season also received trophies.

Brown Favored In London Bout

Champ 7-4 Choice Over Dave Charnley

LONDON (UPI) — Oddsmakers made Joe Brown of Houston a firm 7-4 favorite Sunday night to slam Dave Charnley of England Tuesday in the 10th defense of his world lightweight boxing crown.

Even the most optimistic Englishman was hoping only for a longer scrap than when the two men met in December, 1959. Charnley retired after the fifth then because of a bad eye gash.

The boys who call the shots figured Brown's ripping combinations, vicious left hooks and experience will be too much for the pale-faced English boy. Although Charnley is 10 years younger than Brown, 35 next month, the dusky titleholder has packed into a busy career 111 pro fights compared with Charnley's 45. Brown has won 81 scraps, 39 by knockouts. Charnley has 38 victories.

Brown, since his arrival, has treated Charnley with derision.

"He's the first guy I ever knocked out sitting on a stool," he sneered.

Charnley hasn't been loath to come with the words either — but they all boiled down to "I think I've got a chance."

Frostburg State Cops Opener; Potomac State Wins

Bobcats Post 13-2 Triumph In Hub City

Collect 13 Blows, Joe Loveless Hurls 3-Hitter, Whiffs 7

Joe Loveless, Westminster (Md.) righthander, limited Hagerstown Junior College to three safeties and struck out seven while his mates rapped the offerings of two pitchers for 13 blows to give Frostburg State Teachers College a 13-2 victory in the Bobcats' opening game of the baseball season yesterday at Hagerstown.

Loveless issued a walk to the first batter he faced and then pitched hitless and runless ball for seven frames. The Hawks averted a shutout by scoring twice in the eighth frame.

Eight of the nine Bobcats who saw action garnered one or more safeties and George Kuhn, junior left fielder from Hagerstown, clouted a leadoff home run in the fifth inning.

Geoff Whitmore, of Silver Spring, led the Frostburg stickers with three hits while Carl Puffenberger of Cumberland, Robert "Hank" Winner of Lonaconing and Kuhn garnered two safeties each for Coach Harold Cordts' team.

Among the three hits yielded by Loveless were two-base blows by Roger Plume and Terry Wakenight. The Bobcats' hurler was given good support afield with three double plays aiding the winning cause.

Don Knode, who started for the Hawks and gave way to Lloyd McGill in the 6th, was tagged with the loss, the second against as many victories for Coach Irv Easterday's outfit.

Frostburg State's next engagement is with Shippensburg State Teachers Thursday at Shippensburg, Pa.

Boston Tops Angels, 3-2

Geiger's Home Run Is Victory Margin

By DICK DEW
United Press International

BOSTON (UPI) —Jackie Jensen's clutch single, a bases loaded walk and Gary Geiger's first home run of the season gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Monday.

A combination of starter Tommy Brewer and reliefer Mike Fornieles held the Angels to six hits. One Los Angeles run, charged to Brewer, came on doubles by Ted Kluszewski and Steve Bilko in the seventh and brought on Fornieles for his second relief appearance in three games this season.

Pearson Hits Homer

Little Albie Pearson hit his first homer for the Angels with the bases empty in the ninth.

Geiger's homer, a bases empty belt with one out in the seventh, landed in the Boston bullpen in right field and proved to be the margin of victory.

The only other scoring in the game played before 5,289 at Fenway Park came in the sixth. The Red Sox got to Angels starter and loser Ken McBride, getting walks by Geiger and Vic Wertz and Jensen punched a wrong field single to right field for the score.

Walk Forces In Run

Bob Moeller, second of four Angels pitchers, relieved McBride and got Carl Yastrzemski on a fly for the first out. But Pete Runnels walked to fill the bases and Truman Clevenger came in.

After pinch hitter Rip Repulski hit into a force play at the plate, Pumpsie Green drew a walk to force in the second Boston run.

Cats Defeat Shenandoah College, 4-1

Explode For Four Runs In 2nd; Dave Wilson Is Victor

Coupling five hits with an infield out, fielder's choice and wild pitch for all their runs in the second inning, Potomac State College's Catamounts registered their third victory of the season yesterday at Keyser when they whipped Shenandoah College of Winchester, Va., in a Tri-State Junior College Conference baseball game by the score of 4-1.

The win gave Coach John Fox's team an overall 3-4 record and moved them into the .500 class in the conference with a 2-2 mark.

Shenandoah took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Sloop walked, advanced to second on Johnson's sacrifice and scored on D. Keeler's single.

Potomac State exploded for four runs in its half of the same frame on hits by Ron Kuykendall, Pete Fishback, Tom Hawkins, Dave Wilson and Bill Funkhouser, Jim Chidester's fielders, choice, Ted Femi's infield out and a wild pitch.

Lefty Dave Wilson, product of Keyser High School, hurled the first five frames, yielded three hits and one run, and received credit for his first win against two setbacks. He fanned five and walked three. Bill Funkhouser pitched the last two innings for the Catamounts and gave up one hit.

Funkhouser and Wilson, Potomac's hitting pitchers, shared four of the nine blows credited to the winning team. Wease rapped a triple and double to account for half of Shenandoah's safeties.

Bazzreal, Shenandoah's starting pitcher, was driven to cover during the second inning bombardment, and was charged with the loss. Wease finished on the mound for the Virginians.

Potomac State is scheduled to play its next game with Altoona Campus at Altoona, Pa., Wednesday afternoon.

Beall, Keyser Meet Is Off

Dual Affair Is Reset For May 1

The dual track and field meet scheduled at Frostburg today between Beall High School and Keyser High School has been postponed until Monday, May 1, Coach Jerry Calhoun of the Mountaineers, announced last night.

Calhoun stated it has been so windy in the Mountain City that is impossible to line off the field for the meet.

The junior high meet in which West Virginia School for the Deaf, Romney and Beall were to compete in today at Frostburg has been cancelled.

Fort Ashby and Romney High are at Beall Thursday for a triangular meet at 3:30 p. m.

Oldtown, Allegany and Beall junior high teams vie at Frostburg on Friday.

The West Virginia School for the Deaf will be host to Elk Garden and Southern of Oakland in a triangular meet set for today at Romney.

Southern and Elk Garden will be opening the season. The Deaf School will be engaging in its fourth meet of the season and will be striving for its initial victory.

Fort Hill is scheduled to open its County League season with LaSalle on Thursday.

West Virginia Buck Season Opens Dec. 4

Archers May Hunt Deer Oct. 1-Dec. 31

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Conservation Commission Monday completed the setting of hunting regulations in West Virginia for next fall and winter.

The bucks - only deer season will run Dec. 4 through Dec. 9. The bucks-only recommendation came from various sportsmen's groups around the state.

In general, areas north and east of the Kanawha and New Rivers will be open territories, except Fayette and parts of Greenbrier and Nicholas Counties, the commission said.

The bow-and-arrow season on deer will extend from Oct. 14 through Dec. 31. Archers may hunt either bucks or does.

The opening dates were previously set on the seasons. Here, now, are the full dates for other key hunting seasons:

Squirrel — Oct. 14 through Jan. 6. Bag limits, six a day and 36 for the season.

Rabbit — Nov. 11 through Jan. 6. Limit, four a day, 24 the season.

Quail — Nov. 11 through Jan. 6. Limit, seven a day, 35 the season.

Ducks — A split season, the first part Oct. 21-31, the second Dec. 4 through Dec. 9.

After July 1, it will not be necessary for a hunter to buy a special stamp for so-called big-game hunting like deer.

The recent Legislature voted to eliminate the so - called extras. A hunter can hunt any game for a $3 permit, or for $5 he can get a combination license that will allow him to hunt or fish anywhere in the state where it's legal.

Sharman To Coach Los Angeles Jets

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Jets of the American Basketball League Monday signed Bill Sharman, veteran star of the National Basketball Association Boston Celtics, to a three-year contract as general manager and coach.

Announcement of the signing was made at a luncheon by Len Corbosiere of the newly organized Los Angeles Club. The Jets plan to open play during the 1961-1962 season.

Hoak Suspended

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Third baseman Don Hoak of the Pittsburgh Pirates was suspended for three days Monday because of his second altercation of the season with Umpire Ken Burkhart.

The Pirate front office said Warren Giles, president of the National League, also fined Hoak but that the league would not reveal the amount of the fine.

The suspension means Hoak will miss the Pirate home opener Tuesday against the Chicago Cubs. He will be eligible to play again Thursday night.

Three PVC Games On Tap For Today

Keyser High School (2-0) is scheduled to host Petersburg's Vikings (1-0), Mathias (2-0) visits Circleville (0-1) and Capon Bridge will make its first start against the Romney Pioneers (0-1) at Romney in Potomac Valley Conference baseball games on tap for today.

Coach Allen Goldstrom's Berkeley Springs High tossers (0-1) will be seeking revenge for an 8-2 setback when they windup their series with Hedgevsille at the latter place.

Frostburg Tossers Plan Night Drills At State Gymnasium

Frostburg's Merchants of the Pen-Mar Baseball League will practice under the lights indoors today and Thursday at 7 p. m., it was announced last night by John "Tuffy" Sullivan, president of the club.

The drills will be held at the Frostburg State Teachers College gymnasium where there is a mechanical pitcher — "Iron Mike" — and tennis balls are used for batting practice.

All players under contract and others desiring tryouts are urged to attend.

The Merchants hope to play Frostburg State Teachers in a practice game Saturday at 2:30 at Beall High field.

Papa Is Optioned

BALTIMORE (AP)—John Papa, 20-year-old right hand pitcher from Stratford, Conn., was optioned Monday by the Baltimore Orioles to Rochester of the International League.

Papa made two relief appearances for the Orioles, pitching a total of one inning. He gave up four hits and two runs.

Last season, Papa pitched for the Class B Fox Cities of the Three-I League.

The first school of forestry in the United States was organized on what is now the Vanderbilt estate, at Ashville, N. C.

Giles Disallows Protest By Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles Monday disallowed a protest by Cincinnati Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson of Saturday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis.

The game, won by St. Louis, 4-0, was called with two out in the Reds' half of the sixth inning because of rain. It had rained throughout the contest and Hutchinson said the game should have been called in the second or third inning—before it became an official contest.

Giles said the St. Louis club acted within its rights in starting the game in the rain and that the umpires acted within their rights in allowing play to continue until they felt it inadvisable to continue.

Cy Falkenburg's Rites Set Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Frederick Peter (Cy) Falkenburg, a major league pitcher in the early 1900s. His best record was 23-10 with Cleveland of the American League in 1913.

Falkenberg, 81, died Saturday after a short illness. He started his pitching career with Pittsburgh in the National League in 1903.

Mountaineers Split Even With Generals

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia University split a windswept doubleheader with Washington & Lee here Monday, winning the first game 3-0 and dropping the nightcap 4-3.

Tommy Shafer gave up only three hits in going the route for the Mountaineers in the first game. Brice Gamber was the losing pitcher.

Gary Saunders gave up only five hits but issued 13 walks as the Mountaineers dropped the second contest. The Mountaineers were leading 3-0 going into the seventh inning. In that inning Saunders and Wendell Backus gave up five walks and two hits as the Generals scored four big runs.

West Virginia is now 5-5 on the season and W&L is 4-4. The Mountaineers meet Wesleyan here Thursday.

Frostburg State Cops Opener; Potomac State Wins

Collect 13 Blows, Joe Loveless Hurls 3-Hitter, Whiffs 7

Joe Loveless, Westminster (Md.) righthander, limited Hagerstown Junior College to three safeties and struck out seven while his mates rapped the offerings of two pitchers for 13 blows to give Frostburg State Teachers College a 13-2 victory in the Bobcats' opening game of the baseball season yesterday at Hagerstown.

Loveless issued a walk to the first batter he faced and then pitched hitless and runless ball for seven frames. The Hawks averted a shutout by scoring twice in the eighth frame.

Eight of the nine Bobcats who saw action garnered one or more safeties and George Kuhn, junior left fielder from Hagerstown, clouted a leadoff home run in the fifth inning.

Geoff Whitmore, of Silver Spring, led the Frostburg stickers with three hits while Carl Puffenberger of Cumberland, Robert "Hank" Winner of Lonaconing and Kuhn garnered two safeties each for Coach Harold Cordts' team.

Among the three hits yielded by Loveless were two-base blows by Roger Plume and Terry Wakenight. The Bobcats' hurler was given good support afield with three double plays aiding the winning cause.

Don Knode, who started for the Hawks and gave way to Lloyd McGill in the 6th, was tagged with the loss, the second against as many victories for Coach Irv Easterday's outfit.

Frostburg State's next engagement is with Shippensburg State Teachers Thursday at Shippensburg, Pa.

Fort Hill is scheduled to open its County League season with LaSalle on Thursday.

West Virginia Buck Season Opens Dec. 4

Archers May Hunt Deer Oct. 1-Dec. 31

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Conservation Commission Monday completed the setting of hunting regulations in West Virginia for next fall and winter.

The bucks - only deer season will run Dec. 4 through Dec. 9. The bucks-only recommendation came from various sportsmen's groups around the state.

In general, areas north and east of the Kanawha and New Rivers will be open territories, except Fayette and parts of Greenbrier and Nicholas Counties, the commission said.

The bow-and-arrow season on deer will extend from Oct. 14 through Dec. 31. Archers may hunt either bucks or does.

The opening dates were previously set on the seasons. Here, now, are the full dates for other key hunting seasons:

Squirrel — Oct. 14 through Jan. 6. Bag limits, six a day and 36 for the season.

Rabbit — Nov. 11 through Jan. 6. Limit, four a day, 24 the season.

Quail — Nov. 11 through Jan. 6. Limit, seven a day, 35 the season.

Ducks — A split season, the first part Oct. 21-31, the second Dec. 4 through Dec. 9.

After July 1, it will not be necessary for a hunter to buy a special stamp for so-called big-game hunting like deer.

The recent Legislature voted to eliminate the so - called extras. A hunter can hunt any game for a $3 permit, or for $5 he can get a combination license that will allow him to hunt or fish anywhere in the state where it's legal.

Sharman To Coach Los Angeles Jets

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Jets of the American Basketball League Monday signed Bill Sharman, veteran star of the National Basketball Association Boston Celtics, to a three-year contract as general manager and coach.

Announcement of the signing was made at a luncheon by Len Corbosiere of the newly organized Los Angeles Club. The Jets plan to open play during the 1961-1962 season.

Hoak Suspended

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Third baseman Don Hoak of the Pittsburgh Pirates was suspended for three days Monday because of his second altercation of the season with Umpire Ken Burkhart.

The Pirate front office said Warren Giles, president of the National League, also fined Hoak but that the league would not reveal the amount of the fine.

The suspension means Hoak will miss the Pirate home opener Tuesday against the Chicago Cubs. He will be eligible to play again Thursday night.

Boston Tops Angels, 3-2

Geiger's Home Run Is Victory Margin

By DICK DEW
United Press International

BOSTON (UPI) —Jackie Jensen's clutch single, a bases loaded walk and Gary Geiger's first home run of the season gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Monday.

A combination of starter Tommy Brewer and reliefer Mike Fornieles held the Angels to six hits. One Los Angeles run, charged to Brewer, came on doubles by Ted Kluszewski and Steve Bilko in the seventh and brought on Fornieles for his second relief appearance in three games this season.

Pearson Hits Homer

Little Albie Pearson hit his first homer for the Angels with the bases empty in the ninth.

Geiger's homer, a bases empty belt with one out in the seventh, landed in the Boston bullpen in right field and proved to be the margin of victory.

The only other scoring in the game played before 5,289 at Fenway Park came in the sixth. The Red Sox got to Angels starter and loser Ken McBride, getting walks by Geiger and Vic Wertz and Jensen punched a wrong field single to right field for the score.

Walk Forces In Run

Bob Moeller, second of four Angels pitchers, relieved McBride and got Carl Yastrzemski on a fly for the first out. But Pete Runnels walked to fill the bases and Truman Clevenger came in.

After pinch hitter Rip Repulski hit into a force play at the plate, Pumpsie Green drew a walk to force in the second Boston run.

Cats Defeat Shenandoah College, 4-1

Explode For Four Runs In 2nd; Dave Wilson Is Victor

Coupling five hits with an infield out, fielder's choice and wild pitch for all their runs in the second inning, Potomac State College's Catamounts registered their third victory of the season yesterday at Keyser when they whipped Shenandoah College of Winchester, Va., in a Tri-State Junior College Conference baseball game by the score of 4-1.

The win gave Coach John Fox's team an overall 3-4 record and moved them into the .500 class in the conference with a 2-2 mark.

Shenandoah took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Sloop walked, advanced to second on Johnson's sacrifice and scored on D. Keeler's single.

Potomac State exploded for four runs in its half of the same frame on hits by Ron Kuykendall, Pete Fishback, Tom Hawkins, Dave Wilson and Bill Funkhouser, Jim Chidester's fielders, choice, Ted Femi's infield out and a wild pitch.

Lefty Dave Wilson, product of Keyser High School, hurled the first five frames, yielded three hits and one run, and received credit for his first win against two setbacks. He fanned five and walked three. Bill Funkhouser pitched the last two innings for the Catamounts and gave up one hit.

Funkhouser and Wilson, Potomac's hitting pitchers, shared four of the nine blows credited to the winning team. Wease rapped a triple and double to account for half of Shenandoah's safeties.

Bazzreal, Shenandoah's starting pitcher, was driven to cover during the second inning bombardment, and was charged with the loss. Wease finished on the mound for the Virginians.

Potomac State is scheduled to play its next game with Altoona Campus at Altoona, Pa., Wednesday afternoon.

Giles Disallows Protest By Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League President Warren C. Giles Monday disallowed a protest by Cincinnati Reds' Manager Fred Hutchinson of Saturday's game with the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis.

The game, won by St. Louis, 4-0, was called with two out in the Reds' half of the sixth inning because of rain. It had rained throughout the contest and Hutchinson said the game should have been called in the second or third inning—before it became an official contest.

Giles said the St. Louis club acted within its rights in starting the game in the rain and that the umpires acted within their rights in allowing play to continue until they felt it inadvisable to continue.

Cy Falkenburg's Rites Set Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Frederick Peter (Cy) Falkenburg, a major league pitcher in the early 1900s. His best record was 23-10 with Cleveland of the American League in 1913.

Falkenberg, 81, died Saturday after a short illness. He started his pitching career with Pittsburgh in the National League in 1903.

Mountaineers Split Even With Generals

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia University split a windswept doubleheader with Washington & Lee here Monday, winning the first game 3-0 and dropping the nightcap 4-3.

Tommy Shafer gave up only three hits in going the route for the Mountaineers in the first game. Brice Gamber was the losing pitcher.

Gary Saunders gave up only five hits but issued 13 walks as the Mountaineers dropped the second contest. The Mountaineers were leading 3-0 going into the seventh inning. In that inning Saunders and Wendell Backus gave up five walks and two hits as the Generals scored four big runs.

West Virginia is now 5-5 on the season and W&L is 4-4. The Mountaineers meet Wesleyan here Thursday.

Beall, Keyser Meet Is Off

Dual Affair Is Reset For May 1

The dual track and field meet scheduled at Frostburg today between Beall High School and Keyser High School has been postponed until Monday, May 1, Coach Jerry Calhoun of the Mountaineers, announced last night.

Calhoun stated it has been so windy in the Mountain City that is impossible to line off the field for the meet.

The junior high meet in which West Virginia School for the Deaf, Romney and Beall were to compete in today at Frostburg has been cancelled.

Fort Ashby and Romney High are at Beall Thursday for a triangular meet at 3:30 p. m.

Oldtown, Allegany and Beall junior high teams vie at Frostburg on Friday.

The West Virginia School for the Deaf will be host to Elk Garden and Southern of Oakland in a triangular meet set for today at Romney.

Southern and Elk Garden will be opening the season. The Deaf School will be engaging in its fourth meet of the season and will be striving for its initial victory.

Stock Market Advances On Increased Activity

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks emerged from a weekend rest with renewed strength Monday, scoring a good advance on higher volume.

Business machines, oils, electronics and a raft of special situations were particularly strong—some issues tacking on points with seeming abandon.

The Dow-Jones industrial average rose an even 3 points helped by a 4 point gain for Procter & Gamble. Rails added 0.05 to 142.36 and utilities were up 0.47 to 112.44.

Volume rose to 5,860,000 shares from 5,240,000 on Friday with the ticker lagging behind floor transactions throughout the morning, several times in the afternoon and by 4 minutes at the close when prices were still rising.

The market was also broader, encompassing 1,321 stocks including 631; gainers and 477 losers. New highs outnumbered new lows by 157 to 12.

Stock Market Advances On Increased Activity

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks emerged from a weekend rest with renewed strength Monday, scoring a good advance on higher volume.

Business machines, oils, electronics and a raft of special situations were particularly strong—some issues tacking on points with seeming abandon.

The Dow-Jones industrial average rose an even 3 points helped by a 4 point gain for Procter & Gamble. Rails added 0.05 to 142.36 and utilities were up 0.47 to 112.44.

Volume rose to 5,860,000 shares from 5,240,000 on Friday with the ticker lagging behind floor transactions throughout the morning, several times in the afternoon and by 4 minutes at the close when prices were still rising.

The market was also broader, encompassing 1,321 stocks including 631; gainers and 477 losers. New highs outnumbered new lows by 157 to 12.

Cards of Thanks

I WISH to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in the death of my beloved wife, Edna Williamson. I especially wish to thank Rev. Thomas Mitchell, those who sent flowers, ones who donated their cars for the funeral, and the pallbearers. To all of you, I am grateful.
MR. WILLIAM H. WILLIAMSON

WE WISH to express our sincere thanks & appreciation to all our friends & relatives for their kindness during our bereavements, the death of our beloved son & brother, Ray B. Lease. We especially wish to thank Rev. Robert Bavender and Rev. Shields, Mrs. McFarland, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars, & all others who assisted us. To all we are deeply grateful.
THE LEASE FAMILY

Cards of Thanks

I WISH to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to all friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in the death of my beloved wife, Edna Williamson. I especially wish to thank Rev. Thomas Mitchell, those who sent flowers, ones who donated their cars for the funeral, and the pallbearers. To all of you, I am grateful.
MR. WILLIAM H. WILLIAMSON

WE WISH to express our sincere thanks & appreciation to all our friends & relatives for their kindness during our bereavements, the death of our beloved son & brother, Ray B. Lease. We especially wish to thank Rev. Robert Bavender and Rev. Shields, Mrs. Mc Farland, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars, & all others who assisted us. To all we are deeply grateful.

Ytterby, a hamlet near Stockholm, Sweden, holds a unique place in chemistry. Four chemical elements are named for it: ytterbium, yttrium, terbium and erbium. The town owes its fame to a local quarry which provided a wealth of minerals for chemists in the late 18th and early 19th centuries.

The inhabitants of the long-abandoned Indian cliff dwellings on Colorado's Wetherill Mesa vanished before A. D. 1300, and clues to the mystery are sought in studies of the architecture, artifacts, burials, soil, pollen, wood, charcoal and local plant life. Wetherill Mesa, which is in Mesa Verde National Park, eventually will be opened to the public as an alternate attraction to the park's famous Cliff House.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

A shrewd refusal to accept a trick that had been literally thrust on him, enabled West to overcome the effects of an inferior lead in today's hand.

South was a member of that school that likes to "bid 'em up." There is no quarrel to be found with his two heart opening, of course, since he does have game in hand. However, his subsequent leap to six hearts demonstrates a distinct disregard for the currency of the realm. North's original two no trump response is a denial so that his three spade rebid may be based on nothing more than a long suit with little or no high card strength.

Had West led either a diamond or a club declarer would not have had the remotest play for his contract. However, the defender was not certain which king to lead from and, finally, in an effort not to give anything away, he made the non-committal opening of the jack of spades.

Declarer was quick to seize the initiative. He permitted the lead to come to his ace. Then he cashed the king of spades and led a third round of the suit. When East followed with the queen South ruffed with the eight of hearts. He hoped to induce West to overruff with the jack if he had it. This would establish dummy's seven of trumps as a late entry to run the established spades.

However, West, after carefully contemplating declarer's "Greek gift," finally decided to reject it. Instead of over-ruffing he discarded a diamond, and South ultimately had to concede a club and a diamond trick for down one.

Declarer's failure to draw trumps immediately aroused West's suspicions. When South, instead, went to work on developing the spade suit with no visible sign of an entry to dummy, West's misgivings were confirmed, and he quickly realized that his jack of hearts must be retained to prevent the establishment of the seven. He willingly sacrificed the trick to play for a bigger dividend.

Finan Resigns As Democratic Party Chairman

Acting Head May Be Appointed

Attorney General Thomas B. Finan yesterday forwarded his resignation as chairman of the Democratic Party of Maryland to Michael J. Birmingham, Democratic national committeeman, and Governor J. Millard Tawes.

In his letter of resignation, Mr. Finan said he had announced, when he was appointed Attorney General of Maryland last January 13, that he intended to resign as state chairman of the Democratic Party as soon as there had been a transition between the Republican and Democratic national administrations, and that there were numerous applications for positions with the federal government in process which he felt obligated to help individuals complete.

Mr. Finan, a local attorney and former city solicitor, also stated that he had been most fortunate in being chairman of the Maryland Democratic Party during the successful Presidential election in Maryland.

To Resign May 1

He said the party treasury was augmented recently by the Joseph Curnane testimonial dinner and that the party has sufficient funds to operate for some months to come.

Mr. Finan said his resignation would become effective May 1 and that if a party caucus could not be held before that date to elect a new chairman he would, with the concurrence of National Committeeman Birmingham, designate an acting chairman.

He expressed appreciation for the help given him in the post by Mr. Birmingham, Governor Tawes, Dr. Mildred Otenasek, Democratic national committeewoman; Mrs. E. Brooke Lee, vice chairman of the party; Mrs. Ann Brown, registration chairman, and numerous other Democratic Party leaders throughout the state.

Mr. Finan had been chairman of the Democratic Party of Maryland since August of 1959.

Was Secy. Of State

He was appointed Secretary of State shortly after Governor Tawes was inaugurated, and served in that position until January 13, 1960, when he was selected to succeed Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert, who was appointed to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

An Associated Press dispatch said Mr. Finan is reported ready to run for a four-year term as attorney general in 1962 if Tawes decides to seek re-election as governor, and that if Governor Tawes does not run, Mr. Finan is viewed as a potential candidate to succeed him.

Transparency Projector Explained

City Offers Water For Area Plant

Says All Available Funds Are Obligated

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said city officials yesterday offered to share Cumberland's water supplies with Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

But he said it was explained that Water Department funds are obligated for the foreseeable future and that the department is not interested in borrowing funds or floating a bond issue as it is determined to keep on a "pay as you go basis."

He said representatives of the Pinto plant met with the Mayor and Council for exploratory discussions to learn whether the city would furnish water to the plant.

Offers To Share

Mr. Light said the city was definitely interested in furnishing water to the plant "even if we don't have too much" but that plant engineers would have to investigate the problem of where to tap available water lines.

The city will supply water from its dwindling supplies if the plant can get someone to furnish a line, he said.

Mr. Light explained that three Water Department projects — the relocation of the 36-inch transmission line on Long Hill, the installation of low-lift pumping facilities to boost the usable supply of water in Lake Gordon, and the rehabilitation of the Lake Gordon gate chamber — will cost about $135,000.

He said the department has funds for these projects, but faces other expenditures for line relocations which must be met during the construction of the Cumberland Thruway.

Cites City Needs

Mr. Light pointed out that the water would be supplied for the plant but that the city is not interested in selling for homes.

It was pointed out that the Water Department is interested in meeting the water requirements of housing planned in the city, including a proposed development which would require the installation of a tank.

The City was represented by the Mayor and Council, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Realtors Ready To Roll

Howard M. Spiker, chairman of the Realtor Week committee of the Cumberland Board of Realtors, fixes a bumper strip to his car as the local board makes ready to roll with its Realtor Week celebration to be held April 23-29. A neighborhood conservation contest and other events will be held in connection with the week-long observance.

Neighborhood Contest Scheduled By Realtors

Howard M. Spiker, named Realtor Week chairman for the Cumberland Board of Realtors by C. Glenn Watson Jr., board president, last night announced that a neighborhood conservation contest will be held during the week to determine the neighborhood in this area that best meets the requirements of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Realtor Week will be observed nationally by the NAREB from April 23 to 29, and Mr. Spiker has selected J. Henry Holzshu and James A. Perrin to assist him in carrying out the local observance.

All neighborhoods of Cumberland will be considered in the conservation competition, Mr. Spiker said. A preliminary study of the neighborhoods, he added, shows that there are no slum or seriously blighted areas in the city and its environs.

Judging will be made on the basis of the efforts made by neighborhood residents in keeping their properties in good repair, and the chairman pointed out that the contest is being held to highlight the importance of neighborhood conservation in making a city attractive to new residents as well as a means of keeping existing residents.

Older neighborhoods have as good a chance as newer ones, he said, since judging is on the basis of existing homes rather than new construction.

In other events during Realtor Week, local board members will endeavor to point up the advantages of home ownership to the community, the need for more college-trained people in the real estate industry, the value of new construction to meet the growing needs of industry, and the ethical standards laid down by the NAREB to protect the buyer and the seller.

Conference Summary Will Be Prepared

Over 600 Convene At Allegany High

Most of the more than 600 Allegany County teachers, principals and supervisors attended an all-day educational conference yesterday at Allegany High School but the final results of the conference may not be known for some weeks.

Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools, explained that the conference was divided into 15 different discussion groups. A recorder was designated for each group. Each recorder will compile a summary of the highlights of the discussion.

These summaries will be turned over to Mr. Petry for tabulation. Each school principal will receive a composite of the summaries and will discuss them with the members of his faculty.

Group Meetings Held

Elementary school teachers yesterday were divided into six groups, one for each grade level. They met in different Allegany classrooms from 10:30 until 11:30 a. m. and returned to the auditorium for a general meeting on visual aids from 11:45 a. m. until 12:35 p. m. "Today's Challenges In Education" was the general topic.

"Basic Educational Needs In Our Changing Society" was the general topic for the discussions by the junior and senior high school teachers from 1:15 to 3:15 p. m.

These high school teachers were divided into four different groups. The first group, liberal arts: English, social studies, foreign language and librarians, was sub-divided into three smaller groups on the basis of alphabetical arrangement.

A second liberal arts group, for mathematics and science, was split into two similar segments. All of creative arts teachers, in music, art and drama, attended the same discussion group. Finally, technical arts and sciences, including commercial, industrial arts, home economics, physical education, driver education and guidance, were divided into three smaller groups. These high school groups convened from 1:15 until 3:15 p. m.

Dr. Brain Speaks

Dr. George B. Brain, superintendent of public instruction in Baltimore City, was the guest speaker at the general meeting, which started at 9 a. m.

Some 50 exhibitors arranged displays of books, maps, athletic equipment and other teaching aids in the Allegany gymnasiums.

After viewing the displays of new equipment, the teachers were in a better position to order the supplies they will need in the 1961-62 school year.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster expressed hope that these conferences can be continued as an annual feature.

Open House Set Friday At Center

The new South Cumberland Health Center, corner of Arch and Third streets, will hold "open house" Friday from 4 to 8 p. m.

Work began on the new health center in February and the first clinics were held in the old church building last week.

Some 18 lay health workers take an active part at the center and work in conjunction with the Allegany County Health Department.

Officers of the center include Mrs. Pat Kimmel, president; Mrs. Violet Smith, vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Boone, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Combs, treasurer.

The officers of the unit have expressed their gratitude to individuals and organizations who have helped establish the health center.

The clinics were formerly held in a room at Grace Methodist Church on Virginia Avenue.

Fire Destroys Bedroom Of Local Home

Two Companies Answer Call

Quick response by city firemen yesterday afternoon averted a more serious fire in a Wallace Street dwelling where an upstairs bedroom was gutted and the furnishings destroyed.

The fire occurred about 4:10 p.m. in the two-story stucco-covered home occupied by Charles E. Trimble of 211 Wallace Street.

The cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen received an initial call when Box 17 was pulled at the intersection of Cumberland and Lee streets.

Firemen from West Side station responded, and minutes later firemen from Central station went to the scene when a call was received at fire headquarters.

One fireman said that when he climbed to the top of a ladder placed alongside the dwelling, the bedroom was engulfed in flames. The bedroom windows were smashed and a hole was hacked through the roof so that firemen could quench the flames.

Some of the furnishings were tossed out the side window of the house and doused with water. There was considerable water damage upstairs and downstairs.

The fire was confined to the bedroom, toward the rear of the dwelling. A smoke ejector was placed in a front window upstairs to pull the thick smoke from the dwelling.

West Side had another call earlier in the day at 409 Lehigh Street, where a furnace became overheated. The call was received at 3:41 p.m.

277 License Holders File For Permits

Some 277 holders of alcoholic beverages licenses in Allegany County have applied for renewals in the new license year which starts May 1.

There have been 285 licenses in effect this year. However, one of the Class C club-type beer, wine and liquor licenses already has been surrendered by the Disabled American Veterans of Frostburg. That would indicate that only seven present holders of licenses have not applied for renewal of their licenses May 1.

All 68 present holders of beer, wine and liquor licenses for the general public have applied for renewals. Renewal applications also have been received from 47 clubs. That is the total number of these Class C licenses now in effect.

Some 140 beer only licenses are being sought in the new liquor license year and 22 beer and wine licenses.

The most recent application to be filed with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages Control Commissioners was from Harold B. Sencindiver for a Class A beer license in premises at 828 Lafayette Avenue.

Lester Hudson President Of Optimist Club

W. Lester Hudson, a foreman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, has been elected president of the Cumberland Optimist Club to succeed Donald W. Mason, local attorney.

Other new officers include Ernest H. Vipond and Frank H. Kaplon, vice presidents.

Named to the board of governors for two-year terms were Robert Collins, Samuel Dishong, Earl Nonnenmann and Allen Staggers. Holdovers on the board are Leo Barkman, Harold Brooks, Joseph Barnard and Walter Woodson.

The club also voted to extend its membership drive until Wednesday, May 10.

Guest speaker for the weekly meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. at Central YMCA will be Mrs. Lucille Roeder, Cumberland finance commissioner.

Mrs. Roeder will be the fourth member of the city council to address the local service and discuss the various operation of the city departments.

Gas Station Lessee Loses Title To Tanks

Operators of a service station must remove their gasoline storage tanks during the term of their lease, Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris ruled in a three-page opinion filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

R. E. Brockman and R. Estes Brockman Jr., trading as the Cumberland Oil Company, brought the action in Circuit Court against Harry A. Willison and Thelma V. Willison, his wife.

The plaintiffs leased a parcel of ground adjacent to the old Tollgate House on the southwesterly side of National Highway about seven miles west of Cumberland from June 29, 1957, to June 30, 1958. The lessors were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Young.

During the term of the lease the Youngs conveyed the property to the Rosewood Company. On August 25, 1959, the Rosewood Company conveyed the property to the Willisons, who in turn conveyed the property to Neal Nesbitt on February 6, 1960.

The last time the plaintiffs paid any rent for this property was in June 1958. They discontinued their service station at this time. The plaintiffs left two steel storage tanks under ground when they discontinued the service station. They made demand of the defendants for return of the tanks and when they were refused they brought this suit in conversion for damages to the tanks and incidental equipment.

Judge Harris stated that the plaintiffs had a definite term for one year and could have and should have removed their property during the term of their lease.

"They made no arrangement for permitting the tanks to be left on the property and the title to the property changed hands both during and after expiration of their lease and the plaintiffs made no arrangements with any of the owners to permit the tanks to be kept on the property," Judge Harris stated.

Coupled with the brief opinion was an order instructing the court clerk to enter a verdict for the defendants and requiring the plaintiffs to pay court costs.

Bedford Area Youth Fatally Hurt In Crash

A 16-year-old Bedford, Pa., area youth died yesterday morning in Bedford County Memorial Hospital of injuries sustained in a one-car accident Sunday night along a rural road about five miles west of Rainsburg in Cumberland Valley Township.

Police identified the victim as John David Wilson, RD 3, Bedford. Death, they said, was caused by a crushed skull.

Driver of the automobile was Lewis Junior Oliver, 20, of RD 3, who sustained lacerations of his head and bruises on his legs and ankle. He was treated for his injuries.

State Police at Bedford, who are continuing an investigation, said the accident occurred at 7:10 p.m. Sunday and the victim died yesterday at 5:15 a.m. in the hospital.

Police said Oliver was descending a steep hill on Legislative Route 05078 when he lost control of the car on the loose gravel. It careened off the highway and turned over.

The victim was a passenger in the front seat of the car, police said.

Tea Planned Today For Cancer Workers

A tea will be held this afternoon for all captains and workers who will take part in the Allegany County Cancer Crusade.

The tea will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at B'er Chayim Temple at the corner of South Centre and Union streets.

Kits for workers will be distributed and a movie will be shown. The Cancer Crusade begins Sunday.

Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, will hold a regular meeting this evening at 8 in the post home in Ridgeley, according to Commander William Andrews, who urges all members to attend.

Reciprocal Tax Agreements To Be Sought

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State income tax chief Clifford Lantz said Monday he plans to meet with representatives of three bordering states to work out reciprocal income tax agreements.

Lantz conferred by telephone with Louis Goldstein, Maryland's comptroller of the treasury, and Commissioner of Revenue William E. Scent of Kentucky. He scheduled meetings Thursday with Maryland tax officials and Friday with Kentucky representatives. The conferences will be at Annapolis, Md., and Frankfort, Ky.

Lantz also hopes to set up a meeting Wednesday at Richmond with Virginia officials although that date still was tentative.

Purpose of the meetings will be to work out agreements that would preclude subjecting certain West Virginians and residents of the other states to double taxation. This would affect, for example, persons living in Virginia and working in West Virginia.

The tax department recently suspended for 30 days withholding of West Virginia's new income tax from the wages of Kentuckians, Virginians and Marylanders earning their livings in the Mountain State.

Lions To Hear Dr. Rothstein

Dr. Martin Rothstein, Frostburg, will be guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the LaVale Lions Club today at 6:29 p. m. in the fire hall.

He will relate his experiences during a three-month visit to Haiti last year.

Also scheduled this evening is the annual nomination of officers for the club. The nominating committee met recently and proposed the following slate for 1961-62:

Floyd Cozad, president; William Harmon, first vice president; Cameron Otto, second vice president; Harry Larrick, third vice president; Harry White, secretary; Edward Miller, treasurer; William Seiler, tail twister; Arthur Shank, lion tamer; George Nash and Albert Tosh, directors. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

The public address and park committee will meet on Thursday at 7 p. m. in the fire hall.

Plans for the Sports Car Races being sponsored in May by the Cumbmerland Lions Club will be discussed at the meeting. The park area will also be discussed.

Ridgedale Pool Will Be Cleaned

Water Department crews will clean the Ridgedale water reservoir during the next few weeks, according to Commissioner G. Ray Light.

The Fort Hill reservoir was drained, scrubbed, flushed and sterilized last week.

Appeals Court Reverses Ruling

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Monday that a husband could not force his divorced wife to return an insurance policy to him because he did not act within the three-year limit prescribed by law.

It reversed a verdict by an Allegany County jury favoring the husband, Sylvan C.Durst, and said the circuit court should have directed a verdict for the ex-wife, Mrs. Flossie Durst.

"In holding that Mrs. Durst is entitled to physical possession of the policy, we leave open all questions as to the rights of the parties in regard to the insurance contract which it evidences," the high court said.

The policy had been taken out with Mrs. Durst as beneficiary in 1933. She obtained a divorce in 1952, but the insurance policy was not involved in the divorce settlement.

Durst filed suit to force return of the policy in 1959 when he sought through the insurance company to change the beneficiary.

VFW Meets Tonight

Commissioners To Attend Area Development Parley

County Commissioners John J. Rowan and John T. Mason have notified Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., Republican of the Sixth Congressional District, of their plans to attend the Western Maryland Economic Development Conference which the Congressman has arranged for next Monday at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club near Hancock.

Speakers have been lined up by the Frederick County Republican from the U. S. Department of Commerce and the Maryland Department of Economic Development.

"The time has come for an objective and searching review of the economy of Western Maryland," Rep. Mathias wrote. "We must inventory our assets and squarely face the challenge of our liabilities. This is not a local problem of each town, but an area problem in which we all have a common interest," he concluded.

This conference, starting at 10 a.m. next Monday, is planned for all five counties of the Sixth Congressional District, Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery.

Rep. Mathias last Saturday told 40 officials of the Montgomery County Chapter of the Maryland Municipal League that Western Maryland should present a solid front as the first step toward solving its economic problems.

LaVale PTA Will Elect

New officers will be elected by the LaVale School PTA at the meeting in the school auditorium starting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Robert G. Garner will submit the nominating committee before the election of new officers.

Room visitation will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Gerald L. Barb, program chairman, will introduce Dr. Benjamin Feldman, who will discuss foot problems of children.

Chester E. Moody will preside at the business meeting. Besides the election, final plans for the annual Spring Festival will be discussed. It will be held Friday, May 12, at the school. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Moody and Lorimer Twigg.

Students To Speak To Kiwanis Club

Two winners in the annual declamation contest sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club will be guests of the club at the regular luncheon meeting Thursday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

The winners, Diane Hill of Fort Hill High School, and Irene Costello of Allegany High School, will present their winning speeches on "Cumberland's Role in the Civil War."

The two students will be introduced by John F. Workmeister, chairman of the vocational guidance committee.

Supper Tonight

A chicken and waffle supper will be held from 5 until 7 tonight at Zion United Church of Christ, 405 North Mechanic Street.

Sports Carnival Activities Are Being Planned

The program for the Second Annual Sports Carnival is taking form, C. M. Sanner, president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday.

S. Louis Curl and William G. Barger, co-chairmen of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, have arranged three events tentatively to take place during the week of the Cumberland National Championship Sports Car Races here May 12, 13 and 14.

Mr. Sanner said the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce is arranging a mammoth parade for the evening of May 13, and in connection with the parade will hold a competition for drum and bugle corps.

Arrangements are now being completed for the selection of a queen for the event. Details of this promotion will be announced next week, Mr. Sanner said.

Preliminary arrangements have been opened for the appearance of the STRAC Army Parachute Team, which was one of the popular events in last year's Sports Carnival. The event will be sponsored this year by the Bedford Road Optimist Club, according to Mr. Sanner.

Additional information on these and other programs planned in connection with the Sports Car Races will be forthcoming from sponsoring organizations, Mr. Sanner said.

Judge Cobey Speaker For Luncheon Group

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey will be guest speaker for the regular meeting of the Social Workers Luncheon Group of Allegany County Wednesday at noon at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Mr. Cobey will discuss the Patuxent Training School.

Dr. Brain Speaks

Dr. George B. Brain, superintendent of public instruction in Baltimore City, was the guest speaker at the general meeting, which started at 9 a. m.

Some 50 exhibitors arranged displays of books, maps, athletic equipment and other teaching aids in the Allegany gymnasiums.

After viewing the displays of new equipment, the teachers were in a better position to order the supplies they will need in the 1961-62 school year.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster expressed hope that these conferences can be continued as an annual feature.

Open House Set Friday At Center

The new South Cumberland Health Center, corner of Arch and Third streets, will hold "open house" Friday from 4 to 8 p. m.

Work began on the new health center in February and the first clinics were held in the old church building last week.

Some 18 lay health workers take an active part at the center and work in conjunction with the Allegany County Health Department.

Officers of the center include Mrs. Pat Kimmel, president; Mrs. Violet Smith, vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Boone, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Combs, treasurer.

The officers of the unit have expressed their gratitude to individuals and organizations who have helped establish the health center.

The clinics were formerly held in a room at Grace Methodist Church on Virginia Avenue.

Reciprocal Tax Agreements To Be Sought

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—State income tax chief Clifford Lantz said Monday he plans to meet with representatives of three bordering states to work out reciprocal income tax agreements.

Lantz conferred by telephone with Louis Goldstein, Maryland's comptroller of the treasury, and Commissioner of Revenue William E. Scent of Kentucky. He scheduled meetings Thursday with Maryland tax officials and Friday with Kentucky representatives. The conferences will be at Annapolis, Md., and Frankfort, Ky.

Lantz also hopes to set up a meeting Wednesday at Richmond with Virginia officials although that date still was tentative.

Purpose of the meetings will be to work out agreements that would preclude subjecting certain West Virginians and residents of the other states to double taxation. This would affect, for example, persons living in Virginia and working in West Virginia.

The tax department recently suspended for 30 days withholding of West Virginia's new income tax from the wages of Kentuckians, Virginians and Marylanders earning their livings in the Mountain State.

Lions To Hear Dr. Rothstein

Dr. Martin Rothstein, Frostburg, will be guest speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the LaVale Lions Club today at 6:29 p. m. in the fire hall.

He will relate his experiences during a three-month visit to Haiti last year.

Also scheduled this evening is the annual nomination of officers for the club. The nominating committee met recently and proposed the following slate for 1961-62:

Floyd Cozad, president; William Harmon, first vice president; Cameron Otto, second vice president; Harry Larrick, third vice president; Harry White, secretary; Edward Miller, treasurer; William Seiler, tail twister; Arthur Shank, lion tamer; George Nash and Albert Tosh, directors. Other nominations may be made from the floor.

The public address and park committee will meet on Thursday at 7 p. m. in the fire hall.

Plans for the Sports Car Races being sponsored in May by the Cumbmerland Lions Club will be discussed at the meeting. The park area will also be discussed.

Commission On Aging To Meet Thursday

The Allegany County Commission on the Aging will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the county commissioner's meeting room at the Court House.

Rev. Robert Bavender, president of the local group; Earl Grim, chairman of the subcommittee on housing and Dr. Ton van Strien, chairman of the subcommittee on health and welfare attended an all-day meeting of the State Commission on the Aging in Baltimore last week.

Legion Meet Today

Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, will hold a regular meeting this evening at 8 in the post home in Ridgeley, according to Commander William Andrews, who urges all members to attend.

Fire Destroys Bedroom Of Local Home

Two Companies Answer Call

Quick response by city firemen yesterday afternoon averted a more serious fire in a Wallace Street dwelling where an upstairs bedroom was gutted and the furnishings destroyed.

The fire occurred about 4:10 p.m. in the two-story stucco-covered home occupied by Charles E. Trimble of 211 Wallace Street.

The cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen received an initial call when Box 17 was pulled at the intersection of Cumberland and Lee streets.

Firemen from West Side station responded, and minutes later firemen from Central station went to the scene when a call was received at fire headquarters.

One fireman said that when he climbed to the top of a ladder placed alongside the dwelling, the bedroom was engulfed in flames. The bedroom windows were smashed and a hole was hacked through the roof so that firemen could quench the flames.

Some of the furnishings were tossed out the side window of the house and doused with water. There was considerable water damage upstairs and downstairs.

The fire was confined to the bedroom, toward the rear of the dwelling. A smoke ejector was placed in a front window upstairs to pull the thick smoke from the dwelling.

West Side had another call earlier in the day at 409 Lehigh Street, where a furnace became overheated. The call was received at 3:41 p.m.

Ridgedale Pool Will Be Cleaned

Water Department crews will clean the Ridgedale water reservoir during the next few weeks, according to Commissioner G. Ray Light.

The Fort Hill reservoir was drained, scrubbed, flushed and sterilized last week.

277 License Holders File For Permits

Some 277 holders of alcoholic beverages licenses in Allegany County have applied for renewals in the new license year which starts May 1.

There have been 285 licenses in effect this year. However, one of the Class C club-type beer, wine and liquor licenses already has been surrendered by the Disabled American Veterans of Frostburg. That would indicate that only seven present holders of licenses have not applied for renewal of their licenses May 1.

All 68 present holders of beer, wine and liquor licenses for the general public have applied for renewals. Renewal applications also have been received from 47 clubs. That is the total number of these Class C licenses now in effect.

Some 140 beer only licenses are being sought in the new liquor license year and 22 beer and wine licenses.

The most recent application to be filed with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages Control Commissioners was from Harold B. Sencindiver for a Class A beer license in premises at 828 Lafayette Avenue.

Appeals Court Reverses Ruling

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals ruled Monday that a husband could not force his divorced wife to return an insurance policy to him because he did not act within the three-year limit prescribed by law.

It reversed a verdict by an Allegany County jury favoring the husband, Sylvan C.Durst, and said the circuit court should have directed a verdict for the ex-wife, Mrs. Flossie Durst.

"In holding that Mrs. Durst is entitled to physical possession of the policy, we leave open all questions as to the rights of the parties in regard to the insurance contract which it evidences," the high court said.

The policy had been taken out with Mrs. Durst as beneficiary in 1933. She obtained a divorce in 1952, but the insurance policy was not involved in the divorce settlement.

Durst filed suit to force return of the policy in 1959 when he sought through the insurance company to change the beneficiary.

VFW Meets Tonight

Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a membership meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the post home. The newly installed post commander, William Linn, said business of interest to all post members will be discussed.

Commissioners To Attend Area Development Parley

County Commissioners John J. Rowan and John T. Mason have notified Rep. Charles McC. Mathias Jr., Republican of the Sixth Congressional District, of their plans to attend the Western Maryland Economic Development Conference which the Congressman has arranged for next Monday at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club near Hancock.

Speakers have been lined up by the Frederick County Republican from the U. S. Department of Commerce and the Maryland Department of Economic Development.

"The time has come for an objective and searching review of the economy of Western Maryland," Rep. Mathias wrote. "We must inventory our assets and squarely face the challenge of our liabilities. This is not a local problem of each town, but an area problem in which we all have a common interest," he concluded.

This conference, starting at 10 a.m. next Monday, is planned for all five counties of the Sixth Congressional District, Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery.

Rep. Mathias last Saturday told 40 officials of the Montgomery County Chapter of the Maryland Municipal League that Western Maryland should present a solid front as the first step toward solving its economic problems.

City Offers Water For Area Plant

Says All Available Funds Are Obligated

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light said city officials yesterday offered to share Cumberland's water supplies with Allegany Ballistics Laboratory.

But he said it was explained that Water Department funds are obligated for the foreseeable future and that the department is not interested in borrowing funds or floating a bond issue as it is determined to keep on a "pay as you go basis."

He said representatives of the Pinto plant met with the Mayor and Council for exploratory discussions to learn whether the city would furnish water to the plant.

Offers To Share

Mr. Light said the city was definitely interested in furnishing water to the plant "even if we don't have too much" but that plant engineers would have to investigate the problem of where to tap available water lines.

The city will supply water from its dwindling supplies if the plant can get someone to furnish a line, he said.

Mr. Light explained that three Water Department projects — the relocation of the 36-inch transmission line on Long Hill, the installation of low-lift pumping facilities to boost the usable supply of water in Lake Gordon, and the rehabilitation of the Lake Gordon gate chamber — will cost about $135,000.

He said the department has funds for these projects, but faces other expenditures for line relocations which must be met during the construction of the Cumberland Thruway.

Cites City Needs

Mr. Light pointed out that the water would be supplied for the plant but that the city is not interested in selling for homes.

It was pointed out that the Water Department is interested in meeting the water requirements of housing planned in the city, including a proposed development which would require the installation of a tank.

The City was represented by the Mayor and Council, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum.

Lester Hudson President Of Optimist Club

W. Lester Hudson, a foreman for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, has been elected president of the Cumberland Optimist Club to succeed Donald W. Mason, local attorney.

Other new officers include Ernest H. Vipond and Frank H. Kaplon, vice presidents.

Named to the board of governors for two-year terms were Robert Collins, Samuel Dishong, Earl Nonnenmann and Allen Staggers. Holdovers on the board are Leo Barkman, Harold Brooks, Joseph Barnard and Walter Woodson.

The club also voted to extend its membership drive until Wednesday, May 10.

Guest speaker for the weekly meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. at Central YMCA will be Mrs. Lucille Roeder, Cumberland finance commissioner.

Mrs. Roeder will be the fourth member of the city council to address the local service and discuss the various operation of the city departments.

LaVale PTA Will Elect

New officers will be elected by the LaVale School PTA at the meeting in the school auditorium starting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Mrs. Robert G. Garner will submit the nominating committee before the election of new officers.

Room visitation will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Gerald L. Barb, program chairman, will introduce Dr. Benjamin Feldman, who will discuss foot problems of children.

Chester E. Moody will preside at the business meeting. Besides the election, final plans for the annual Spring Festival will be discussed. It will be held Friday, May 12, at the school. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Moody and Lorimer Twigg.

Students To Speak To Kiwanis Club

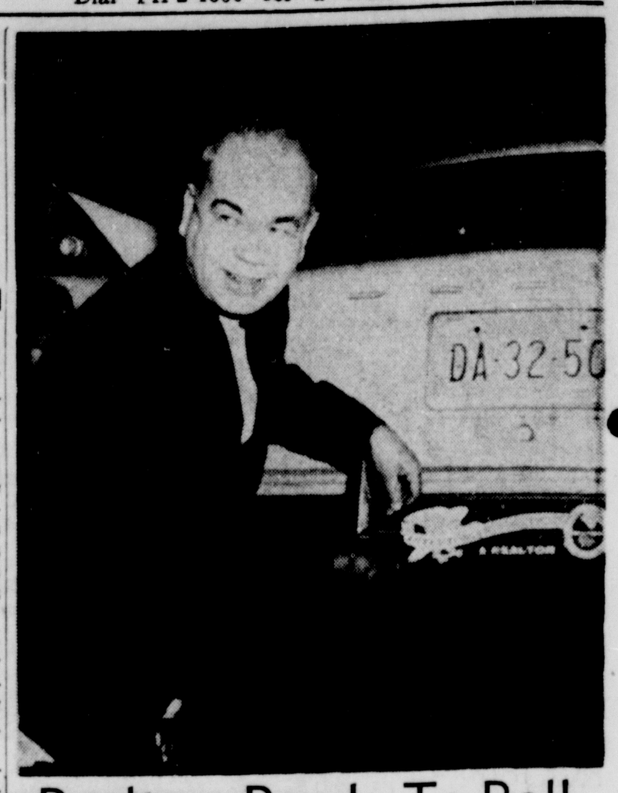
Two winners in the annual declamation contest sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club will be guests of the club at the regular luncheon meeting Thursday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

The winners, Diane Hill of Fort Hill High School, and Irene Costello of Allegany High School, will present their winning speeches on "Cumberland's Role in the Civil War."

The two students will be introduced by John F. Workmeister, chairman of the vocational guidance committee.

Supper Tonight

A chicken and waffle supper will be held from 5 until 7 tonight at Zion United Church of Christ, 405 North Mechanic Street.



Realtors Ready To Roll

Howard M. Spiker, chairman of the Realtor Week committee of the Cumberland Board of Realtors, fixes a bumper strip to his car as the local board makes ready to roll with its Realtor Week celebration to be held April 23-29. A neighborhood conservation contest and other events will be held in connection with the week-long observance.

Neighborhood Contest Scheduled By Realtors

Howard M. Spiker, named Realtor Week chairman for the Cumberland Board of Realtors by C. Glenn Watson Jr., board president, last night announced that a neighborhood conservation contest will be held during the week to determine the neighborhood in this area that best meets the requirements of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Realtor Week will be observed nationally by the NAREB from April 23 to 29, and Mr. Spiker has selected J. Henry Holzshu and James A. Perrin to assist him in carrying out the local observance.

All neighborhoods of Cumberland will be considered in the conservation competition, Mr. Spiker said. A preliminary study of the neighborhoods, he added, shows that there are no slum or seriously blighted areas in the city and its environs.

Judging will be made on the basis of the efforts made by neighborhood residents in keeping their properties in good repair, and the chairman pointed out that the contest is being held to highlight the importance of neighborhood conservation in making a city attractive to new residents as well as a means of keeping existing residents.

Older neighborhoods have as good a chance as newer ones, he said, since judging is on the basis of existing homes rather than new construction.

In other events during Realtor Week, local board members will endeavor to point up the advantages of home ownership to the community, the need for more college-trained people in the real estate industry, the value of new construction to meet the growing needs of industry, and the ethical standards laid down by the NAREB to protect the buyer and the seller.

Sports Carnival Activities Are Being Planned

The program for the Second Annual Sports Carnival is taking form, C. M. Sanner, president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday.

S. Louis Curl and William G. Barger, co-chairmen of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, have arranged three events tentatively to take place during the week of the Cumberland National Championship Sports Car Races here May 12, 13 and 14.

Mr. Sanner said the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce is arranging a mammoth parade for the evening of May 13, and in connection with the parade will hold a competition for drum and bugle corps.

Arrangements are now being completed for the selection of a queen for the event. Details of this promotion will be announced next week, Mr. Sanner said.

Preliminary arrangements have been opened for the appearance of the STRAC Army Parachute Team, which was one of the popular events in last year's Sports Carnival. The event will be sponsored this year by the Bedford Road Optimist Club, according to Mr. Sanner.

Additional information on these and other programs planned in connection with the Sports Car Races will be forthcoming from sponsoring organizations, Mr. Sanner said.

Judge Cobey Speaker For Luncheon Group

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey will be guest speaker for the regular meeting of the Social Workers Luncheon Group of Allegany County Wednesday at noon at the Fort Cumberland Hotel. Mr. Cobey will discuss the Patuxent Training School.

Sam Weston is chairman, and F. Allan Weatherholt is program chairman for the group, which has a luncheon meeting the third Wednesday of each month.

Gas Station Lessee Loses Title To Tanks

R. E. Brockman and R. Estes Brockman Jr., trading as the Cumberland Oil Company, brought the action in Circuit Court against Harry A. Willison and Thelma V. Willison, his wife.

The plaintiffs leased a parcel of ground adjacent to the old Tollgate House on the southwesterly side of National Highway about seven miles west of Cumberland from June 29, 1957, to June 30, 1958. The lessors were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Young.

During the term of the lease the Youngs conveyed the property to the Rosewood Company. On August 25, 1959, the Rosewood Company conveyed the property to the Willisons, who in turn conveyed the property to Neal Nesbitt on February 6, 1960.

The last time the plaintiffs paid any rent for this property was in June 1958. They discontinued their service station at this time. The plaintiffs left two steel storage tanks under ground when they discontinued the service station. They made demand of the defendants for return of the tanks and when they were refused they brought this suit in conversion for damages to the tanks and incidental equipment.

Judge Harris stated that the plaintiffs had a definite term for one year and could have and should have removed their property during the term of their lease.

"They made no arrangement for permitting the tanks to be left on the property and the title to the property changed hands both during and after expiration of their lease and the plaintiffs made no arrangements with any of the owners to permit the tanks to be kept on the property," Judge Harris stated.

Coupled with the brief opinion was an order instructing the court clerk to enter a verdict for the defendants and requiring the plaintiffs to pay court costs.

Bedford Area Youth Fatally Hurt In Crash

A 16-year-old Bedford, Pa., area youth died yesterday morning in Bedford County Memorial Hospital of injuries sustained in a one-car accident Sunday night along a rural road about five miles west of Rainsburg in Cumberland Valley Township.

Police identified the victim as John David Wilson, RD 3, Bedford. Death, they said, was caused by a crushed skull.

Driver of the automobile was Lewis Junior Oliver, 20, of RD 3, who sustained lacerations of his head and bruises on his legs and ankle. He was treated for his injuries.

State Police at Bedford, who are continuing an investigation, said the accident occurred at 7:10 p.m. Sunday and the victim died yesterday at 5:15 a.m. in the hospital.

Police said Oliver was descending a steep hill on Legislative Route 05078 when he lost control of the car on the loose gravel. It careened off the highway and turned over.

The victim was a passenger in the front seat of the car, police said.
